Nixon Picks New York Woman
For $40,000-Per-Year Position

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon today named Nancy Hanks, a New York City expert in arts and museum work, as chairman of the National Council of the Arts.

Her appointment to the $40,000-a-year post came after the Western White House made something of a mystery of it, advising newsmen the day before the President would announce an important appointment this morning. All presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler would say in advance was that it would not be a successor to Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey.

Miss Hanks, 42, a Republican, replaces a prominent New York Democrat, Roger L. Stevens, whose term expired last March.

A native of Miami Beach, Fla., Miss Hanks is now president of the Associated Councils of the Arts, a national nonprofit membership organization concerned with the support and development of the arts in the United States and Canada.

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Duke University who has studied at Oxford University in England, she is a member of the Council of the American Association of Museums and a trustee of the Museum of Primitive Art in New York City.

Since 1956, she has served as executive secretary of the Special Studies Project of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund on the Performing Arts.

As a result of this study, "The Performing Arts: Problems and Prospects" was published by the Rockefeller Fund in 1965, providing the first comprehensive study of the performing arts in the United States.

Miss Hanks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Hanks, who live now in Fort Worth, Tex.

Busy Schedule
The President had a busy morning schedule in addition to the engagement with the mystery guest.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York was due in from the National Governors Conference in Colorado Springs, Colo., with his initial report to the President on a series of fact-finding visits he made to Latin America.

Ziegler said Rockefeller was not expected to go into a more controversial subject—federal welfare payments. Rockefeller introduced a resolution the governors adopted calling for the federal government to foot the whole bill for state welfare programs.

Nixon had asked Rockefeller to make the Latin American tour to get some firsthand information that might be useful in future policy-making decision in that area.

Ziegler said he doubted Rockefeller's report would be made

Age Alone Not a Factor In Happiness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Old folks who live alone are the happiest—provided they are in good health, have incomes of about $4,000 and can see relatives or friends regularly, according to a new study.

Elderly people in poor health and with a low income have low morale and it makes little difference whether they live alone or not, report two psychologists for the Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston.

Psychologists Floyd J. Fowler Jr. and Mary Ellen McCalls, in reporting Tuesday to the American Psychological Association convention, said they were somewhat surprised by several findings in interviews with 11,335 men and women aged 65 and over in the greater Boston area.

Contrary to what they had thought before launching their survey, age itself had no direct relationship to morale—at least as long as the key

Ho Chi Minh's Health Fails, Death Forecast

No Changes Likely—U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials doubt President Ho Chi Minh's departure from the seat of power in Hanoi will bring any quick change in North Vietnam's policy on the war.

The fact Hanoi chose to announce its veteran leader, 79, is gravely ill was taken here as a sign his associates do not expect him to survive.

Information available in Washington indicates Ho has been ailing for months and that others actually have been exercising the leadership of North Vietnam.

Thus it generally is believed here that should Ho pass from the scene, the others who have been exercising power will continue for the time being and Hanoi's policy will remain the same on the battlefield and at the Paris peace table.

The U.S. government sees as North Vietnam's goal a Communist takeover of South Vietnam which would place the South under Hanoi's control.

Whether a struggle for power within North Vietnam will ensue is a matter of conjecture among U.S. experts.

Some believe the question of who will become president after Ho already has been worked out during his illness and there will be no immediate succession fight.

Elder Statesman

From the standpoint of outward appearances, 81-year-old Ton Dug Thanh, an elder statesman of the Hanoi leadership group, is believed likely to serve in an interim capacity pending elections for the next president. However, his age appears to rule him out as an active leader in the years ahead.

In general, the men who have been with Ho for years and who still will be in positions of power after his passing are rated as strongly dedicated to the cause of a single Vietnam under their rule.

The death of Ho as their widely known chief will, however, remove the Communists' single most popular personality in Vietnam.

Even in South Vietnam, Ho has been widely respected in the past, particularly by older Vietnamese, for what was deemed to be his patriotic devotion to the country. He was a leader against the French colonialists.

One of Ho Chi Minh's images is that of "Uncle Ho." He made it a practice to be with youngsters and tell stories—whether at home or in other communist countries. Here, he sits cross-legged in Hanoi in 1965 with a group of young people. Ho is believed to be seriously ill and possibly near death. (AP Wirephoto)

Hanoi Says Condition Is Deteriorating

SAIGON (AP) — Hanoi Radio reported today that President Ho Chi Minh's condition is deteriorating and greatest efforts are being made to care for him, American monitors in Saigon reported.

The French-language broadcast was Hanoi's first report that the condition of the 79-year-old father of Vietnamese communism was worsening. Two earlier official announcements said he was in "somewhat grave" condition and that his illness was "developing." Officials in Saigon felt that even that much admission meant Ho was near death.

Red China's Hsinhua News Agency in a dispatch from Hanoi said Ho's condition "is somewhat grave" and doctors are doing all they can for him.

"Not Well"

Ho's illness was announced in a communique which said: "Over the past few weeks, President Ho Chi Minh has not been well. . . . A collective of professors and medical doctors has been attending him day and night."

Another communique, broadcast four hours later, said Ho's condition was "not stable" and that "his illness is developing and is somewhat grave."

"They would hardly issue such a bulletin unless Ho was already dead or in a coma of some kind," said one official in Saigon.

Hanoi did not disclose the nature of the illness, but Ho had a bad case of tuberculosis in the 1940s and reportedly had suffered from heart trouble and possible lung complications for more than two years.

"An Old Man"

A North Vietnamese official in Paris remarked: "All I can say is what is obvious—the president is an old man."

Experts in Saigon said Ho's death or incapacitation probably would result in an intensified power struggle in North Vietnam but no change in the goal of a unified communist Vietnam. And they said even the jockeying for power might not be evident for some time.

"It will be a dictatorship by the party, not a dictatorship by one man," one expert said. "The Political Bureau and the Central Committee will be the important factors."

The chief contenders for the succession are considered to be the chief of the Communist Party machine, Le Duan, who is listed No. 2 on the Politburo; Truong Chinh, No. 3 and the party's most vocal ideologist; Premier Pham Van Dong, No. 4, and Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the defense minister, architect of the French defeat and the director of the war against the United States and the Saigon government.

Radio Bulletin
Le Duan is considered pro-Moscow, Truong Chinh pro-Peking.

A Japanese news agency that has a correspondent in Hanoi said the North Vietnamese first learned of their leader's illness in a radio bulletin broadcast at 4 a.m. The Japanese agency, Nippon Denpa Hoso, said people gathered in the streets despite the early hour to talk about the news. Tuesday was North Vietnam's independence day, and the Japanese agency said an independence day program scheduled for Tuesday night was canceled without explanation, apparently because of Ho's condition.

Known as "Uncle Ho" to the millions of Vietnamese who considered him the father of Vietnamese independence, Ho Chi Minh was the son of an impoverished minor government official who was fired by the

Kennedy Lawyers Succeed In Winning Postponement Of Inquest on Fatal Accident

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — District Court Judge James A. Boyle officially postponed this morning the inquest that was to have begun before him today into the death of Miss Mary Jo Kopechne.

The postponement was ordered in Boston Tuesday by Associate Justice Paul C. Reardon on a motion by lawyers for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, in whose car Miss Kopechne died. The justice also warned officials connected with the case against making public statements about it.

Relates "Orders"

"I have been ordered not to proceed any further with the inquest 'in re Mary Jo Kopechne,' which was set for hearing this morning," the soft-spoken 62-year-old Boyle said.

"Therefore, this inquest is adjourned. . . ." Boyle added. "Court adjourned."

Meanwhile in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., a Pennsylvania judge rejected today a motion by the parents of Mary Jo Kopechne to dismiss a petition for an autopsy on her body.

In rejecting the motion by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N.J., Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court said he had the authority to order an autopsy.

The Kopechnes had argued that Pennsylvania had no jurisdiction to act on the autopsy request by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass. Dinis wants the autopsy results for an inquest he plans into the woman's death.

Reardon's order called for a hearing by the full seven-justice

Supreme Court into constitutional issues raised by Kennedy counsel. No date was set. Reardon said the court would first study the matter and then proceed when the parties to the case were ready to go ahead.

The full court normally convenes Oct. 1. Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn said it appeared unlikely that there would be any action for at least two weeks. A possible appeal from whatever ruling comes from the full high court could further delay the inquest.

The postponement was sought by Kennedy's attorneys because of rules for the inquest set down by Judge Boyle. The lawyers argued Kennedy's constitutional rights would be abridged by Boyle's refusal to permit cross-examination of witnesses.

Miss Kopechne, 28, a former aide to Robert F. Kennedy, was killed in an accident the night of July 18 in which Sen. Kennedy's car went off a bridge and into a tidal pool on Chappaquiddick Island adjacent to Martha's Vineyard.

Drowning Claimed

A medical examiner said she drowned. Kennedy, 37, escaped from the vehicle, pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of the accident and was given a two-month suspended jail sentence.

The hearing before Justice Reardon Tuesday lasted about 45 minutes. Boston lawyer Edward B. Hanifan argued for the postponement. Asst. Atty. Gen. Joseph J. Hurley represented Judge Boyle.

Reardon ordered Judge Boyle to deliver to the Supreme Court documents dealing with the case and said an order would be issued "forthwith" enjoining him from proceeding until the high court heard arguments.

Reardon, who headed the American Bar Association committee that produced the controversial "Free Press and Fair

Search Is Pressed For Ex-Bishop Pike

JERUSALEM (AP) — Pike's mother, Mrs. Pearl Chambers, said her son and daughter-in-law went to the Holy Land to study the origins of Christianity and the Dead Sea Scrolls for a book he was writing. Pike told friends that he hoped to find documents or ancient records that would provide more information on Christ.

Dr. and Mrs. Pike

Pike, 56, and his 31-year-old third wife were motoring through the area when their car broke down Monday night. The couple set out on foot to look for help, but Pike collapsed after two hours walking in the heat and sent his wife on alone. She said she left him on a hillside.

Reaches Safety

After walking all night, Mrs. Pike met some highway guards early Tuesday and they took her to Bethlehem.

The police immediately began a search using helicopters and planes. Pike's car was found Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Pike was under a doctor's care at their hotel room in Jerusalem.

Legislator Seeks Near-Total Ban on Cigarettes

BOSTON (AP) — A bill that would outlaw the manufacture, distribution and sale of cigarettes in Massachusetts has been filed with the state legislature.

The sponsor is Democratic State Rep. James R. Nolen of Ware, who claims that cigarettes now are "much easier to buy than a loaf of bread," even though they've been linked with heart disease and cancer.

"Cigarettes," Nolen said in unveiling the measure Tuesday, "are the most harmful product to the public health sold today, and yet they are sold in more places and with more convenience than any other product.

"We can't expect people to give up something that is always right in front of them," he added.

The bill stops short of making smoking itself illegal.

As for the financial issue involved—cigarette taxes produce more than $70 million annually in Massachusetts

—Nolen said he thinks the end result would be worth it.

"All of the benefits—even in dollars and cents—would be made up in the improvement in the health of the public," Nolen said.

What does Nolen think of the bill's chances? "I'm not overconfident about it," he said.

He noted that a measure filed with the last legislative session that would have enabled persons to sue cigarette manufacturers for health problems believed caused by smoking was killed without ever leaving committee.

Preliminary School Bond Issue Okayed

Initial Plans Set $1.8 Million as Bond Issue Total

KAUKAUNA — An initial resolution calling for the issuance of $1.8 million in negotiable general obligation bonds for the purpose of erecting and equipping a new elementary school, erecting and equipping an addition to an existing school and purchasing of school sites was approved Tuesday night by the common council.

Ald. Russel Dix (4th) objected, indicating the resolution was contrary to one approved by the fiscal control board which called for a $2 million bond issue. He also felt recent plans for expansion by a major industry were dropped and there might no longer be a need for all the proposed school plans.

City Atty. Donald Green informed Dix, that the council was within legal rights as law required them to take initial action and the fiscal group is merely advisory until certain legal steps were met, after which they vote on the proposed bond issue.

Mayor Gilbert Anderson informed Dix the school board had taken into account recent expansion changes by industry and had made deletions from earlier plans to help reduce the size of the proposed building program.

Supt. of Schools Julian Bichler reported the northside elementary school had been reduced from 22 classrooms to 20 classrooms and the Quinney School addition reduced from 10 to four classrooms.

He pointed to continued school growth in these areas, even without new industry, and explained why facilities were still needed. Ald. Lloyd Kloeckner questioned why the northside school was not made a K through 8 school, eliminating the need for additions at Quinney.

Bichler explained how many facilities in the Junior High, including a larger gym, would be duplicated and necessitated by having students in these grade levels attending two different schools. He also warned of early future plans for an addition to Harrison School which appeared to be reaching maximum as residential growth continues in the High Cliff area.

Ald. Robert Vondracek asked why a proposed 10-room addition to Quinney was estimated at $250,000 and now a 4-room addition was estimated at $135,000. He was told that design of the school and the addition would open areas to future expansion with a minimum of cost to the district.

Anderson asked whether proposed plans would help solve future expansion problems for the high school, but none of the school officials felt this could be answered until further study is made. Plans were made for a Sept. 10 fiscal control board meeting at which representatives of the State Department of Public Instruction and architectural firms will be present to answer questions.

School officials admitted that design of the northside school would permit expansion. Publishing of the resolution was approved 8-1 with Dix dissenting and one alderman absent.

Kaukauna Council Approves Theodore Smits Given Okay to be Fire Chief

KAUKAUNA — The common council Tuesday night approved a fire and police commission recommendation naming Theodore Smits, a 27-year veteran in the fire department, to the post of fire chief to succeed William Haupt who resigned Aug. 21.

The entire department had endorsed Smits for the position after the fire and police commission requested applications for the position from within the department.

Smits, a native of Kaukauna, started with the department Feb. 18, 1942 and served as driver on all trucks in those early years when no pay differential was noted between drivers and other firemen. He was appointed fire inspector for the department in November, 1947, and in December, 1952, was named assistant chief.

18-Man Department

When he started, the city had a nine-man department including the chief. Chiefs he served under included Henry Esler, Carl Engerson and Haupt. Today the department consists of 18 men and the chief.

The department had three trucks in 1942, one of which belonged to the Town of Buchanan which Kaukauna firemen brought to fire scenes for use by volunteer crews. Today the city has three modern trucks, including an aerial ladder, and confines itself to fires within the city unless called on for a major conflagration in a neighboring community.

The new chief is married and the father of two sons, one a parish cemetery.

KAUKAUNA — Word has been received by Mayor Gilbert Anderson that the federal government has approved a grant of $14,450 with which to help the city construct further improvements at the sewage plant.

Plans call for the installation of a chlorine storage building, a metering pit and lift pump station near the village with sewage service. New additions in construction will bring total cost to $759,000 of which $250,730 represents federal grants. An additional $10,000 in aids is expected from the state over an 18-year period.

Robert Hendricks Is New Process Server In Outagamie County

Robert Hendricks, 49, N. Outagamie St., began work Tuesday as the new process server in the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department.

Hendricks replaces Lawrence DeGroot of Kimberly who resigned several months ago to take a job in the city-county civic defense office. Off-duty county policemen have been working as part-time legal process servers.

Hendricks, a Kaukauna native, has lived in Appleton most of his life. Her served in the Army during World War II. Hendricks worked as an insurance salesman before taking the county job.

He and his wife, Eunice, have two children.

Liberals Plotting Ways To Oust McCormack

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — Secretly plotting 16 months in advance, liberal Democratic Congressmen now agree the best bet to topple 77-year-old John McCormack as Speaker of the House is his own majority leader — Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma. Thus, during the next six months, leaders of the liberal Democratic Study Group (DSG) in the House will quietly approach Albert to test his interest. But even if Albert is unreceptive, the McCormack purge effort will move forward.

'Update 70' Is Fall Theme for ACEC Council

More Adult Subjects Will be Offered in Religious Education

"Update 70" will be the theme of the religious education program offered this fall by the Appleton Catholic Education Council (ACEC), which this year will include more courses of study for adults.

ACEC will begin its second year of operation Sept. 15. An "XPO" series for adults and an "XPAND" series for youth, will be held on separate nights in all eight Catholic parishes.

The course, developed by Richard Reichert, ACEC executive director, and the parish priests, is geared to instruct those children who are not enrolled in Catholic day schools and adults on the innovations in the church.

Adult Courses
The fall program for adults is that event, Albert would go made up of six courses. They may attend one or all of these but Boggs would still be a courses.

Titles include "Faith Versus Religion," "The Values Gap," "Is Your Parish Part of the Church?" "What Ever Happened to Old Time Religion?" "Invitation to Living Liturgy," and "Old Morality? New Morality?"

St. Joseph, Monday, starting Sept. 22; St. Thomas More, Tuesdays, Sept. 23; Sacred Heart, Wednesdays, Sept. 24 and St. Pius, Thursdays, Sept. 25.

High School Topics
The six topics of discussion for high school youths include "Where Are You Now?" "Do You Know How Good You Have It?" "You and John Law," "Who is Shaping Your Life?" "Your Church," and "Doing Your Thing."

Freshmen will meet every other Wednesday, beginning Sept. 17; Sophomores, every other Wednesday, starting Sept. 24, and juniors, every other Thursday, beginning Sept. 18. All programs will be in the home parish. Seniors are asked to participate in the adult programs.

ACEC was created in the test spring of 1968 and given the responsibility by the Appleton to develop and provide religious education programs for high school students and adults months, leaders of the liberal Democratic Study Group (DSG) in the House will quietly approach Albert to test his interest. But even if Albert is unreceptive, the McCormack purge effort will move forward.

Its membership consists of lay and clerical representatives from all parishes.

John McKenzie, from St. Bernadette, is the current chairman.

That's because a surprisingly wide spectrum of Democratic Congressmen ranging from moderate to radical conclude that McCormack is hopelessly unresponsive to rank-and-file House Democrats and incapable of effective leadership against the Nixon Administration. McCormack's inflexible support of President Nixon's surtax opposed by the majority of Democrats eroded much of his remaining liberal support.

Having made this hard determination to prevent McCormack's re-election as Speaker in January, 1971, the DSG leaders want no repetition of January, 1969, when a last-minute, improvised effort by Rep. Morris Udall of Arizona to oust McCormack was defeated, 178 to 58. This time, alternative battle plans are being prepared, in this order of preference:

Three Plans
Plan No. 1: Run Albert, 61, against McCormack. In turn, a DSG liberal — probably Udall, 47, or James O'Hara, 44, of Michigan — would succeed Albert as majority leader. Rep. Hale Boggs, 55, of Louisiana, would then be replaced by another moderate Southerner as Majority Whip, third spot in the hierarchy and an appointive post, by the new speaker. The DSG is determined to remove Boggs from the leadership.

Plan No. 2: If Albert declines, Rep. Wilbur Mills, 60, of Arkansas, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, would oppose McCormack. In that case, an effort would be made to replace Albert as Majority Leader with either Udall or O'Hara to balance the ticket with Mills. Again, Boggs would be replaced, probably by a Northerner.

Plan No. 3. If neither Albert nor Mills is willing, a DSG liberal — probably Udall — would challenge McCormack. In that event, Albert would go unopposed for Majority Leader but Boggs would still be a target for replacement.

Albert Ridiculed
Although New Leftists ridicule Albert for his poor performance as permanent chairman at the ed to Old Time Religion?" "Invitation to Living Liturgy," and "Old Morality? New Morality?" him with McCormack, older DSG heads know better. They

Assemblyman From Marion Hurt in Accident

WAUPACA — Assemblyman Francis Byers, R-Marion, received injuries when his car ran into a ditch Tuesday morning about 2½ miles east of here on State 22.

According to Waupaca County traffic police, Byers turned out to pass a truck when the truck turned out in front of him to pass a school bus.

Byers was taken to Riverside Community Hospital for treatment of a leg injury and then transferred by Holly's Ambulance to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital, Neenah, late this morning.

Byers was taking his daughter to school. The car sustained minor damages.

Nothing Taken in Burglary at Church

U.S. Criticizes POW Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Navy men have given harsh accounts of North Vietnamese prison camp life in a switch of U.S. government tactics to bring pressure on Hanoi concerning prisoner of war treatment.

Few if any details came with the release of other American prisoners, but Tuesday, Lt. Robert F. Frishman and seaman Douglas Brent Hegdahl told newsmen of torture, hunger and solitary confinement.

Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird followed this with a statement saying "North Vietnam has violated even the most fundamental standards of human decency."

Hanoi, Laird said, "consistently has claimed through propaganda statements that our men are being treated humanely."

"It may be that top government officials in Hanoi are unaware of the shocking condition within North Vietnamese prison camps. Nevertheless, North Vietnam is accountable to every human being for these flagrant violations of human decency," Laird added.

Frishman said his story was told because of "a strong obligation to those still back there to get the truth out."

Describe Torture
The lieutenant said American prisoners have had their fingerprints pulled out, been burned with glowing cigarette ends, beaten, suspended from beams by ropes, and cast into tiny almost airless cells for months on end.

"You resist so long," he said, "but it is only a matter of time before they can make you do anything they want you to do."

Frishman indicated his words may well cause further torture for the friends he left behind.

But, he said, several POWs got together before he left and it was the consensus that he should tell it like it is behind the barbed wire in Hanoi.

President's Daughter Returns From Hospital
SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President and Mrs. Nixon's 23-year-old daughter, Tricia, recovered from abdominal pains for which she was treated at Washington's Walter Reed Hospital, rejoined the family at the Western White House Tuesday.

From this, Frishman said, he hopes that world opinion will force Hanoi to bring their treatment under the specifications of the Geneva Convention, which North Vietnam has signed.

Fishman, 28, was shot down by a surface to air missile. He suffered grave wounds to his right arm and North Vietnamese doctors removed his left leg.

Frishman lost 50 pounds in captivity, Hegdahl 60.

Hegdahl, 22, said that as an enlisted man he did not suffer as much as the officers, who spend seven months and 10 days in solitary. The seaman was captured by fishermen when he fell off the deck of the cruiser USS Canberra.

Laird urged North Vietnam and the Viet Cong to release all prisoners. He said they should immediately identify the prisoners they hold, release the sick and injured, and permit impartial inspections of all POW camps and the free exchange of mail.

Navy Lt. Robert Frishman, right, and Navy Postal Clerk 3. C. Douglas Hegdahl discuss their treatment while prisoners in North Vietnam. They held a news conference Tuesday at the Bethesda Naval Medical Center near Washington. They are recuperating from injuries they sustained while in North Vietnam. (AP Wirephoto)

Whites Boycott, Blacks Picket, Suits Filed as South Starts School

ATLANTA (AP) — White boycotts, black picket lines and federal lawsuits faced school systems in the South today as the new term's second day of classes began.

Angry protests against racial integration Tuesday included a firebombing and the padlocking of schools in one area.

White students staged large-scale to wholesale boycotts in some districts of Alabama, Florida, Louisiana and North Carolina.

Negroes protested the closing of individual schools under federal desegregation plans in some districts of South Carolina and Georgia.

Firebombs Strike
Two predawn firebombs struck Irwin Avenue school in Charlotte, N.C., Tuesday. Classrooms opened anyway at the pre-arranged time. Robert H. Finch, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said the districts had to absorb reneged on voluntary integration plans.

Police reported no arrests in rights division lawyers moved into the state to initiate court action. Suits were filed late after a demonstration blocked Tuesday against three districts. They were protesting an integration plan that closed at work in New Orleans on several Louisiana school cases. One predominantly black schools, and of these involved Ascension Parish called for 4,200 black students to ish.

In East Ascension, schools were padlocked at Gonzales and George C. Wallace, a third-party presidential candidate in, prevent the opening of classes 1968, urged Alabama parents to under court integration orders.

White Pickets
Schools were closed or operating at limited levels Tuesday throughout the eastern part of the parish. There were white pickets at several schools, protesting integration decrees they said threw out freedom-of-choice

There were white pupil boycotts in Florida's Manatee and Hillsborough counties in protest over integration plans which in some schools left whites in the minority.

In Tennessee's Cannon County, school bus drivers walked out demanding higher wages and in Lawrence County the teachers struck over a pay raise

N.J. Sniping Fatal To Policeman, Girl

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A white policeman and a 15-year-old Negro girl were shot to death Tuesday night in an outbreak of sniper fire in Camden, N.J. Sniping incidents with no reported injuries occurred in Hartford, Conn., and Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The Camden victims were Patrolman Rande J. Chandler, 22, and Rose McDonald, both apparently hit by the same volley during the second night of disorders in the south Jersey city of 117,000.

Police said Chandler was one of several patrolmen assigned to clear debris that had been thrown into a street. As the patrolman approached, more trash, rocks and bottles began flying and then the shots rang out.

Police Attacked
In the same predominantly Negro section Monday night a melee broke out when police tried to break up a fight among a number of juveniles. Police men were attacked with fists and rocks by the youths.

In Fort Lauderdale, sniper fire crackled again today as National Guardsmen and police calmed but failed to stop the violence that has gripped a predominantly Negro area three successive nights.

Police, joined by 100 guardsmen, patrolled to enforce an overnight curfew banning all but emergency personnel from streets in a 200-block area.

They met scattered looting, rock throwing, firebombing and the sporadic sniping but police said the disturbances were less violent than on Sunday and Monday nights, when 113 persons were arrested.

classes" on the grounds of a suburban Atlanta school which they occupied for two days last week to protest the closing of the school to achieve integration.

In Florence, S.C., about 150 Negro children and parents vowed to conduct classes on the lawn until the school board reopens their closed school.

About 70 white parents appeared at the Jefferson County school board offices in Birmingham, Ala., protesting that Irondale Primary School—an all-black facility scheduled for integration—was unfit for use because of outdoor toilets, broken windows and inadequate lunchroom facilities.

Forty-seven persons were arrested Tuesday night, police said. An estimated 75 persons have been injured in the disorders that began when a Negro woman was shot and wounded as police were breaking up an auto drag race.

Wholesale Arrests
Police and 100 state troopers in Hartford used tear gas and wholesale arrests to restore calm Tuesday night after an outbreak of arson and shooting in the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican North End section.

More than 70 stores have been burned or looted and a score of persons, including firemen and policemen, injured in the disturbances which erupted Monday night. Arrests totaled about 200.

City Manager Elisha Freedman said he would decide today whether to continue a city wide overnight curfew—the second such ban for the city in two months.

Mayor Ann Uccello ordered residents of the Connecticut capital off the streets from sunset to sunrise for two nights in June because of violence in the North End.

The curfew at first failed to control the crowds of destructive teen-agers and young adults Tuesday night but the arrests of scores of persons and a light rain brought the situation under control by 11 p.m.

30 Miles Off Shore Francelia Stationary Off Coast, Expected to 'Drift' Later Today

MIAMI (AP) — Hurricane Francelia was situated about 30 miles off the coasts of Guatemala and British Honduras in the top winds of 100 miles an hour. Flash flooding is likely in the Gulf of Honduras at 6 a.m. EDT, the National Hurricane Center reported.

The center placed the storm 30 miles east of Punta Gorda, British Honduras, and about the same distance north from the Guatemalan town of Puerto Barrios.

Reports from Punta Gorda, Stann Creek, Belize and ships in the area indicated the storm was stationary. But the hurricane center said it might "drift" to the southwest later today. Three hours earlier, the center said it might be necessary.

Paul said he believed about 20,000 to 30,000 people along the coast might be driven from their homes. Rescue workers set up beds in schools and other public buildings.

Small craft were ordered to stay in port and airline flights into Belize, the capital, were canceled.

Bee Sting Season At Its Peak Now

Special to the Post-Crescent
MADISON — August and September tops all other months for incidence of bee stings, and this past month has been no exception in Wisconsin.

Bumble bees seem to be especially common this year, and are building nests in lawns, grassy areas, openings in sides of buildings and even in idle machinery, with surprising frequency, says Walter Gojmerac, University of Wisconsin entomologist.

Though bumble bees are beneficial insects, their sting is painful. And the bumble bee has one feature which makes it more bothersome than the honey bee.

Gojmerac explains that the bumble bee can retrieve its stinger and come back for a force venom into the wound. second "shot" at its luckless victim. The honey bee can sting only once, since it leaves its stinger and part of its abdomen in its victim.

Hypersensitivity
In most cases, insect stings cause only a local redness and swelling, with pain lasting for several minutes after penetration or scratch of the stinger. But in 2 per cent of the population, a hypersensitivity develops in which each additional sting produces a more severe reaction.

The hypersensitivity seems to be inborn in a few individuals, and the first sting has even resulted in death, says Gojmerac.

Bee strains differ greatly in temperament, Gojmerac says. Some are very aggressive and sting anyone near the hive, bees. Suede or leather material while other strains are docile, and hide particularly seem to be especially irritating to bees.

Bee Irritants

Perspiration odors appear to have little affect on bees, but certain hair oils, after shave lotions and perfumes should be avoided. They seem to be especially irritating to honey bees, Gojmerac says.

Bees pick their victims by sight and also are more likely to attack a moving object than an immobile one. Striking, swatting or swinging at bees increases chances of being stung.

Cool weather slows down all insect activity and bees are no exception. You are less likely to be stung on a relatively cool or cold day than you are during warm days when bees are most active.

Maryland Police Seek Missing Truckload of Marine Machine Guns

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Maryland and Delaware state police have issued an alert for a missing shipment of Marine Corps machine guns bound for a base at Davisville, R.I.

Police said the tractor-trailer, one of a convoy of three trucks, was last seen Thursday night in the Washington area.

Marine officials told police the truck was expected to go either around Baltimore, up U.S. 1 or Maryland 7 through Wilmington, Del., or up U.S. 301 along Maryland's eastern shore.

The two companion trucks of the convoy were said to be waiting at a rest area on the New Jersey Turnpike.

Penguins Greet Ice With Relief

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Penguins at the St. Louis zoo paid a spiritual visit to the old country over the weekend as they frolicked among three tons of ice used as an emergency air conditioning system. "Some of them hadn't seen out switch," said William Hoff, executive director of the zoo, "and they really enjoyed it. They sat on it, pecked at it and snuggled up next to it."

Zoo officials ordered the ice in 300 pound chunks, when air conditioning in the aquatic house failed Sunday for about six hours. Officials blamed the inconvenience on a burned-out switch.

Your Money's Worth Dollar Continues to Shrivel Under Nixon

BY SYLVIA PORTER
By the time this first year of the Nixon administration will have ended, the already wilted post-World War II dollar will have shriveled another four cents.

The dollar which was worth 100 cents in the marketplace in 1948, the first "normal" postwar economic year, was buying only of course, he has made inflation control the No. 1 priority on the domestic front, the administration, the federal reserve board and congress are acting in major areas to restrain the spiral.

Nixon's Record Poor
Nevertheless, the record since January is Nixon's — and just as he would properly grab the credit for progress against inflation, so he must accept the blame for the abysmal lack of progress so far. And he must expect to be reminded that many of his pledges about inflation control now seem embarrassingly naive.

In the entire four years from January 1961 to January 1965 — the Kennedy-Johnson era — the dollar shrank a mere 3.7 cents in buying power. This was the equivalent of price stability in our dynamic society over so long a period and it was achieved while the economy was in an historic upturn.

In the entire four years of Eisenhower's first term — 1953-57 — the dollar lost a tiny 3.2 cents. This also was equal to stability but recession and heavy unemployment marred the achievement.

In only one year of Nixon's term, the dollar will have lost more than in either of these four-year periods.

They key to the accelerated inflation was the escalation of the cursed Vietnam war beginning in 1965. When this war was piled on top of an all-out boom and Johnson compounded his tragic error by trying to finance it without the traditional belt-tightening, our subsequent galloping inflation was assured.

War Must End
A key to the control of this Vietnam-inspired inflation must be the end of this war.

Meanwhile, credit is very hard to get and expensive. The White House is trying to keep a lid on federal government spending. The income tax surcharge has been extended. The stock market's slump is welcomed as a chilling influence on business-consumer spending.

But to date, our economy is not yet yielding to the restraints. To date, the attempts to curb the spiral without precipitating a recession are not yet showing adequate results.

Our country would not accept price-wage controls for so hated a war. Nor would this generation stand still for a business downturn which would curb the spiral at the cost of soaring joblessness and bankruptcies.

The latest word from policy-making circles is that this time the lag between the date restraints are imposed and the date the restraints take hold will be longer than the usual six to twelve months. We must hope this is so — but while it is being said, labor unions are serving notice they'll demand enormous wage hikes during approaching negotiations and businessmen are raising prices to protect their profits.

Here's the record of 1948's 100-cent dollar to date:

One Catholic priest, working in one of the rural parishes in the 4,000 square miles where Aguilera operates, has warned that the group is receiving growing support from the peasants.

The government has dispatched several hundred soldiers to the area but they have failed to make contact with Aguilera.

Outwardly the government tries not to give too much importance to the latest series of attacks, but some officials are worried about the effect. The campaign to choose a successor to President Carlos Lleras Restrepo starts soon.

Coinciding with renewed activity by the guerrillas recently there have been several kidnappings of wealthy Colombians, set free after paying ransoms which in several cases reached at least $250,000.

There is speculation that the ransoms have been used to buy weapons and supplies for the guerrillas.

Colombian Guerrillas Reactivated Fighting Resumes With Deaths of 25 Persons in 45 Days

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Communist guerrillas, long dormant in Colombia, have launched recently a series of attacks that have provoked fears of a disruption of hard-won political peace here.

Ten soldiers and 15 civilians have been killed by the guerrillas in several ambushes and raids in the last 45 days in a jungle area some 350 miles northeast of Bogota.

A group of guerrillas, estimated at some 80 men, occupied momentarily two small towns and destroyed several ranches. They also ambushed an army patrol, wiping it out and capturing all its weapons.

Liberation Army
The group belongs to an organization called the Army of National Liberation, which follows the orientation of Fidel Castro. It started operations in March 1965 but was practically put out of business by the Colombian army in the last months of 1966. Most of its leaders were either killed or captured, and the government as recently as two months ago announced that this organization was destroyed for all purposes.

It seems now that some men escaped encirclement and went to another jungle area.

A Catholic priest, working in one of the rural parishes in the 4,000 square miles where Aguilera operates, has warned that the group is receiving growing support from the peasants.

The government has dispatched several hundred soldiers to the area but they have failed to make contact with Aguilera.

Special to The Post-Crescent

SAN FRANCISCO — Many things influence a young person's choice of higher education or job, but nearly two-thirds of them are by such things as talking that influence comes from "significant others" — people who influence job and school choices most are parents, teachers, friends and guidance counselors, but they may also include older brothers and sisters or ministers.

These influential people can be identified through a testing procedure that is given along with other career and college aptitude tests to high school students. The test was developed by A. O. Haller, Joseph Woelfel, and other sociologists at the University of Wisconsin.

In personal interviews the researchers found out how "significant others" people define various occupations and educational goals that they advise for students.

Huge Cuts Due in Federally Financed Construction Jobs

By WALTER R. MEARS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — President Nixon plans a massive cutback in federally financed construction projects— as to exact terms and unhappy, an inflation-fighting move which stirred dismay among the nation's governors.

"I for one am not going to take it sitting down," said Democratic Gov. John N. Dempsey of Connecticut, who threatened to seek a immediate protest from the National Governors' Conference in session here.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew told the governors of the administration plan at a closed session Tuesday and swore them to secrecy. But the news leaked almost immediately.

The formal announcement of the cutback is expected Friday, although administration representatives at the governors conference said that timetable is not firm.

Highway Building

The Nixon plan reportedly would cut off new federal construction projects immediately, and halt federal aid for such state projects as highway building effective next April 1.

Sources at the western White House in San Clemente, Calif., said the cutoff would affect 75 per cent of new projects in both categories. Administration officials still in Colorado Springs talked in terms of a near total cutoff, with exceptions only for emergency projects.

The administration was reportedly planning to work out final details at a Cabinet meeting Thursday in San Clemente.

The governors were confused by the move, and some were angry. "Nothing shocks people faster than news that the old buck isn't coming from Washington," said Gov. Dempsey, chairman of the Democratic governors caucus.

Another Democratic governor, who asked that his name not be used, said Agnew described the administration plan as a move designed to combat the spiral of steadily rising wages and prices.

Would Free Manpower

This governor said the vice president also reported the halt in federal construction should release manpower and material for the building of private dwellings, which has suffered drastically in the cycle of rising costs and interest rates.

To this account, an administration source added word that the cutback plan also is intended to dampen the pressure for sharp wage increases in the construction industry. This source said if government projects are sharply reduced, the demand for construction workers will drop and their bargaining power in coming contract negotiations will be diminished.

One governor likened the Nixon plan to the temporary freeze of highway construction aid funds imposed during the Lyndon B. Johnson administration, as an inflation dampening step. That drew strong protests from the governors.

"But this is worse," said an unnamed Democratic governor. "At least we knew when that freeze was going to end." He said Agnew gave no indication of a cutoff date on the reductions planned by the Republican administration.

No Exact Figure

Agnew did not give the governors a dollar figure on the impact of the planned cutback. Another administration source said it was not possible to come up with such a figure now, although estimates ranged to $2 billion. This source said the plan could be altered before it is announced.

Arthur F. Burns, counsellor to the President and a key adviser on economic issues, contends that the federal and federally aided projects should be cut at the same time.

Burns was said to oppose strongly the delay until April 1 in withdrawal of federal aid funds for state projects. He learned of the two-phase plan after a sightseeing trip up Pike's Peak, and immediately made plans to fly back to San Clemente to argue against any delay.

Tax Exemption

Agnew had one nugget of good news for the governors. He said the administration intends to recommend retention of the federal tax exemption on interest from state and municipal bonds. He said the administration will ask the Senate Finance Committee to restore this benefit, eliminated by the House Ways and Means Committee in its tax reform bill.

The governors already have adopted a resolution urging continuance of the exemption on state and local bond issues, lest they prove difficult to sell and force higher interest payments upon the states.

Bernadette Goes Back To Ireland

SHANNON, Ireland (AP) — Bernadette Devlin returned from the United States today and said she had raised "a great deal of money" for Roman Catholic victims of last month's religious warfare in Northern Ireland.

"We awakened in some Irish-American people their need to do something for their old country," she said, "and we succeeded in getting a great deal of money for the needs of those who were burned out during the riots."

The 22-year-old Catholic member of British Parliament refused to say how much money she raised, but she said it was being deposited in American cities and would be transferred to Ireland later.

Nor would she say whether it would be transferred to Northern Ireland or the Irish Republic.

"It's not that I do not trust the Stormont (Ulster) government to the extent that they would steal my money," she said, smiling. "But I feel it's best to keep it secret until the time comes."

Miss Devlin promised that the money would not be spent on arms for Northern Ireland's Catholic minority. "I have given my personal guarantee to the people who contributed," she said.

Miss Devlin left New York two days ahead of schedule, canceling a meeting today in Washington with House Speaker John McCormack and other congressmen. Her press secretary said she left early because of fatigue and security conditions.

Regime Being Recognized

Arabs Hoping Libya Will Help Fight Israel

TUNIS (AP) — Arab world's more radical governments are nurying to recognize Libya's new leftist military regime, strengthening belief the junta will pull away from the West and take a more militant stand against Israel.

Iraq was the first government to recognize the revolutionary council that deposed King Idris in a bloodless coup Monday. In a quick succession came messages of recognition and congratulations from Egypt, Syria the Sudan and South Yemen Communist East Germany also joined the parade.

Militant Arab leaders hailed the coup in Libya and welcomed the North African nation, said he was put on early retirement in 1967 after being accused of oil, to the camp of Arab socialism.

Iraqi newspapers called the coup "a victory for all Socialist revolutionaries." Baghdad today in the Greek city of Volos, radio said the new leaders on the Aegean coast, and vowed would "no doubt devote their country's military and vast economic potential to the strengthening of the Arab struggle against imperialism and Israel."

Syrian President Nouraddin Atassi pledged complete support for the new government and called the coup "a bold step toward freedom and Arab solidarity that hoists the banners of unity and socialism."

Trained In Cairo

Baghdad radio said the leader of the coup, Col. Saad Eddine Abbou Choureb, was a graduate of Sandhurst, Britain's West Point, had been trained in Cairo, and joined the Libyan army tank corps in the late 1950s.

The radio said the army returned Chouireb in 1964 for his "progressive nationalist views."

The aged Libyan king was taking the waters in Turkey when he was ousted. He arrived today in the Greek city of Volos, on the Aegean coast, and vowed to return to his country, but he did not say when.

Libya's airports and borders, closed when the coup took place, remained closed today.

Youth Pleads Guilty of Car Theft, Escape

Rural Kaukauna Teen-Ager Held in Jail Without Bond

Eugene Schmidt, 19, route 3, Kaukauna, the object of a police chase last Friday afternoon, today pleaded guilty, in Outagamie County Court Branch 2, to charges of taking a car without the owner's consent and escape from custody.

Judge Nick F. Schaefer ordered a pre-sentence investigation by the State Department of Health and Social Services, and he scheduled sentencing for Sept. 16. Schmidt was ordered held without bond.

Lt. Dean Ball, of the Kaukauna Police Department, testified this morning that Schmidt took a 1964 auto from Gustman Chevrolet-Oldsmobile, Inc., of Kaukauna on Aug. 3.

Schmidt, according to Ball, was to meet two other youths after taking the car. He reportedly ditched the auto, however, after a squad car approached. Schmidt admitted the car theft later.

Flees Officers

The youth first appeared in court last Friday afternoon, at which time his case was continued so he could consult an attorney. He did not retain counsel.

While Ball was taking the youth back to jail after court Friday, Schmidt fled out of the courthouse. He was apprehended by Sheriff Calvin L. Spice about a mile south of the courthouse, following a long foot chase.

Maximum sentence on the two counts to which he pleaded guilty is six years in prison. The taking of the auto constitutes a felony offense, while escape prior to sentencing is a misdemeanor.

Schmidt was handcuffed when he appeared in court today.

Industry Plans New Plant Here

A metal fabricating industry which reportedly will employ 600 persons is planning to build a $5 million plant and offices on W. College Avenue near the Outagamie County Airport, it was learned this afternoon.

Although the industry's name was not immediately released, it was reported it will build a factory of 500,000 square feet and offices totaling 10,000 square feet on a 120-acre site "in a very short time."

The company is expected to make official announcement Thursday.

The land purchase reportedly has been in the works for about three months. An Appleton real estate firm owns the land and is dealing through its Milwaukee office representatives.

The new plant will be located in the Town of Greenville.

Petition to County

Plamann School Move Opposed by Parents

Petitioners opposed to relocating the Plamann School for a retarded children have warned meeting of the county board's Outagamie County officials that the county may lose the site if it moves the school, it was learned this morning.

Thirty-two persons, who described themselves as parents or friends of retarded children, signed the petition which apparently was sent to county board members.

The group offers an alternative to immediate relocation of the school which is expected to have an enrollment increase of 90 this past year and 120 by 1971.

First, the board was urged to expand the present facility. The county board handicapped children's board has proposed the county build a $179,000 addition of four classrooms and a gymnasium.

Separate Facility
Secondly, the letter says that when the new facility is full, a separate facility for the older retardates could be constructed elsewhere, preserving Plamann School for the younger.

State law requires the county to provide such a school for youngsters aged 5 to 20. "If our wishes are met," the petitioners wrote, "and the present building expanded, we ask you to look to the future and incorporate facilities for the older or post-school retardates, who cannot qualify for other programs.

Committee Shies on Hiring Professional City Negotiator

Tews Doubtful on Transferring Personnel Functions Elsewhere

The author of a resolution on the future of the city personnel department backed away from the more controversial features of his proposal Tuesday night, and prompted the finance committee to put off a decision on it for two weeks.

Ald. Alvin Tews (5th), chairman of the committee, had suggested studying the possibility of hiring a professional negotiator to bargain with municipal employ unions, while transferring other duties of the personnel department to another existing city department.

Tuesday, Tews continued to argue in favor of hiring professional negotiating talent. But on transferring other personnel functions elsewhere he said, "I am not too sure that this is the proper route to take."

Seek Replacement
The resolution was prompted by the resignation of Personnel Director Jerome Rusch effective Oct. 1. Rusch in the meantime is under instructions from Mayor George Buckley to seek a replacement for himself. Rusch reported to the committee he has about a dozen applications in response to recent advertising. The committee decided on Tews' advice to wait two more weeks, look over the applications and then decide what to do with Tews' resolution.

Tews told the committee he had been "quite disturbed" at published interpretations that he was recommending abolishing the personnel post. He was only suggesting that the city council "explores the possibility," Tews explained. He repeated the word "possibly" several times during the discussion.

Tews Disturbed
Tews added he was also "disturbed when various people said there were personalities involved" in the reaction among city department heads to the possibility of transferring the duties elsewhere.

The clerk's office had been mentioned in earlier discussions. Tews asked committee members Tuesday who would supervise the clerk-stenographer in the personnel office if a replacement for Rusch isn't hired, and Rusch suggested the city attorney might watch the office since his office adjoins it.

The merits of hiring a professional negotiator prompted differing comments. Mayor George Buckley repeated his opposition to hiring an outside negotiator without having a fulltime personnel officer also present at negotiations. The personnel director would have to administer contracts after they were negotiated, Buckley pointed out.

Ald. Robert Roemer (8th) suggested hiring a negotiator if a personnel director can't be

United Fund Construction Drive Starts

The construction division of the United Fund campaign has kicked off its pilot fund raising drive, aimed at reaching its 1969 goal of $17,000 by Sept. 17, Raymond Max, division chairman, announced today.

This represents one segment of the overall United Fund campaign goal of $380,000. The annual drive will be conducted from Oct. 6 to Oct. 30. The construction division is one of nine divisions that make up the United Fund campaign organization.

The construction division campaign is being conducted early, Max said, because employment traditionally is at a peak at this time of year. More than 100 companies fit into the construction industries category in Appleton and the Grand Chute area, he added. These companies have an average of about 25 employees each.

Workers are scheduled to have all their campaign materials distributed to United Fund givers in their division by Sept. 5.

Max expressed confidence that construction industry companies and their employees would meet the 1969 goal, which is 15 per cent higher than last year's.

Max is vice president and general sales manager of Azco, Inc., and Rahn is director of building and office services. Aid Association for Lutherans.

Reaction to state welfare cutbacks apparently has taken a while to start in Outagamie County, but protests by affected residents began to be heard Monday afternoon and today.

The Outagamie County Department of Social Services reported late this morning that its caseworkers have received "many, many" calls about the elimination of the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program for stepchildren.

According to Chester Luce, assistant director of the department, the calls came Monday afternoon and this morning "after the mail didn't bring the check."

He said mothers with families on the AFDC stepchildren program were complaining they couldn't pay the school fees for their children.

Like a Bomb

"This dropped on them like a bomb," he noted.

Luce said the department was notified of the cuts Thursday, with some of the affected persons receiving calls from their caseworkers Friday.

The assistant director said the Outagamie department is forced to tell the callers that they may be able to receive help from municipal sources, but that the county cannot help them.

"They're at the mercy of the local relief officials," he explained.

Although welfare officials in Appleton and Kaukauna reported only one case each which had come to them as a result of the cutbacks, Luce said that more welfare recipients may be seeking municipal help after a "couple of days to plan action."

One Applies

Merton Ehrlicke, director of the Appleton department, said that the one person who had applied to his department had been invited to come in and make proper application.

"We have not received any other calls as of this time," he noted at 11 a.m. today.

Ehrlicke said he "just didn't know" what kind of impact the cutbacks would have on the city.

Welfare recipients involved in the cutback are "pretty upset" according to Mrs. DeLores Seely, a spokesman for the Outagamie Welfare Recipients Group (OWRG).

She said the matter will be discussed at a meeting Saturday of OWRG.

$2,200 Total

Mrs. Seely added that she hopes to contact Alfred Egert, director of the Outagamie department, to see what could be done. She said statements that the cutbacks wouldn't affect many Outagamie residents were "kind of understating."

Egert said Tuesday afternoon that $2,200 was the last monthly total available on the cost of the AFDC stepchildren program.

Mrs. Seely said she thought

Finance Unit Prefers Buckley Budget Plan

Aldermen Shelf Advice Of Citizens

BY CLIFF MILLER

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Shelving a set of recommendations from a citizens' committee, aldermen on the finance committee Tuesday night indicated apparent acceptance of Mayor George Buckley's outline of procedures he plans to follow in preparing his executive budget for the city this year.

Meanwhile, Finance Director David Champion told the finance committee that the timing of budget preparations may depend on expected developments in the State Legislature next month, which in turn could affect public school budgeting.

The report received last November from the special Governmental Operations Committee, a panel of citizens, had recommended patterning Appleton budgeting procedures after a system used in Madison.

Discussion of the report revealed little enthusiasm for the Madison system among the local finance committee, which voted to receive and file the recommendations — in effect pigeonholing them — after hearing Buckley explain his planned procedures.

Complaints in Past

Last year, there was grumbling from local taxpayer and voter organizations who complained they received too little

Not Stricter Enforcement

Better Support Payments Depend on Attitude Change

Stricter enforcement of support laws would do little to curb delinquent support payments in Outagamie County, Alfred Egert, director of county social services, said Tuesday afternoon.

He told county board executive committee members that the best solution is changing the attitude of the ex-husband. "It isn't dollars; it's attitude that has to be changed," he said.

Egert was called before the committee which is studying whether the county is fulfilling its obligations in collecting support monies. The question raised in recent weeks is whether more effective support payment collection would reduce the county welfare load and costs.

Improved Situation

He did, however, indicate he would like to see the district attorney's office doing more work in collection. At the same time, he praised the district attorney for the improved situation in this area.

And, he admitted, without the ultimate answer of changed attitudes, stricter enforcement should be used. "I think you'll really feel the difference," he force collections, but the county had insufficient manpower at both posts.

A group of social workers had written the county, contending it was not doing the job in collection.

The social workers said the family court commissioner and the clerk of courts should en-

Two Injured in Car Accident

LITTLE CHUTE — Two people complained of minor injuries and were advised to see their family doctors following a two-car accident at Wisconsin Avenue and Hayes Street about 3:10 p.m. Friday.

Mrs. Loyla Schmalz, 1013 Lawe St., Kaukauna, complained of a sore side and Marvel Giehart, Riverside Drive, Kaukauna, complained of a laceration. Both were passengers in cars involved.

According to police, Donald Giehart, 60, Riverside Drive, was traveling east on Wisconsin Avenue and Loyla Schmalz, 1013 Lawe St., south on Hayes when the cars collided in the intersection. Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $1,500.

Key Statement

However, he added that Appleton Supv. Eugene Kloes made the key statement when he said that if a good job in establishing a payment pattern and were advised to see their family doctors following a two-car accident in later years. The commissioner would provide this base, he said.

Egert said he understood the legal description of the corporation counsel's job prevented him from enforcing support payment cases.

The committee took no action. In other business, Supv. John Schreiter, Appleton, attempted to revive the proposal the corporation counsel and district attorney offices be combined under the district attorney. The proposal was revived in the courts, justice and enforcement committee, he said.

City Orders Land Appraisal

The board of public works has instructed Assessor John Pierre to appraise land in the vicinity of the Outagamie County Courthouse, as part of a collection of facts being gathered to support the case for joint city-county construction of a safety building there.

The board turned aside a request from Ald. John F. Ayers (12th) who sought permission to hire an independent appraiser. City Clerk Elden Broehm objected to spending money on an appraiser before there is assurance the county board will agree to the joint concept.

The board already is on request favoring building a jail and law enforcement addition from Ald. George Schwarzbauer through whose 10th Ward the city's needs. Ayers, chairman of the council public safety committee, hopes to present a case to persuade the board to reverse itself at a regular meeting next week.

Ayers told the works board Tuesday that in previous discussion, county supervisors have been unwilling to accept figures from the assessor's office on the likely cost of land the city is proposing purchasing next to the courthouse.

In other business, the city council's streets and sanitation committee aldermen declined to take action Tuesday on a proposed request for the state to redraw Memorial Drive reconstruction plans.

The committee filed a resolution moving real slow" in remedying the situation.

The county department of social services informed Dohr and local police last week that, effective immediately, they would order detention of juveniles only in "extremely serious" cases, because of the inadequate detention facilities in the county welfare work-

es. Schwarzbauer, saying he is acting on request of property owners along the drive, has objected to state plans to widen the thoroughfare to six lanes from the present four.

He requested the council to ask state highway officials to redraw their plans to provide an improved four-lane highway.

Among objections Schwarzbauer has listed are the possible reduction of property values along the boulevard-divided route if it becomes six-lane, in addition to making access from side-streets more difficult.

Thomas Harp, city engineer, said the state has plans also to widen the Memorial Drive Bridge to six lanes. "You've got a bottleneck now," said Harp. State surveys have supported the need for a six lane thoroughfare, he added. "Why build another bottleneck?"

The dividing strip down the middle of the boulevard is planted with elm trees, which Harp pointed out are each dedicated to the memory of an individual Appleton soldier who died in World War I. The state plan could be put into effect without disturbing the trees, Harp said.

Eight-Time Runaway From Boys School Sent to Wales

An eight-time runaway from St. Joseph Home at Green Bay, this morning was ordered sent to the Wisconsin School for Boys should be sent to Wales, saying, "... what he needs more than anything else is a change in attitude." The attorney de-nied Court, placed the 15-year-old Seymour boy under custody "antagonistic" of the State Department of Health and Social Services until he is 21 years old.

The youth, who had a court-appointed attorney, was placed in the Green Bay children's home last November after the put his fist through a window in court found he was dependant. Dohr found him delinquent to confinement since day.

A relative informed the court this morning that the boy put agame County sheriff's investi-his fist through the window guard, said he returned the 15-year-old because he was "bored" in year-old and four other teen-age detention. "He had nothing to runaways from Elgin, Ill., Aug. do," she told the court.

8 They had been reported missing July 25.

Parents Divorced
The Seymour boy has been in County Jail.

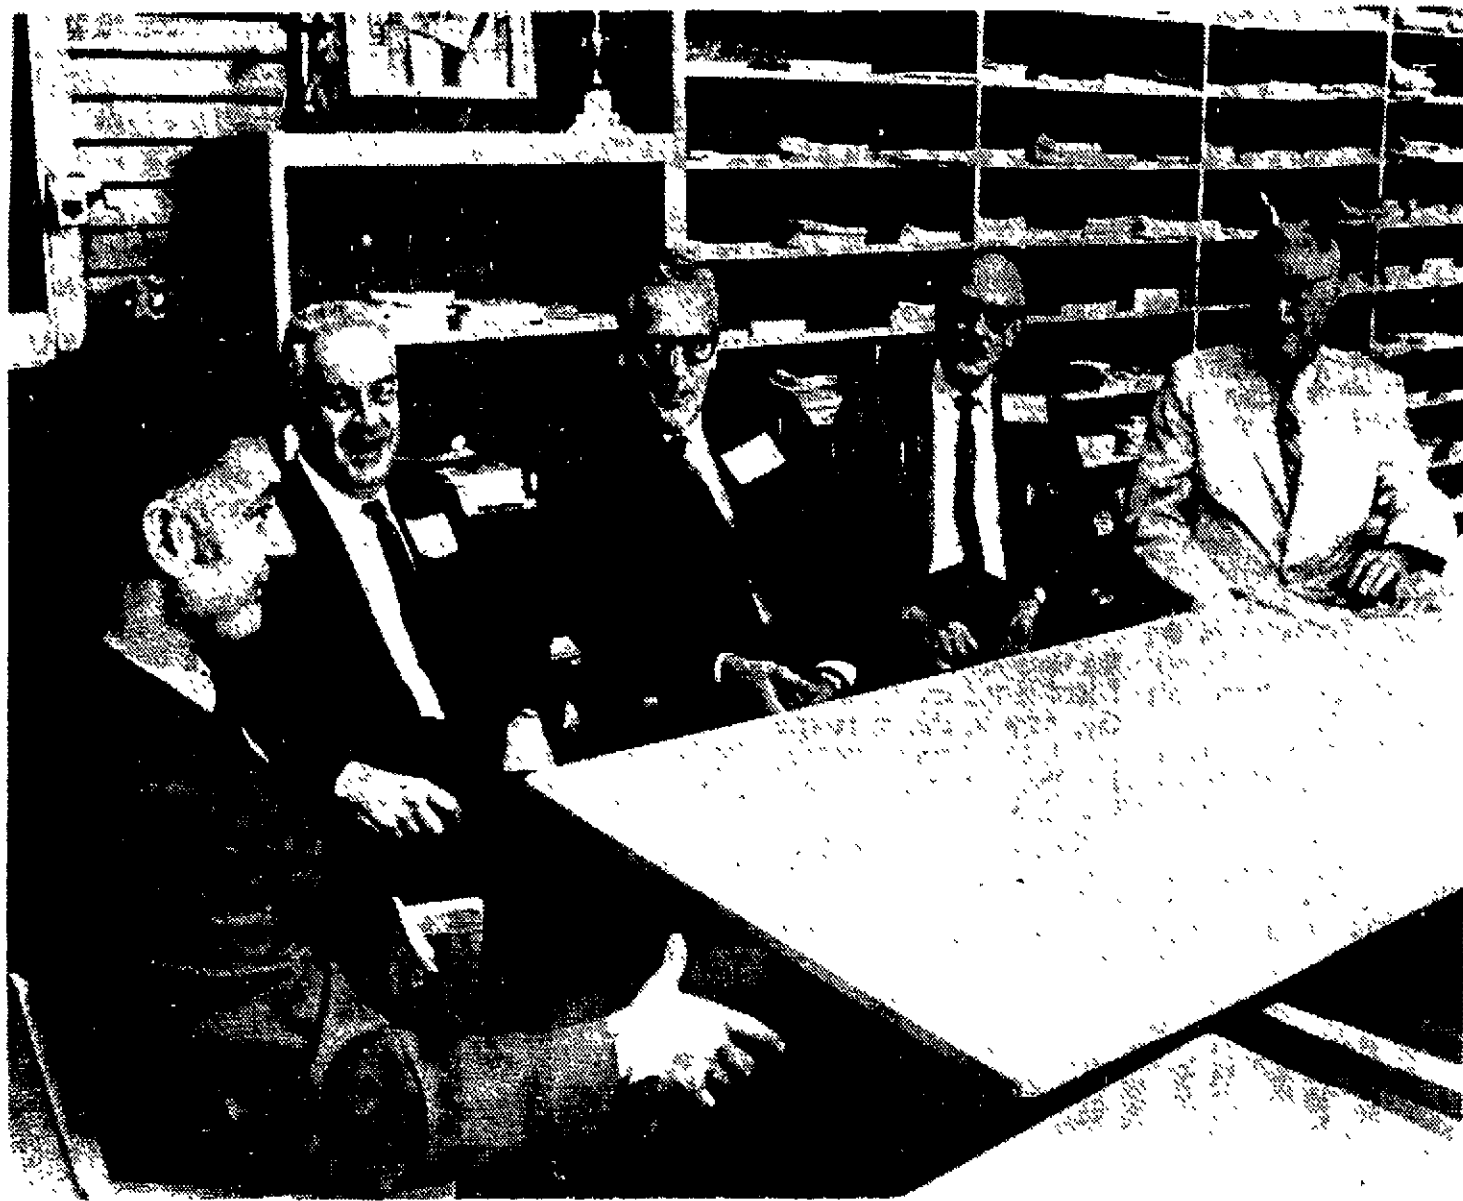

He told her the county "is moving real slow" in remedying the situation.

The county department of social services informed Dohr and local police last week that, effective immediately, they would order detention of juveniles only in "extremely serious" cases, because of the inadequate detention facilities in the county welfare work-

Finance Unit Prefers Mayor's Budget Plan

information on budget proposals prior to the public hearing.

Ald. Alvin Tews (5th), committee chairman, questioned Buckley and Champion closely about the planned system. Referring to the citizens' committee have a right to be heard on these things prior to the public hearing, which is the final step before a budget is adopted.

Buckley and Champion said they hope to be able to produce copies of the proposed executive budget before it is reviewed by the finance committee — a step preceding the final hearing before the council.

Buckley added that in interviewing city department heads, the mayor would "have no objection" to telephoning representatives of citizen groups 24 hours in advance of the interviews to allow the citizens to sit in. But he added he doesn't consider it practical to issue an advance schedule of all the departmental interviews.

Another point Buckley made clear is that once the department heads have presented their requests, the mayor and finance director will study them privately and make changes without further consultation with the department executives. The heads can appear before the finance committee to comment on the changes, Buckley said.

Champion added that he and the mayor have agreed that the finance committee and the rest of the council should receive their copies of the mayor's proposed budget first — before the press and public — so aldermen can prepare themselves to answer questions from constituents.

Champion also said that the special session of the Legislature scheduled in about a month is going to deal with state budget matters that may affect municipalities and local school districts, by changing state financial aids.

He said he doubted the school budget will be ready before mid-October. The affect the school proposal has on the local tax rate will in turn determine whether the mayor needs to take another look at city spending measures. Champion explained, putting off the completion of the executive budget proposal.

Ald. John Steidl (18th) argued in favor of adopting a procedure outline similar to the one contained in the citizen committee report, but other committee members disagreed with the Madison system.

Ald. Robert Roemer (8th) said its use of the committee-of-the-whole is "for the birds." Champion added it is essentially a programmed budgeting system that even Madison officials "haven't got the bugs worked out of."

Steidl argued there should be some formal guidelines on record.

In a related action, the committee recommended authorization in Champion to acquire a second electronic duplicating machine for City Hall, to supplement the one now located in the clerk's office. Among other benefits, the second duplicator could speed budget preparations.

Besides the recommended budget system, the committee also received and filed recommendations from the Governmental Operations Committee favoring expansion of the assistant city attorney's role, raising aldermen's salaries and providing secretarial help for aldermen.

Caseworkers Are Flooded By Welfare Cutback Calls

most of the families affected would try to get help elsewhere. "I know of cases where a person was planning to get married and can't do it now," she said.

One of the purposes of the eliminated program was to provide support for stepchildren in families where the step-parent refused to help support the children or could not because of insufficient income.

Money Not There

Four housewives affected by the AFDC stepchildren cut said in a spot telephone survey that the action is causing problems.

"You just can't cut out that much money and not have people affected," an Appleton mother with three children in the program said.

"The worst part is just the shock the money's not there," she explained.

"I don't know what to do," she continued. "I have a baby a year old, but I'll have to find a job." She said she had borrowed money to enroll her children in school.

Hit Fast

"This just hit me so fast," she said, noting her caseworker had called Friday, four days before she expected to receive a check. The department was notified by the state by telegram Friday.

"If they would have given us some time..." she said.

A mother of three from Kaukauna said that she wasn't aware of the cutback until she received a call from the department.

"I'll have to do something," she said, "but I really haven't thought too much about it." She wondered how the cutback would affect the payments she has been receiving to visit one of her children, an emotionally disturbed child who is being treated in Madison.

"The children don't deserve this," an Appleton mother with two children in the program said.

She said she planned to see both county and city welfare officials before the day was

Funeral Today For Ex-Alderman

Funeral services were held today at Faith Lutheran Church for Philipp Vogt, 82, former Appleton alderman.

Vogt died Monday after a lingering illness. He was alderman of the 6th ward for 12 years and was a former president of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities.

He is survived by his wife, five daughters, seven sons, 31 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Menasha Man Suffers Fatal Heart Attack At Gun Club Range

Russell H. Wendt Sr., 51, 324 Chute St., Menasha, suffered a fatal heart attack while shooting at the Twin City Road and Gun Club range west of Appleton about 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps, who investigated with county police, said Wendt was dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was taken by ambulance.

Other persons at the range administered mouth to mouth resuscitation while awaiting an ambulance. Wendt was a mill worker.

Post-Crescent News Service BULLETIN

Although foul play had been suspected, it was ruled this morning that the death of a De Pere man was due to natural causes. The bruised body of John A. Van Laanen, about 65, was found in bed at his home this morning by a sister.

Bruises on the body led Police Chief Tim Baumgart and Coroner Tim Blaney to suspect foul play, but Dist. Attorney John Gower said a pathologist determined death was due to natural causes and that no autopsy was needed.

DE PERE — Foul play is suspected in the death of a man whose bruised body was found at his home today by a sister.

Police Chief Tim Baumgart and Brown County Coroner Tim Blaney said that it appeared that John A. Van Laanen, about 65, had been beaten to death. The body was found in bed at the Van Laanen home by the sister of the dead man.

Baumgart said he suspected foul play, although it was possible that Van Laanen had been injured in a fall, but managed to get into bed.

Blaney said bruises on the man's abdomen apparently were from kicks.

Dr. O. S. Keyser, city health officer, said Van Laanen had been dead at least two days, possibly three or four. An autopsy was ordered to determine cause of death.

Van Laanen, a retired railroad employee, was single and lived alone.

A neighbor, J. B. Janssen, said he had not seen Van Laanen on the street today or Tuesday. A mailman said Van Laanen's mail had not been picked up since Saturday.

The body was discovered by Mrs. John Ambrosius, who said she paid frequent visits to her brother.

Paper Drive

The Americanos Drum and Bugle Corps, in cooperation with its Parents Club, will hold a paper drive Saturday. A truck will be parked at the Soo Line Depot on College Avenue for deliveries. Pick-ups will be made the day of the drive by calling 734-7933.

Appleton Youth Bound Over on Narcotics Count

Crime Lab Chemist Testifies Drugs Found on Items

Items taken from the bedroom of an Appleton youth contained heroin and marijuana, a Wisconsin State Crime Laboratory chemist testified Tuesday.

Following testimony by three state's witnesses, James R. Green, 19, 528 W. Fifth St., was bound over for the entering of a plea on a charge of narcotics possession.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer, who ordered the bindover, continued the case to Sept. 9. Green, charged following investigation by Appleton police, remains free on a signature bond. He has a court-appointed attorney.

Search Warrant

Det. Leo J. Bosch of the Appleton Police Department said he went to the home of Green's parents with a search warrant about 10 p.m. July 25.

Among the items Bosch said he found in Green's bedroom was a duffle bag containing hypodermic needles, a scalpel, a large spoon, guns, bullets, currency, clothing, a flute, magazines, a pipe and an eyedropper.

John Linssen, a crime laboratory chemist, later testified that the bowl of the pipe taken from Green's room contained scrapings of marijuana while heroin was scraped from the large spoon.

Committee Okays Paying Welfare Bills

Bills for some $215 in groceries, temporary hotel room and other items run up by city welfare recipients were ordered paid Tuesday night by the city council finance committee, putting a quiet end to previous dispute over the bills.

Mayor George Buckley had opposed paying them after they previously were approved by the welfare and ordinance committee. The welfare group refused to overrule the mayor last week, leaving the issue up to Buckley to pursue or drop.

The mayor had objected to some items purchased by welfare clients, saying less costly purchases could have met the same needs.

Buckley was present for the finance session, but remained silent when the bills were routinely approved.

Other bills have since been approved by the welfare and ordinance committee and forwarded to the mayor, who has not yet commented publicly on them.

found, or if the one who is hired lacks experience in bargaining. Gradually, perhaps in a year, the personnel officer could assume the bargaining role once he learns the ropes, Roemer suggested.

Buckley agreed, adding he doubted it would take a year to learn. "In three months if he's had some experience, he can pick it up," the mayor said.

Finance Director David Champion added that he believes hiring a professional negotiator "has a lot of merit" if it means doing away with the committee system of bargaining used now, in which negotiations include the finance director and the department head and the alderman heading the committee having jurisdiction over the employees involved.

The system consumes considerable time, Champion pointed out.

Battery Charge Sought by Wife

Jeral Jahnke, 27, 1201 N. Owaissa St., appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Tuesday on a battery charge brought by his wife who said he beat her at their home Aug. 25.

Judge Nick F. Schaefer continued the case to Sept. 9 to allow Jahnke time to retain an attorney. Jahnke was freed on a $100 bond.

Mrs. Jahnke said she had to go to a hospital for treatment of injuries to her eyes, mouth, and neck, as a result of the alleged beating.

Appleton Jaycees Sate Testimonial Dinner For Andre Le Tendre

The Appleton Jaycees will host a testimonial dinner Saturday, Sept. 6, for Andre Le Tendre, newly elected president of the United States Jaycees.

Invited guests include Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen. Jeris Leonard, State Supreme Court Justice Connor Hanson and Lt. Gov. Jack Olson. Sen. Gaylord Nelson and Gov. Warren Knowles declined invitations because of previous engagements.

Le Tendre, a native of Wausau, is the first Wisconsin resident to be elected to the organization's presidency in its

4 Freight Cars Off Tracks at Hilbert

HILBERT — Four freight cars of the Milwaukee Road derailed on a track south of Main Street, here, about midnight Tuesday.

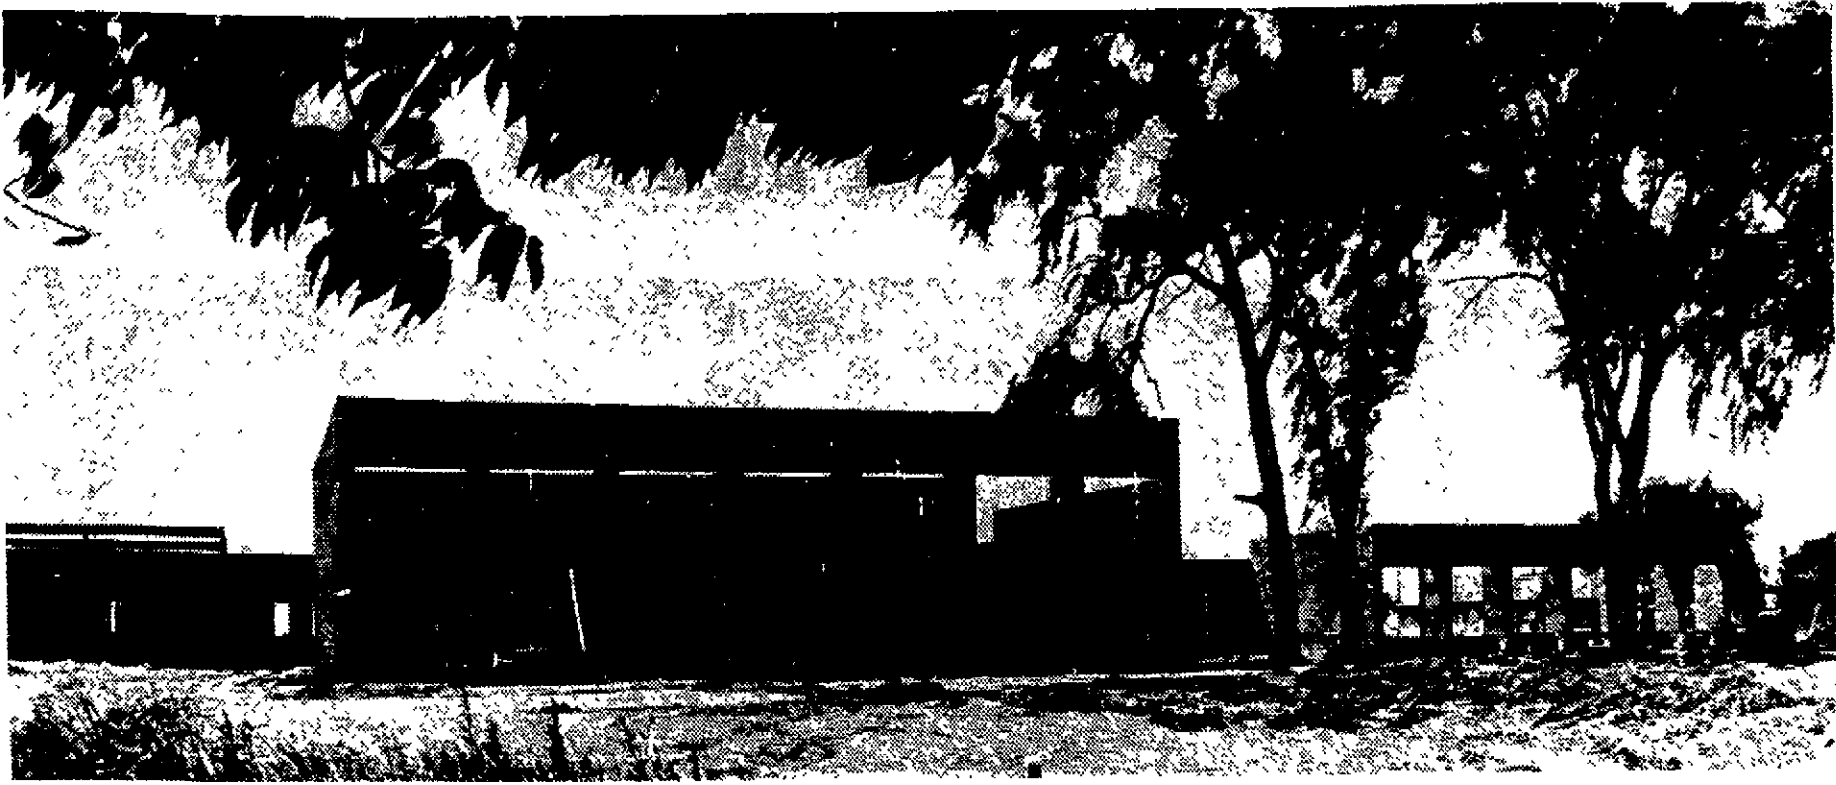

According to officials, the train was switching when the accident occurred.

The cars, which were empty, remained in a tilted position until crews arrived on the scene this morning. The train was traveling between Appleton and Hilbert.

Basic Adult Education Classes Set at FVTI

Mrs. Max Laib will instruct the Adult Basic Education classes at the Fox Valley Technical Institute in Appleton this fall.

The classes begin Sept. 29, and are designed for the adult whose reading, writing and math ability is below the eighth grade level. Classes meet Monday and Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m. for 25 weeks. There are no fees for the course. All books, supplies, and equipment are furnished to the student at no cost.

Construction on the $804,000, four-building municipal center in the Village of Kimberly is ahead of schedule, and should be completed next spring. The library stands in the foreground. The community center housing recreation facilities and meeting

Council Reaffirms Stand on Redevelopment Resolution

MENASHA — Downtown redevelopment, which was "reapproved" by the Menasha City Council Tuesday night, would jeopardize the city's ability to issue bonds and obtain financial resources for the project.

In a vote preceded only by a call for action from one alderman, the council voted 8-2 in favor of a motion instructing the Menasha Redevelopment Authority (MRA) to "proceed immediately" on plans for redevelopment under the terms of a resolution passed by the council June 17.

"Things have been going too slowly," said Second Ward Ald. Walter Remmel, an MRA commissioner who introduced the motion.

The issue was settled last week, however, when Steffens received a letter from city bonding consultant Michael Borge, which said the project would not be harmed financially by the clauses.

Carley and the MRA had agreed to follow the opinion of the bonding consultant at their last meeting, and Carley said Tuesday that he would "honor our commitments."

The vote Tuesday was merely to affirm the council's support of the original redevelopment resolution.

Voting against the motion were Alds. Felix Ropella Jr. and Raymond Zielinski. First Ward Both have been consistent opponents of redevelopment since the Thursday agenda, and Osheim said this is the next time he will be on the ladder of redevelopment.

There was no discussion, except for the introduction by Ald Remmel. The whole matter took less than five minutes of the council's time.

"Many problems, but really only one big problem," Robert Osheim, redevelopment coordinator.

Contract Problem

All that apparently remains in the way of a start in the downtown project now is a contract agreement between Carley and the MRA and the money to begin property acquisition.

Both matters will be considered at a meeting of the MRA scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday in the city council chambers.

Osheim said MRA attorney Allen (Mike) Adams was preparing a contract for presentation to Carley, and said this would be brought up at the Thursday meeting.

Property acquisition will also be on the Thursday agenda, and Osheim said this is the next time he will be on the ladder of redevelopment.

There was no discussion, except for the introduction by Ald Remmel.

Hassler Asks Reassessment For Neenah

Inequities Have Arisen Since 1962, City's Mayor Says

NEENAH — Reassessment, a process which seven years ago brought property values to within two per cent of actual value, has been called for again because of inequities which have built up since 1962.

Mayor Donald Hassler Tuesday night told the finance committee that property values should be brought up to market value to solve the inequities.

Ald. Joseph Kraus, agreeing on the need for re-evaluation, called for a total re-evaluation of the city similar to the one in 1962.

"We should start with a total reassessment, and then go to an annual program to keep property values where they should be," he said.

Hassler suggested starting a locally controlled reassessment to be carried out on a continuing basis to update all property values on a four-year basis.

In Menasha Sixth Ward Ald. Ronald Scheurle has called for a reassessment in that city, saying that "after 19 years, one is definitely needed."

He claims that assessments on newer properties are higher than assessments on older properties, and says that a reassessment is necessary to clear up this and other inequities.

Ald. Sumner Parker, Third Ward, told the council Tuesday night that the finance committee would consult with several appraisal firms to see what a citywide reassessment would cost.

The committee will hold "a lengthy discussion" on reassessment at their next meeting, he said.

Today, Assessor Earl Page agreed that Neenah needs reassessment. "There are about 18 states which require reassessment every six years," he said. "This might be too often, but I think it should be done at a minimum of every 10 years."

Kraus argued that present assessment policies penalize the property owner who builds a new house, improves his house, or buys a new one.

According to Page, values placed on property by the United Appraisal Company in 1962, have gone unchanged, unless there has been major alterations in the improvements.

"We just don't have the time to go around and assess each home in the city," Page said this morning.

Hassler told the finance committee he was in favor of beefing up the assessor's office so it would have the in-house capacity to carry out a continuing reassessment program.

"Each year, they could take about a quarter of the city and reassess it. Then every four years the entire city would have been reassessed," Hassler explained.

Keshena Area Problem

Indian Families Disrupted By Welfare Aid Cutbacks

By WILLIAM E. SCHULZ KESHENA, Wis. (AP)

Legislature cuts in Wisconsin's Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) programs are threatening to break up families in the former Indian reservation of Menominee County.

Unfit Home

"I turned three of my children over to the welfare department so at least they could get some food and a place to sleep," said Mrs. Monroe Weso Jr. of Keshena.

She took her children to the county Friday.

"But I had to get them back," she said Tuesday. "The home they put them in wasn't in condition for a human being, they couldn't have survived there."

"I'm not the only one," she said. "There are a lot of others who don't know what to do."

Mrs. Weso has five children, aged 3 months through 14 years. The first four are from a previous marriage. Her husband lost his job "about a month ago because of a transportation problem."

No Support

Some ADC cuts including the aid to children of the unemployed were effective Monday. Until then, Mrs. Weso said, she had received $162 a month in aid for her children. Now, she receives nothing. She receives no other support, she said.

The family rents an apartment in a federally-backed housing project for $65 a month. "I just haven't thought about it," she said, when asked about how she was going to pay the rent. "It's such a blow, you know. We just haven't sat down to really discuss this."

"A lot of other people haven't felt it till today," she said, "when the checks weren't received."

Programs Cuts

The budget, which cut or eliminated almost every ADC program, was signed last week by Gov. Warren P. Knowles, after eight months of infighting in the legislature. He then called lawmakers back into special session Sept. 29 to consider extra appropriations—including welfare improvements.

"There have been several threats about giving up children," said Gilbert Sauer, a county welfare agent.

dren," said Gilbert Sauer, a county welfare agent.

"Mrs. Weso's children never were formally signed over to us," Sauer said. "We placed them with a relative and she took them back the next day."

Sauer said the county has no institution for children, but depends on other families to take in foster children.

He said there was no other welfare program for able bodied men who could not find work.

"There are few opportunities for employment in the county," he said. "Costs for food and clothing are high, so a man who stays home, trying to support a large family just isn't making it."

"This legislation would tend to break up these family units," Menominee County was created in 1961. It had been a federal Indian reservation. Its only resources are timber, lakes and beautiful scenery. The Indians' governing body is working to develop a lumber industry and resort areas to increase the tax base and provide jobs in service industries.

Average Income

Average per capita income is $881, Sauer said, about one-third of the state's average.

Sauer said the budget hurt chances for breaking out of the unemployment cycle—but cutting aid to older children who were in school, trying to get an education and get ahead.

"There was a boy here last week asking about aid so he could go back to school next fall," Sauer said. "The next day the budget was approved and I had to go out and tell him it was all off."

Sauer said there is an adult education program, but it didn't take people under 21, "so he is caught in kind of a no man's land."

"The best thing is for men to leave home, then the children will be on ADC," Mrs. Weso said, referring to aid for fatherless children. "It's almost impossible to get jobs here and with the men being home it stops aid. They're pushing the men out of the home."

"They (the legislators) hit up don't know how hard it's hit up here," she said. "An unwed mother has more chance than a family does. Where is the justice?"

Ulrich Construction Break-in Burglars Take Antique Money

OSHKOSH — Sheriff's department detectives are continuing their investigation of the Monday morning theft of a large antique currency collection from the Ulrich Construction Co., 500 N. Lake St., Neenah.

The large collection of undetermined value contained two $20 gold certificates two old $10 bills, one $10 gold piece dated 1897, two two-cent pieces, a three-cent piece, three sacks each containing 500 Indian pennies, and an undetermined number of buffalo head nickels. Burglars crawled through a window in an overhead door to gain entry to the house. The coin collection was housed in a safe, which the burglars peeled open with crowbars and other tools.

The burglars also attempted unsuccessfully to open two other safes, including a cabinet safe. It reportedly contained no cash but had a tear gas bomb device which went off during attempts to open it. The burglars knocked a dial off another safe.

The burglars also took $2 in change from a desk. The firm's owner, Robert Ulrich, told investigators that no cash other than change from vending machines is ever kept in the office.

Owner of the collection is Frank Ulrich, currently a resident at Pleasant Acres nursing home.

Relieves Detour Traffic

East College Avenue Extension Is Opened

The E. College Avenue extension is now open as far as Railroad Street near Kimberly, in time to relieve Newberry Street traffic during utility construction.

The city recently extended concrete pavement on College Avenue east from Buchanan to Matthias Street. Outagamie County crews have continued the extension east toward Kimberly.

The city public works department today urged motorists driving between Kimberly and Appleton to use the new College Avenue route, to relieve congestion on a detour through a residential area lying between Newberry Street and the Fox River.

Sewer and water mains are being installed along Newberry as far as the Appleton-Kimberly boundary, in hopes that Appleton and the Town of Grand Chute can work out an agreement to repave Newberry, which forms the boundary line between the city and town.

City Engineer Thomas Harp said he expects the utility work to continue another two weeks on Newberry.

The College Avenue extension follows the proposed route of the Fox Valley Expressway. The county highway department has had the roadbed gravelled and oiled. It is to be allowed to settle during the winter, with paving expected next summer.

To Your Good Health Nipple Discharge Is Cause for Examination

By George C. Thosteson, M. D. more serious matter. She wisely has had X-ray and Pap tests — Three letters Dear Dr. Thosteson My daughter, 12, continues to have — and received the good news a greenish discharge from her left breast. When it was first noticed, she was 11 and the pediatrician said it was normal.

Dr. Thosteson

in girls her age. Frankly I am worried. What could cause it? — Mrs. E. M. H. Dear Doctor: There is a discharge and sometimes a pin-point of blood from the nipple of one breast. I have had X-ray (mammography) and a Pap test. They found no malignancy. What could this be? Is it common at my age? — Mrs. E. R. H.

Dear Doctor: I remember reading that an inverted nipple could mean cancer. The nipple of my right breast is getting smaller and smaller. Does that mean it may eventually become inverted and should I have it looked after? — Mrs. M. B.

A discharge from a nipple should always be cause for concern, and it should be examined thoroughly and at once.

Dr. Thosteson: This does not mean that a discharge is always a sign of cancer. It isn't. But it is in enough cases so that this sign should never be ignored. Find out from your doctor whether it is a danger sign or is innocent. The breast is made up of complex glandular tissue, and it can produce discharges that are quite innocent. But find out! The greenish material noticed in Mrs. E. M.'s daughter is usually harmless. Some cystic change, as a consequence of maturing, is a likely cause. A bloody discharge, as described by Mrs. E. R. H., is a

Welfare Ends For Persons on Relief Abroad

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — Santa Barbara County supervisors have voted to end welfare payments to five persons on relief who live abroad. "They are perpetrating an abuse in the minds of every citizen paying welfare bills," Supervisor Curtis Tunnell said before the vote Tuesday.

Three of the recipients live in England, one in Canada and one in the Philippines. The five received a total of $1,000 a month. To qualify for welfare a resident must have assets of less than $1,200 and a monthly income below $184.50.

Many Determining Factors

Social Security No Longer Is Just Old Age Benefit Program

The idea that Social Security is an "old age" benefit is a misconception today since the program has expanded so that it now provides protection in the event of death, disability and retirement and provides for health care in the form of Medicare.

When Social Security began in 1937, it only provided for benefits when a worker reached the age of 65 and was retired, but now that has changed. Survivors benefits can be paid upon the death of a man or woman if he or she has worked under the program long enough. In certain cases the widow, widower, children and parents and whoever assumes responsibility for the funeral can receive protection.

John Birch Member Heads Committee to Study Core Problems

MADISON — An avowed member of the John Birch Society has been chosen to head a special Republican Assembly committee investigating problems of Milwaukee's Inner Core.

Assemblyman Kenneth Merkel, a Brookfield Republican and self-proclaimed member of the right wing caucus, was elected chairman of the special caucus unit over the protests of a more moderate member who contended that Merkel would appear "biased" to outside observers.

Merkel was elected to head the seven man committee on a 3-2 vote, defeating Assemblyman James Sensenbrenner, a more moderate Republican from Shorewood.

Both Merkel and Sensenbrenner live in Milwaukee suburbs.

A 'Reputation'

Assemblyman James Azim, R-Muskegon, had backed Sensenbrenner for the chairmanship of the caucus committee, telling Merkel that, "You have a reputation, whether it is fair or not, in regard to some of these programs and it (electing Merkel) would have the appearance of scuttling this thing before the study even gets done."

The committee met in the offices of Assembly Speaker Harold V. Froehlich, R-Appleton, who named the unit after the GOP lower house caucus split itself open over Inner Core

FDA Warns
About Use of
'Res-Q-Aire'

The Food and Drug Administration has issued a warning about the use of an emergency respiratory device called Res-Q-Aire which is distributed by Kennedy Ingall's Inc., of Milwaukee. It is important the FDA says, that anyone having a Res-Q-Aire stop using it.

The device consists of a plastic bellows and valve with a shield and mouthpiece at the bottom. The bellows and valves do not provide adequate air exchange and the device is made in such a way that it may injure a patient. It may be particularly hazardous if used on infants and children because an excessive amount of air may be forced into the lungs, the FDA warned.

The firm has not complied with the FDA's request for information and has refused to provide information on distribution of the device.

A check this morning of Fox Cities fire department and ambulance services show that none of the agencies use the device.

Village School
Bus Service May Be Discontinued

KIMBERLY — Many residents living within the school district have requested and offered to pay for bus transportation for children within the district, according to Myron Huth, business manager.

The Kaukauna Bus Company has been attempting to offer service, but so few youngsters have taken advantage of the opportunity, the new route may be dropped, Huth noted.

Persons willing to pay to have a bus transport their child to school are to contact the bus company, not the school, by Friday of this week, Huth said. It will then be determined by bus firm officials whether a route, within the district not normally served, should be provided with bus service.

Police Stop Session
By 'Drugged Hippies'

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — Three police cars converged on a city park Tuesday night after reports that a rampaging session of drug-crazed hippies was under way.

"They're rolling all over the place," an officer radioed. "It looks like a real wild one this time."

programs and problems during the state budget fight.

Froehlich's original committee contained four "hard liners" who fought to hold down state spending — especially in regard to such programs, and three "holdouts," who fought passage of the conservative budget without the Inner Core aids.

Merkel has the reputation, earned on the legislative Joint Committee on Finance which constructed the conservative's budget, as one of the staunchest fiscal conservatives in the statehouse.

May Be Real

Merkel admitted to the members of the new committee that his reputation may be real, but reminded them that two years ago he authored a bill designed to provide new teachers for ghetto schools.

"The whole first year class, 50 of them, were thrown out of Oshkosh," said Merkel, in reference to the Oshkosh black students demonstrations which led to the suspension or expulsion of about 90 black students at OSU last year.

Sensenbrenner warned Merkel that, "It will be a horrendous mistake if we merely brew up a balance sheet with dollars and cents on it," in evaluating the worth of state programs in the Inner Core.

Froehlich told the committee that they will be expected to meet in regular session, "even five days a week if necessary," to conduct a study before the start of a special legislative session Sept. 29.

That session was called by Gov. Warren P. Knowles to deal with a proposed $33 million spending package for Milwaukee after the GOP Assembly caucus committee was created.

September Meeting

The committee agreed to hold its first meetings in Milwaukee on Sept. 16-17, to hear from state aid officials and examine Milwaukee school problems.

A feature of the visit will be interviews with parents and students in Inner Core schools, as well as program explanations from the Milwaukee school board.

Froehlich also appointed Ervin Schneeborg, R-Milwaukee, to the committee in the place of Mrs. Esther Doughty Luckhardt, R-Horicon, who resigned before its first session.

Absent from the meeting was Assemblyman George Klicka, R-Wauwatosa, also a Birch Society member. Present as well were Erwin Tamms, R-Milwaukee, Tommy Thompson, R-Eau Claire, and Mrs. Luckhardt.

WVLE Starts
Broadcasting
In Kaukauna

KAUKAUNA — The city's second radio station, WVLE-FM, 104.9 M.C., began broadcasting at 6:15 a.m. Tuesday.

WVLE is a sister station of WKAU-AM, also in Kaukauna. The new FM station simultaneously broadcasts the programming of WKAU until the day-time AM station signs off, at 7 p.m. in September.

After the sign-off of WKAU, WVLE features a mixture of big band music and "easy listening" top 40 music, according to Denny Lee, chief engineer and program director.

Lee said WVLE's sign-on time will fluctuate temporarily with that of WKAU.

The AM station is authorized to broadcast from legal sunrise to legal sunset, as established by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC).

If current FCC proposals to allow uniform yearly sign-on of such stations are approved, both WKAU and WVLE will begin broadcasting at 6 a.m., he said.

September sign-on is 6:15 a.m. WVLE is operating with 2,000 watts of effective radiated power from the WKAU transmitter site near Kaukauna Trunk KK south of Kaukauna. Lee said the station will serve primarily the immediate Fox Cities area under way.

Picnic Area at Rapide Croche Is Open to Public

KAUKAUNA — A picnic and recreation area has been developed south of the Fox River adjacent to County Trunk ZZ by the Kaukauna Electric and Water Utility and the Green Bay-Mississippi Canal Co.

Located near the Rapide Croche electrical plant on the Fox between Kaukauna and Wrightstown, the area has been cleared of undergrowth, gravel entrances and exits provided and charcoal grills, picnic tables, a fresh water pump and restrooms built for use by area residents. The wooded area also gives children a limited area in which to roam while meals are being prepared.

St. Norbert Rules Prohibit Hazing, Liberalize Hours
WEST DE PERE — The prohibition of fraternity "hazing" and the liberalization of dormitory hours for women students are two of the significant changes contained in the newly revised St. Norbert College student handbook.
Hazing is defined in the new handbook as any fraternity or sorority activity which creates excessive mental or physical fatigue, morally degrades or humiliates pledges or which interferes with academic pursuits. The new ruling also will allow for the supervision of remaining pledging activities by the fraternities themselves and by a joint student, faculty and administration committee.
A new ruling on resident student's dormitory hours extends the "no check" provision to all senior women or women over 21, and to any sophomore or junior woman with parental permission. At present there are no regular check-in hours for men residents.

COG Appoints New Labor Man To Housing Unit

Edwin G. Adams, business representative of the Oshkosh-Fond du Lac Building Trades Council, has been appointed to bring Wisconsin's 1968 high-way fatality toll to 732—commenments (COG) housing tech-nical advisory committee, it record 1968.
Three members of a Chicago family and one of their friends died Tuesday in a car-truck crash in La Crosse County. Adams will replace Carl Sorcic as the labor representative on the committee. Sorcic, business agent for the Appleton Building Trades Council, resigned last week because he felt labor was not fairly represented.

Sewage Studied At Plamann School

Committee Okays Engineering Study of Additional Facilities

Outagamie County officials were reluctant Tuesday to give unconditional endorsement of a $179,000 addition to the Plamann School for retarded children but delayed a decision.

Members of the county board's finance and executive committees did not close the door to the proposal but asked for more information.

They authorized the county board handicapped children's board to hire an engineering firm to determine if additional sewerage facilities can be handled at the school site.

If it can, they probably will give the go-ahead. The addition is needed to meet anticipated short range enrollment increases.

Most committeemen made it clear they did not oppose the addition but wondered whether it would be more economical to relocate the school and build it to meet long range needs.

Supv. Herbert Helble, Appleton, said no. He and parents of retarded children feared a new building might not be built for a few years, shortchanging the school needs of some retarded children in the next two or three years.

Helble also warned the children's board would fight any attempts to stall the project. He hopes the addition — probably four classrooms and a gymnasium—can be built next year.

County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler, Appleton, said this was not true and predicted the addition would be overwhelmingly accepted, if this is determined the best route.

"But let's put it (the facilities) in the right place," he added.

Leo Bronkalla, superintendent of schools at Little Chute, told the committeemen that they should recognize the immediate need to handle the 120 students expected by 1971 and during that period develop the long range plan for a new facility.

John Davis, president of the Outagamie County Association for Retarded Children, warned against moving the school.

Parent Protest

"I think there would be quite an uproar (from parents) if we move the school," he said. "A large majority of parents" would oppose the move, he added.

John Grootmont, an Appleton parent, noted the "older members" of the association would be particularly hostile to the move. Many of them helped in collections that built the school, he said.

City Attorney Not Interested In County Post

KAUKAUNA — City Attorney Donald Green made a formal statement to the common council Tuesday night that he has no interest in the position of corporation counsel for Outagamie County.

He said, he was making the formal statement to clarify a Post-Crescent story which indicated he would apply for the position. He admitted being approached in a very general way some time ago, but said he had never given any serious consideration to making application for the position.

Green concluded by saying he definitely would not make application for the position of corporation counsel, but would continue in private law practice and serving the city as attorney. He currently is in his third term as city attorney.

mitteemen the school site was donated for the purpose of a retarded children facility.

The school is located in Plamann Park north of Appleton and is adjacent to the new man-made lake the county built.

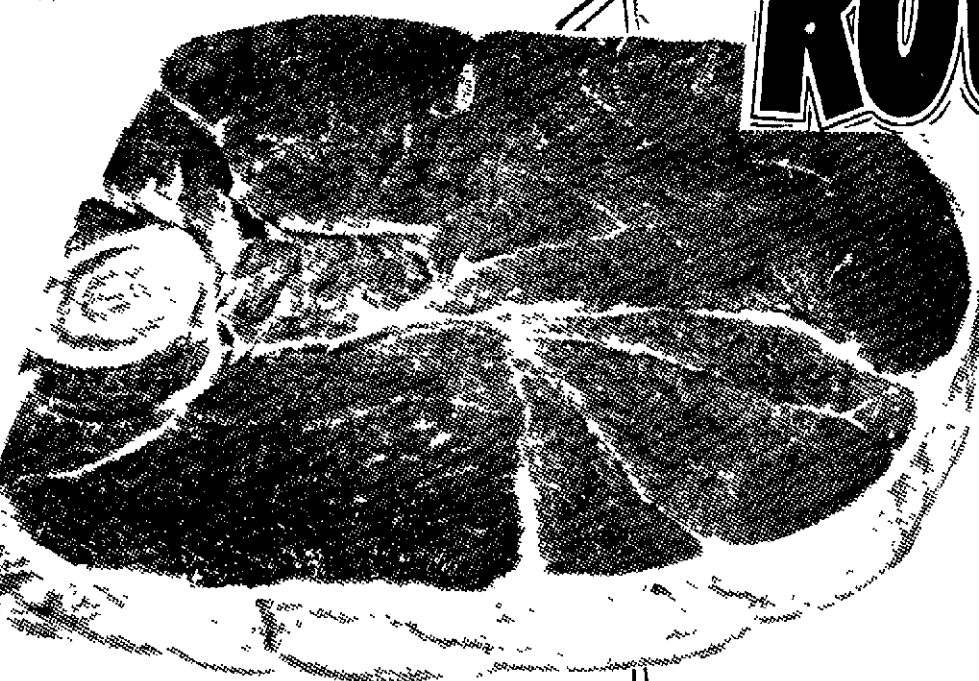

Supv. Marvin Babbitt, Seymour, said he felt there was no big sewerage problem if the 20 to 30 additional students are added in the next two years. He suggested the engineering study and "then you can go the county board and ask for funds" to construct the addition.

Boom or Bust? Experts Don't Agree on '70s

'Sizzling Seventies'
Might be Nearing,
Forecasters Feel

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — It takes a certain degree of blindness to believe that the 1970s will be a boom or bust in the 1970s. And yet that is how the forecasts are polarized. The blinds are on.

It is not uncommon, for instance, to find some stock market analysts forecasting tremendous price jumps in the 70s based, they say, on the fruition of technology, on population increases and on greater foreign trade.

In fact, a Gross National Product of $2 trillion is said to be a probability shortly after the 70s, which already are being called with confidence "The Sizzling Seventies."

But in order to make such statements the forecasters sometimes ignore certain factors. The world trade position of the United States has deteriorated, for example, and America continues to spend more abroad than foreigners spend here.

This has been going on for 17 years or so, and has the financial managers of many countries in a dither. They fear, among other things, that a loss of confidence in paper money could ensue and that trade might diminish.

Which viewpoint do you take? The doom dispensers say world trade is bound to collapse and bring down the world's industrial economies. The happiness hucksters claim human inventiveness will bring joy to all. There's little in between.

As if the issues were too great to synthesize, a forecast of boom often totally ignores the opposite possibility. And a forecast of bust quite frequently will avoid mention of economic strengths.

This polarization is noted also in another area of popular discussions. It involves the matter of personal indebtedness and its consequences. You can choose your sides.

One viewpoint goes like this: "This country is headed for a spectacular downfall. Just look at all that debt being run up by people. Living over their heads. Never able to pay all that credit that's been extended to them."

"What's going to happen when

Canoeists Clean Missouri River

EMINENCE, Mo. (AP) — More than 100 canoe enthusiasts from five states finished a three-day cleanup of a 26-mile stretch of the Current River in southern Missouri Monday.

They gathered 283 burlap sacks of trash, mostly beer and soft drink cans and bottles. But there also were tires, bed springs, a lawn mower, a washing machine, a wheel barrow and a sewing machine.

The canoeists came from Arkansas, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri for the 10th annual cleanup sponsored by the Ozark Wilderness Waterways Club.

we have a little downturn, when people get laid off and can't pay those bills? Why there'll be a panic. Bill collectors will be tripping over each other to be first in line."

The comparison then is made with the 1920s when, it is said, people went into orgies of self-indulgence. "Isn't it the same today," the cynic says, his tone laden with the sorry burden of knowing the terrible fate that lies ahead.

That's one viewpoint. Consider another:

"One of the fundamental strengths of this American economy, a factor that gives me great confidence in our future, is the responsible way in which ordinary people have shown they can handle debt. It's encouraging."

"Sure the American people have run up a lot of bills, something over $100 billion in private, short-term debt compared with only $17 billion or $18 billion 10 years ago. But is it as bad as it seems?"

"I'm encouraged by a couple of things: First, those bills are being paid back regularly. The American people as a whole consider it some sort of a sin to let their bills ride. Ask any banker."

"Secondly, those bank accounts that people are accumulating look good to me. Why, for many months they were putting more than 7 per cent of their takehome pay into savings. That doesn't look like a spending orgy to me."

Take your pick: The country is heading for a boom in the 1970s that will lift the material well-being of most people beyond their dreams; the American economy is heading for trouble and the signs are all about us.

It takes a genius, perhaps, to synthesize the two points of view into one forecast. Rather than attempt that synthesis with ordinary minds, many prognosticators just put on the blinds and take a position.

Wholesome Meat Act Provides New Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has published consumer - protection regulations by which ultimately all meat processed commercially in the United States must be judged.

Under the Wholesome Meat Act of 1967 the states have until next Dec. 15, or a year later under some circumstances, to set up inspection programs at least equal to federal standards.

The 452-page manuscript issued by the Agriculture Department sets forth detailed proposals for carrying out the act.

"Big Medicine" "It's big medicine in terms of additional controls to determine more effective consumer protection," Dr. Hyman M. Steinmetz, Consumer and Marketing Service official, said in an interview.

The far-ranging proposals include mostly existing federal specifications on meat inspection and packing house operations, but these and some new features would have full impact when the states begin operating their own programs.

All meat sold in interstate commerce—about 85 per cent consumed in the country—now is federally inspected. But the department estimates there are about 15,000 meat plants doing business entirely within states of inspection.

The Wholesome Meat Act and today's new regulations stemmed from a campaign two years ago by critics of current meat inspection practices, including consumer advocate Ralph Nader.

"Bad meat is, and has been a long time good business," Nader told a Senate agriculture subcommittee. "This traffic is drawn heavily to intrastate markets because of the nonexistence, laxity or complexity of government regulation."

"I don't want roaches in my meat and I don't suppose you do," Betty Furness, consumer affairs advisor to former President Lyndon B. Johnson, told the same committee.

Steinmetz said one of the major provisions in today's proposals permits federal authorities to detain suspected meat in interstate commerce wherever it is found. States would have the same authority over intrastate operations.

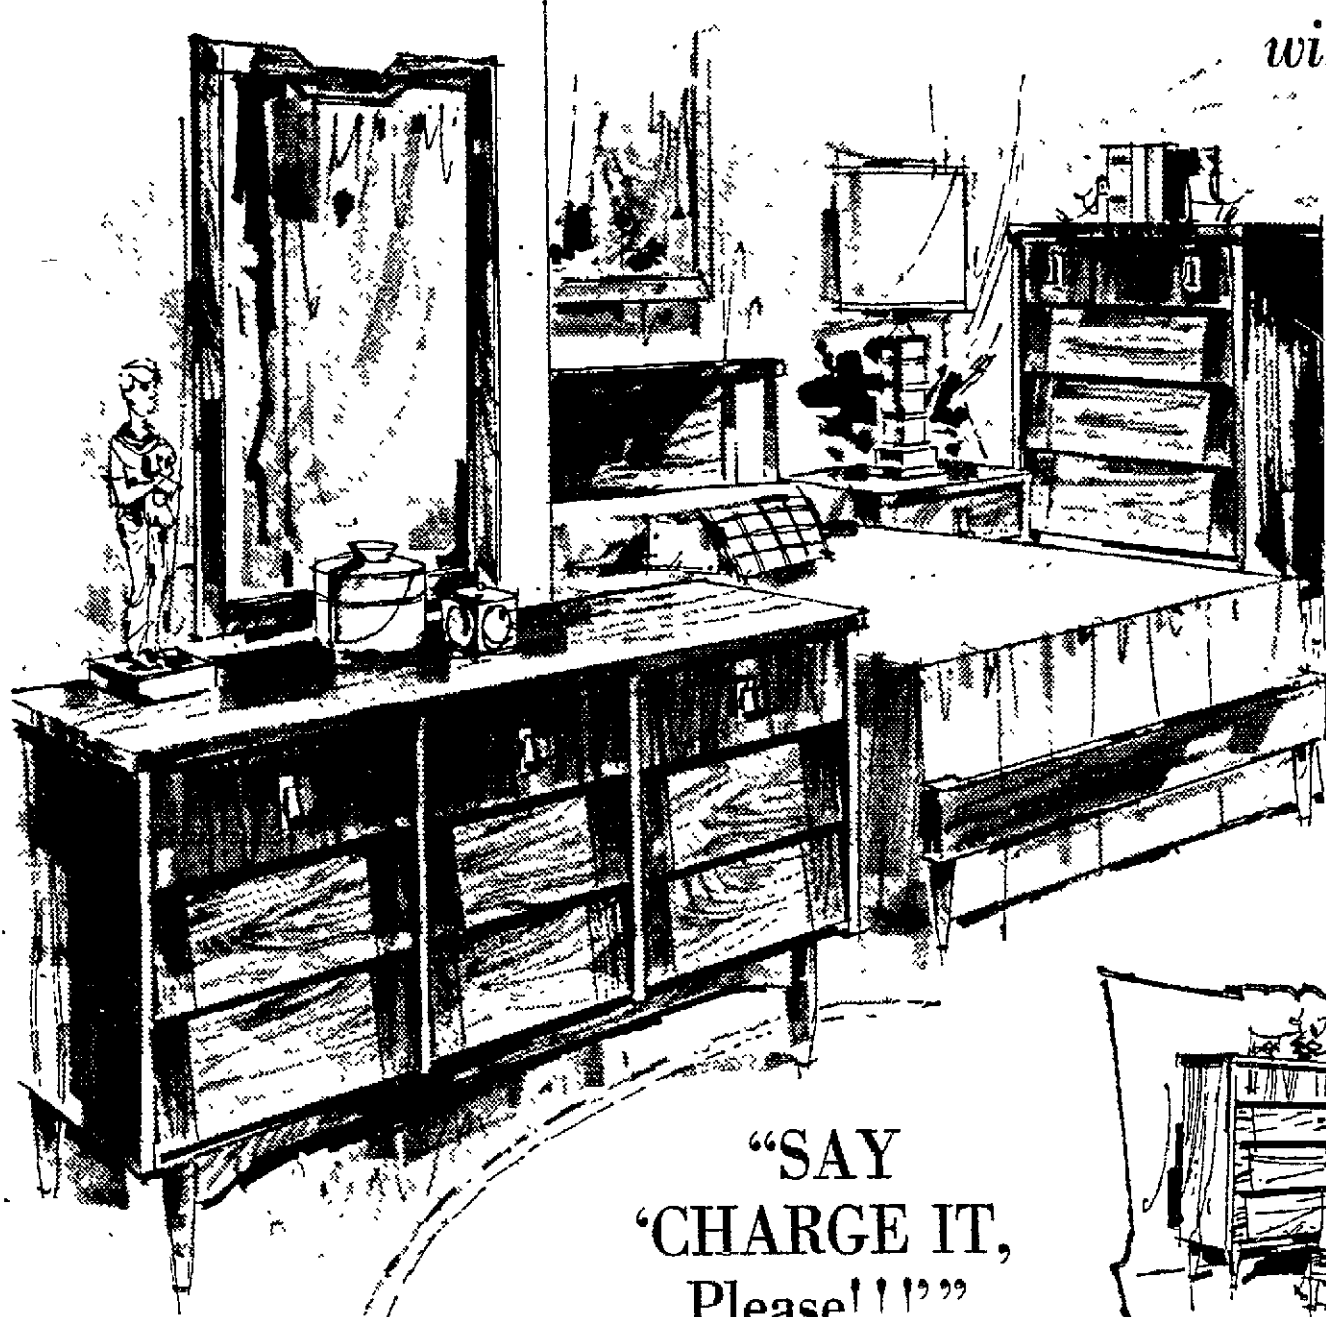

"Under the old law," Steinmetz said, "our ability to act on meat and meat products largely was confined to the premises of plants. Now we have the authority to detain and seize meat outside the plants."

Another important provision, Steinmetz said, involves stricter control over rendering works and similar plants which deal in dead livestock used for inedible products.

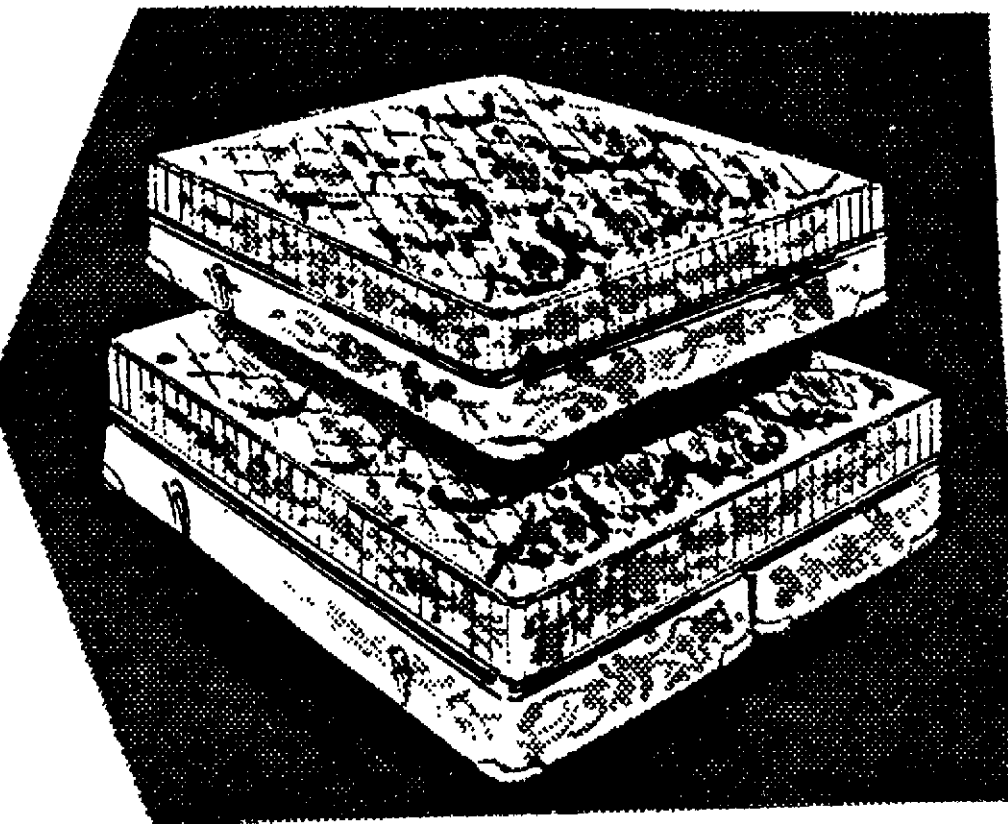

The proposals eliminate many of the exemptions in meat inspection requirements, including those involving slaughter of livestock on farms.

Public comment on the regulations will be accepted until Oct. 13. Steinmetz said a final decision will be made later on any changes and when to put the proposals into effect.

Holiday Road Crashes Take 28 Lives in State

'When Will They Ever Learn?'

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Rifles crack and the drums roll for the last time today for four New Hampshire National Guardsmen killed in Vietnam last week when their truck struck a land mine.

But for the fifth victim buried Monday from St. Catherine's Roman Catholic Church there were no rifles, no muffled drums. Just a trio of folk singers asking, "Where have all the soldiers gone?" Answering, "Gone to graveyards every one. When will they ever learn?"

The mass at St. Catherine's was for Army Spec. 5 Richard E. Genest, 24, of Manchester. His pretty widow, Brenda, 20, said, "I am against war. Dick was against it. And the funeral was a protest against it."

Today's services, in three Manchester churches, were for Spec. 4 Roger E. Robischaud, 24; S. Sgt. Richard P. Raymond, 27; Spec. 4 Guy A. Blanchette, 22, and Spec. 4 Gaetan J. Beaudoin, 20.

They were buried here in Mount Calvary Cemetery, where Genest was buried. The five guardsmen were members of the 3rd Battalion, 197th Artillery. They had been neighbors here and were scheduled to return with their unit from Vietnam this Thursday.

Mrs. Genest barred military ceremonies at her husband's funeral, just as she refused on Saturday to accept the flag which draped his coffin when it arrived at Grenier Field.

Labor Day Toll High Across U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four double fatality accidents and one which claimed four lives helped boost Wisconsin's Labor Day weekend traffic toll to 28 by today. That is eight more than last year and six less than the record bloodletting of 1965.

The deaths, in addition to one early today, brought Wisconsin's 1969 count to 728, compared with 777 on this date in record 1968. Gary Franke, 19, of rural Mayville, was pronounced dead on arrival at a Fond du Lac hospital early today after his auto struck the back of a parked semi trailer truck on State 49, west of Brownsville in Dodge County.

Traffic accidents across the nation claimed 583 lives during the three-day Labor Day weekend. Although late reports were expected to raise the toll higher, it appeared the final figure would fall short of the Labor Day record of 688, set during last year's observance.

David Hopper, 18, of New Lisbon, died Monday when his car ran off a curve north of the city, rolled and burned, officials said.

Robert Bourget, 19, of rural Cadott, died Monday of injuries suffered Sunday night in Chipewa County. Authorities said Bourget was alone in a car which left County Trunk S and overturned.

Two persons died early Monday in a Vernon County accident. Killed when a car struck a bridge on State 82 west of Hillsboro were Raymond Campbell, 18, of La Farge and Raymond Sorensen, 18, of Waukesha.

Two other persons, a young mother and her daughter, were killed Monday when the car in which they were riding went out of control and left a Dane County road near Belleville. The victims were Mrs. Vicki L. Campbell, 20, and her daughter, Dedra 3, of Madison.

Darryl Hensler, 18, of Watertown, died early Monday when his motorcycle collided with an automobile in Watertown.

John Robinson, 18, of Whitefish Bay, suffered fatal injuries early Monday when the car he was driving left a Washburn County road west of Minong and struck a tree.

Two St. Paul, Minn., residents died in separate northern Wisconsin accidents Sunday night. Roberta Ann Gage, 18, lost her life when a car struck the embankment of a farm driveway after leaving a Polk County road east of Milltown.

Mrs. Mary Danielson, 20, died when she was struck by a car as she and three companions were standing along State 64 near Somerset.

Mrs. Fern Amundson, 73, of rural Nekosia, and Larry Deniston, 17, of Wisconsin Rapids, lost their lives in a Wood County collision Sunday. Another Wood County crash Sunday killed Cliff

Reinforce South Vietnamese

Americans Rush to Rescue

SAIGON (AP) — Helicopters landed 400 American Air Cavalrymen on a battleground north of Saigon this afternoon to reinforce South Vietnamese commandos battered for three days by North Vietnamese troops.

At least 26 of the South Vietnamese troops were reported killed, 120 were wounded and 17 were missing. Four American Green Beret advisers with the South Vietnamese also were wounded.

The number of North Vietnamese killed was not known yet. Officers in the field said allied forces had been unable to sweep the battlefield because "every time we go out we get in trouble."

Find Enemy Camp

The fighting began Sunday when about 400 South Vietnamese commandos ran across a base camp of an enemy division 85 miles northeast of Saigon in jungled hills. The camp was 18 miles east of Song Be, a provincial capital the enemy division had been threatening.

The North Vietnamese struck back from all sides as the South Vietnamese came in. Helicopters flew in 400 fresh commandos to reinforce the embattled battalion. On Monday the South Vietnamese tried to push back into the area of Sunday's fighting but again ran into strong resistance.

Lt. Gen. Julian J. Ewell, commander of the U.S. 2nd Field Force, visited the battle area and ordered U.S. troops from the 1st Air Cavalry Division to reinforce the South Vietnamese. The Air Cavalrymen met no resistance as they drove into the triple-canopied jungles, and fighting reportedly appeared to taper off at least for the time being.

Although fighting picked up again in the area between Saigon and the Cambodian border, there was no indication that the upsurge was the new high point in the enemy's fall campaign which U.S. officers have been predicting for this week.

Today is the 24th anniversary of Ho Chi Minh's proclamation of the Vietnamese Republic, and American officers expect the enemy to mark the occasion with stepped-up attacks. But the action reported today resulted from allied sweeps and patrols rather than aggressive enemy action.

Government headquarters reported that other South Vietnamese forces killed 18 enemy soldiers with claymore mines Monday night in an ambush 31 miles northwest of Saigon.

In War Zone C, 65 miles northwest of Saigon, helicopter-borne troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division clashed with small units of North Vietnamese troops and reported killing 52 of the enemy. Three Americans were reported wounded.

Dive bombers and helicopter gunships from the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry regiment destroyed 72 enemy bunkers and killed 16 troops with machine guns and rockets in an area two miles from the Cambodian border and 70 miles northwest of Saigon, U.S. headquarters said.

'I'll be Off My Back in Two or Three Weeks'

A Mustachioed Rocky Bleier of Appleton catches up on sporting news in a Japanese newspaper Monday. He is recuperating from Vietnam war wounds he suffered two weeks ago when his platoon was ambushed by enemy troops south of Da Nang. The former Xavier High School and Notre Dame University star said today he expects to be fully recovered in time for the 1970 pro football season. "The doc said I'll be off my back in two or three weeks," he said. "After that, it'll be back to the States where I'll have to undergo physical therapy to strengthen my legs." Bleier, who played one year for the Pittsburgh Steelers before being drafted into the Army, has another year remaining on his military tour. He was just another patient in the hospital until the other patients — also wounded in the war — discovered he was a National Football League player. "Now they approach me for advice on football," he said. Bleier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bleier, 201 S. Walnut St., Appleton. (AP Wirephoto)

Central America in Path

Francelia Churns Toward Coast

MIAMI (AP) — Hurricane Francelia raked the coral islands of Bahia with gale winds today as it churned across the Gulf of Honduras toward the coast of Central America.

Residents in coastal areas of Honduras, Guatemala and British Honduras were warned to prepare for 100-mile-an-hour winds and surging storm tides.

Francelia was expected to go ashore about noon. Forecasters said the storm's eye probably would pass near Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, the country's main Atlantic port.

Storm warnings extended from the British Honduras capital of Belize, 120 miles southward to La Ceiba, Honduras. Puerto Barrios is located about midway between the two cities, at the head of the Gulf of Honduras.

Francelia's target area traditionally has been hit by hurricanes, including some of the most intense storms of the century. A gigantic hurricane killed 1,500 people in Belize in 1931 and Hurricane Hattie killed 300 more in 1961.

Nixon Tells Governors To End Their 'Dreams'

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — President Nixon has told the nation's governors not to look for an outpouring of new federal funds as a byproduct of peace in Vietnam.

The President also defended his welfare reform program in a speech to the 61st National Governors Conference Monday and advised the state executives against trying to tamper with it.

But the conference was to act today on a resolution urging that the federal government take over the financing of the entire welfare system.

"He said he was going to put the money where the problems are," said New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, chief promoter of the takeover proposal, a five-year plan which goes far beyond the Nixon recommendations.

Nixon flew from his summer White House in San Clemente, Calif., for the defense of his domestic programs, and told his critics:

"I make just one suggestion — we've been on a road for a long time that is leading us to disaster and when you're on the wrong road you get off and get on a new road."

Nixon told the governors at their black tie conference ball there are "hard budget and tax decisions ahead."

"Dreams of unlimited billions of dollars being released once the war in Vietnam ends are just that — dreams," he said. "True, there will be additional money — but the claims on it already are enormous."

Still Need Priorities. "There should be no illusion that what some call the peace and growth dividend will automatically solve our national problems or release us from the need to establish priorities."

"In order to find the money for new programs," said Nixon, "we will have to trim it out of old ones."

Said Democratic Gov. John N. Dempsey of Connecticut: "I'm not so sure that if the war ended, the next 10 months. But he did not say whether prior claims against the federal government were ready had committed such funds."

While Nixon rejected the notion of a peace bonus, he did tell the governors:

"I can assure you of this: We are not simply going to tell you the states have a job to do; we are going to help you find the funds."

The Australian navy already has cleared the Melbourne's skipper at a court-martial of negligence.

Old-Fashioned Pie

Peaches...Peaches...Peaches...

Lillian Mackesy POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR

Sweet, juicy peaches in one of the most abundant crops in years are available in markets right now. Available in quantity through September, this golden fruit speaks of the last, lingering days of summer and the first bright, hazy days of fall.

The Michigan varieties now abundant are all "freestone" peaches with the pits separating easily from the flesh of the fruit. Most peaches today come "de-fuzzed," making them more delicious than ever to eat out of hand. They also go well in gourmet dishes that are simple... sliced and served with a custard or coconut cream.

Always welcome in old-fashioned pie or cobbler, the fresh peach also makes an excellent gelatin molded salad with its rich flavor. One of the recipe "finds" for today is Peach-Nut Bread, so easily put together and yet so delicious when baked and cooled.

Home economist friends from the Benton Harbor market have sent a few valuable tips on the golden summer fruit. They caution that ripe peaches must look good to really be good. Firm-ripe peaches can be held three or four days and must be refrigerated. Peaches not quite ripe will become full-ripe at room temperature.

To gauge the amount of fresh peaches to buy, here are some valuable tips:

Two pounds of peaches will make four half-cup servings of sliced peaches; one upside-down cake or one peach pie. A bushel of peaches will make 32 to 48 pints, either canned or frozen, depending on quality and size of fruit and how closely the fruit is packed in containers.

As for varieties, the Redhaven, Richhaven, Halehaven, Kalhaven and Redskin all are excellent varieties for canning and freezing. The bright red

PEACH SALAD WITH RASPBERRY DRESSING

1 (3-ounce) package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
½ teaspoon celery salt
½ teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon dry mustard
2 teaspoons cider vinegar
2 cups diced fresh peaches
1 cup whipping cream, whipped

Raspberry Dressing
Oil 4- to 5-cup mold. Place gelatin in large mixing bowl. Add boiling water and stir until dissolved. Stir celery salt, paprika and dry mustard, blending until smooth. Add vinegar and peaches, blending well. Gently fold in whipped cream and pour into mold. Refrigerate until firm. At serving time, unmold onto salad greens and serve with raspberry dressing.

RASPBERRY DRESSING

½ cup sweetened, pureed raspberries, fresh or frozen
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
¼ cup sour cream
Combine ingredients and stir until well blended. Chill thoroughly.

HOT CURRIED FRESH PEACHES

8 unpeeled fresh peaches, halved
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon curry powder
¼ cup butter
1½ oz. can crushed pineapple
6 maraschino cherries
Arrange eight peach halves in bottom of greased 2-quart casserole. Mix sugar and curry powder. Sprinkle one-third of

Former White House Chef to Present Gourmet Cooking Seminar at Y

Have you ever yearned to make a real French Quiche Lorraine? Or prepare a Hollandaise Sauce like an expert? Or make Crepes Suzette in authentic French fashion?

There's an excellent chance to learn all these recipes and more when former White House Chef Rene Verdon presents a Gourmet Cooking Seminar Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 10, at the Appleton YMCA.

French-born Verdon is internationally known and served as White House Chef from April, 1961, to January, 1966. He now is culinary consultant for Hamilton Beach, of Racine. He was hired by the Kennedys and worked briefly for the Johnsons during LBJ's presidency. He is the author of "The White House Chef Cookbook."

The chef's Appleton appearance is being sponsored by the Appleton YMCA Auxiliary under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Gerald Rusch and Mrs. Maxine Vanevenhoven. He is appearing through the courtesy of Hamilton Beach and the H. C. Prange Co.

The afternoon session, scheduled for 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., Sept. 10, will be followed by a reception. The seminar is open to the public without admission charge, but reservations are required because of limited room in the West Shell where the cooking demonstration will be held. Reservations may be made at the main desk at the Y, and will be honored in the order taken. Chef Verdon will prepare several gourmet dishes such as flaming crepe Suzette with a special butter, Chocolate Mousse a la Rene, Quiche Lorraine, and several of his own recipes for sauces, basic mayonnaise and salad dressings.

Although he will center his attention on the food demonstration (the audience may get a chance to sample his finished foods), Verdon will talk on some of his interesting experiences and, in the food department, give valuable short-cuts and present several ideas in food preparation.

A master chef with an international reputation for his sauces and dressings, the following are some of the recipes he will make.

BASIC HOLLANDAISE BLENDER SAUCE

1 pound butter
4 egg yolks
3 tablespoons boiling water
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
¼ teaspoon white pepper

Melt butter in top of double boiler. When butter is melted, skim off impurities. Slowly pour off top portion and leave remaining milk solids on the bottom of the pan.

Place egg yolks in blender container; cover and run on speed 1 or low for about one minute slowly adding boiling water through center cap. Turn blender to speed 3 (or low) and add butter slowly through center cap. Add lemon juice and white pepper just until mixed. Serve immediately. Recipe makes 2½ cups.

MUSTARD VARIATION

2 tablespoons dry mustard
1 tablespoon dry white wine

Substitute dry mustard and white wine for lemon juice and white pepper.

Note: To rewarm, place Hollandaise Sauce in a heat-proof jar or silver dish and place in warm water. Do not cook. If sauce separates, add warmed sauce to 2 tablespoons cold water in mixing bowl and mix with mixer until smooth.

BASIC BLENDER MAYONNAISE

1 egg
1 tablespoon hot vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

½ teaspoon white pepper
1 cup salad oil

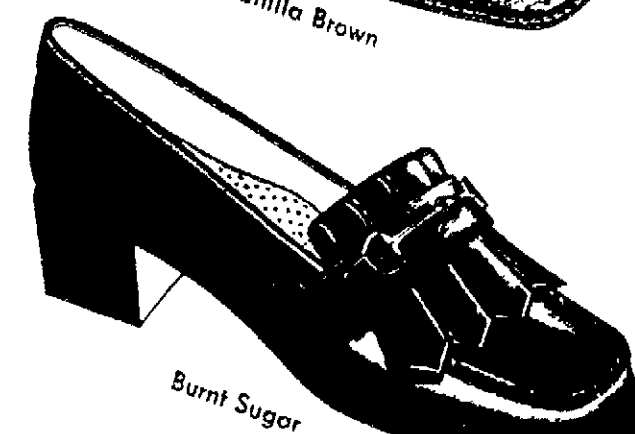

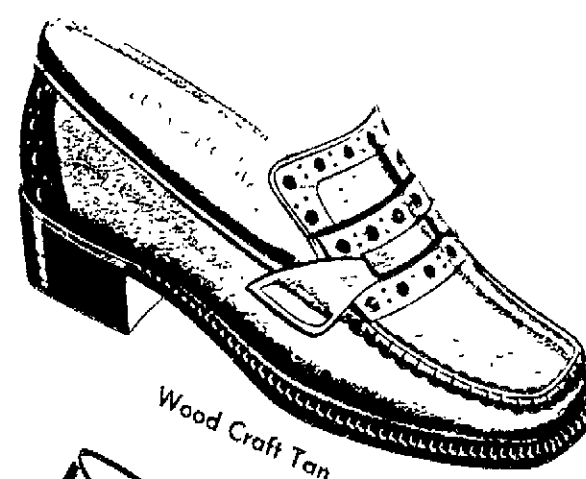

Have all ingredients room temperature. Put vinegar in small sauce pan and bring to a boil. Put egg, salt, mustard and pepper in blender container; cover and run on speed 2 (low). While blender is running, slowly add the salad oil through the center cap opening. Increase the speed to 7 (high) when more power is necessary. Add vinegar and blend on speed 7 just until mixed. Makes about 1 cup.

GREEN GODDESS SALAD DRESSING
1 clove garlic
2 green spring onions, cut up
1 tablespoon anchovy paste
1/4 cup sour cream
1 cup Blender

Mayonnaise
1/4 cup tarragon vinegar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
3/4 teaspoon sugar
1 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
Place all ingredients in blender container; cover and run on speed 8 (high) until onions are finely chopped and dressing smooth in texture. If more color is desired add 2 to 3 drops green food coloring. Serve cold. Recipe makes 1 1/2 cups.

THOUSAND ISLAND DRESSING
1 cup Blender
Mayonnaise
1/4 cup chili sauce or catsup
1 tablespoon chives
3 sprigs parsley
2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish
1 hard-cooked egg, shelled and quartered
Put mayonnaise, chili sauce, chives, parsley and relish in blender container; cover and run on Speed 4 (or high). While blender is running, add hard-cooked egg through center cap opening. Blend on Speed 4 (or high) until ingredients are combined. Recipe makes about 1 1/2 cups.

CHOCOLATE MOUSSE A LA RENE'
2 egg yolks
12 oz. chocolate chips
1 cup scalded milk, hot
1/4 teaspoon instant coffee
2 jiggers of brandy
4 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar
Put egg yolks, chocolate chips, scalded milk, instant coffee and brandy in blender. Run the blender long enough on high speed to liquefy the chocolate chips.

In a separate bowl beat 4 egg whites and slowly add sugar until very firm. Then fold in the chocolate mixture. Do not stir or beat.
Refrigerate for 2 hours in a glass serving bowl or in sherbert glasses — about 4 ounces in each glass. Recipe makes 12 servings; can be halved.

CRUST:
4 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 cups butter, room temperature
2 eggs
1/2 cup cold water
Place flour, butter and salt into large bowl and work together with hands until smooth. Add eggs and water and work with hands until rolling consistency. Roll pastry out on floured pastry board to within 1/4 to 1/2 inch thick. Place pastry in a 9-inch pie tin and seal edges. Refrigerate one hour. Makes 3 9-inch pie shells.

FILLING:
5 strips bacon
1 1/2 cups light cream
1/2 cup diced Swiss cheese
1/4 cup diced ham
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
4 eggs
Fry bacon and drain. Crush bacon over the bottom of the pie shell. Sprinkle Swiss cheese and ham over bacon in pie shell. Place cream, spices and eggs in blender container; cover and run on Speed 7 (or high) until thoroughly mixed. Pour over bacon, cheese and ham in pie shell. Bake at 350 degrees for about 30 minutes or until top is golden brown and mixture is set. Serve warm. Recipe makes 6 servings.

CREPE SUZETTE
3 eggs
Pinch of salt
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/4 cups milk
1 cup flour
2 tablespoons butter
Place eggs, salt, sugar and vanilla in blender container; cover and run on speed 1 (or low). Add milk slowly while on low speed. Add flour and blend on speed 1 (or low). Melt butter in crepe pan and add slowly to mixture while running on speed 1 (or low). Between each crepe butter crepe pan lightly. Tip pan and slowly pour in crepe batter, just to coat bottom of pan (about 2 tablespoons). Rotate pan to completely cover bottom; cook on medium heat until bottom side is brown. Carefully turn crepe with spatula (or loosen part and turn by hand) and brown other side. Cook one pancake at a time. Pan must be kept hot.

SUZETTE BUTTER
2 oranges
2 strips lemon peel
2 1/2 cup sugar
2 1/2 cup butter, room temperature
4 tablespoons orange Curacao liqueur
Brandy
Remove orange portion of peeling with vegetable peeler. set aside. Cut oranges in half and squeeze juice (1/2 cup). Place orange juice, orange and lemon peeling in blender container; cover and run on speed 3 (or low) until peeling is chopped.

Add sugar, butter and orange Curacao liqueur. Cover and blend until mixed, on speed 6 (or high). Spoon about 1/2 cup of Suzette Butter into a chafing dish Rechaud or shallow skillet to melt.

Heat one crepe at a time in sauce; turn on both sides. (Place crepe with second side cooked down so first side cooked is on the top. This provides better color when folded.) Fold crepe into quarters with a fork and spoon, add more sauce as needed. Set folded crepes around side of pan with all folded corners facing the same direction.

When ready to serve, spoon two tablespoons Brandy and two tablespoons orange liqueur over 12 crepes. Immediately touch with flame and baste with sauce to keep flame burning. Tip pan if necessary, to obtain sauce. For dramatic effect, flame crepes in front of guests. Serve as a dessert.
NOTE: Batter for crepes may be stored in refrigerator or crepes cooked ahead and either stored under plastic wrap or wrapped for freezing. This sauce recipe is not sufficient for the entire crepe batter.

Stretch Salad
To stretch that leftover potato salad, you may add cooked green peas.

MIYWW Plans Contest For Teens in November

"Make It Yourself with Wool" (MIYWW) begins its 12th year, Brown, Door, Kewaunee, Menominee, Oconto, Outagamie and Shawano Counties. Those between 10 and 13 are already completing plans for District Days in November. There are 12 MIYWW districts covering the state.

The events will include garment judging, luncheons and a fashion show. Self-improvement instruction and modeling lessons will be important features of the days.

The program is open to all girls between 10 and 21. The participant need not have had special sewing or classroom instruction to enter. An entry must buy fabric which is at least 95 per cent wool, complete; a form, mail it to a district chairman, will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Wohlers and Miss Beverly Van Duerzen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarke.

are allowed to construct suits, coats or dresses. Seniors, 17 to 21 years, may enter the same garments listed for juniors.

This official education program of the American Wool Council was designed expressly for the sewing teen-age girl. Youngsters in ready-to-wear clothing are never allowed on stage at district fashion shows. The program is also banned to boys, although there are a number of male applicants each year.

Recipes for Fresh Peaches in Season

mixture over peaches; dot with one-third of butter. Repeat with another layer of peaches, sugar, butter. Spread pineapple over top of peaches; arrange cherries on top. Sprinkle remaining third of brown sugar over pineapple. Dot with rest of butter. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Serve warm. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

PEACHES WITH COCONUT CREAM

1 cup whipping cream
3 teaspoons sugar
4 ounces shredded coconut

Gradually add sugar to cream, whipping until stiff. Fold in half of coconut and almond extract. Put one-third cup mixture into each of six sherbet glasses. Add fresh peaches. Sprinkle rest of coconut over top. Recipe makes six servings.

OLD-FASHIONED PEACH PIE

Pastry for 9-inch double-crust pie
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
10 fresh peaches, peeled and halved
2 tablespoons butter
1 to 2 tablespoons milk

Preheat oven to 450 degrees. Roll out half of pastry for bottom crust. Place in 9-inch pie pan and trim edges. In separate bowl, mix together flour, sugar and salt. Place peaches, cut side down, in single layer in pie pan. As each layer is completed, sprinkle with sugar mixture (about one-third at a time). Pile peaches high and dot the top with butter.

Roll out dough for top crust. Place on top of peaches, seal crust and flute edges. Brush top with milk. Cut vent slit in top. Bake 15 minutes in 450 degree oven; reduce oven temperature to 375 degrees and bake about 45 minutes longer. Serve warm or cooled. Recipe makes eight servings.

BASIC PIE CRUST

2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup shortening
3/4 cup and 1 tablespoon ice water

Sift flour and salt together. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives. Sprinkle with water. Gently mix with fork until all flour is moistened. Press dough into ball. Let dough "rest" for 15 minutes before rolling out.

PEACH-NUT BREAD

2 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup brown sugar
3/4 cup coarsely chopped pecans
1 1/4 cups coarsely chopped peaches
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons liquid (or melted) shortening

Grease and flour a 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt into a large bowl. Add brown sugar and nuts. Mix well together chopped peaches (pieces about the size of a whole almond), beaten egg, milk and shortening. Pour wet ingredients into dry ingredients, and stir only enough to barely combine. Pour batter into greased and floured loaf pan and bake approximately one hour, or until toothpick inserted into top comes out clean. Remove bread from oven and allow to cool 10 minutes before removing it from pan and placing on cooling rack. Allow to cool at least an hour before slicing.

FRESH PEACH COBBLER

2 pounds fresh peaches, peeled and sliced (at least 5 cups prepared fruit)

1 1/4 cups water
1 1/4 cups sugar
3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1/4 teaspoon salt

1 1/2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
1/4 cup sugar
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter

First part of recipe: Combine peaches, water, sugar, tapioca, and salt in a saucepan. Let stand five minutes. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat.

Second part of recipe: Mix together flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt. Cut in shortening. Gradually add milk, stirring until soft dough is formed. Knead on heavily floured board until dough can be shaped — about 30 seconds. Roll out to fit top of baking dish. Cut several slits near center of dough.

Pour peach mixture into a greased 9-inch square or 2-quart baking dish. Dot with butter. Place dough on peach mixture, opening slits with a knife to permit escape of steam. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 minutes. Sprinkle confectioners sugar over top and serve cobbler with cream, if desired. Recipe makes eight servings.

Toastmistresses Schedule Guest Night Program

"Becoming a More Interesting Woman" is the theme selected by the program and education committees of Appleton Toastmistress Club for the 1969-70 club year. Women of the Fox Cities who are interested in this personal goal have been invited to a guest night meeting Thursday at the YMCA.

The evening's program will begin at 7 p.m. with a welcome by club president, Mrs. James Nolan. Mrs. Richard Reetz will give the pledge and inspiration; Miss Clarice Stake will discuss the evening's theme, "an interesting woman has enthusiasm." Speeches will be given by Mrs. Edward Monroe, Mrs. Louis Vanevenhoven and Mrs. Leroy Sommers. Timer will be Mrs. Tom Neuman; general evaluator, Miss Anita Kehl. Mrs. Richard Dratz will give the closing.

Members and guests have been invited to attend a Y Auxiliary tasting party in the El Luger Room after the meeting. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Gordon Lathrop, 119 Rankin Court, through today.

Make Him Waste His Aces

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

A sensible opponent will try to get value for his high cards. When he plays an ace, for example, he will try to capture one of your honors. Your object in a certain kind of hand is to make him waste his ace by playing it on low cards.

Opening lead — ♣ 2

West opened the deuce of spades, and you wait until the third round to take your ace. By this time, you are convinced that each opponent started with four spades. You are sure to lose three spades and the ace of clubs, so that you cannot afford to lose any other trick.

You can make your contract if you get three club tricks to add to the three hearts, two diamonds and one spade. This will be easy if each opponent has three clubs, since then dummy's last club will become established. Your problem is to develop three club tricks if the six missing clubs break 4-2.

Good Start

You should start by leading a low club from your hand toward dummy. West plays low and you win with dummy's queen. This is a fortunate start. You would be in trouble if East had the ace of clubs.

Many a player would continue the clubs by returning a low club from the dummy. This play involves giving up the jack to West's ace. Now, you get only two club tricks. Down one.

After winning the first club trick with dummy's queen, return to your hand with a heart and lead the other low club. As it happens, West must play his ace, and now you can play a low club from dummy, saving your high cards. You get club tricks with the king, queen and jack, making your contract.

No-soak Climalene beats pre-soak enzymes in stain removal tests.

Laboratory technicians got the surprise of their careers recently. They tested the stain removal power of widely advertised pre-soak enzymes versus regular detergents, to which 1/4 cup of no-soak Climalene had been added. The most effective cleaner for each type of stain is check-rated below.

The winner in 14 out of 18 cases was Climalene, the original detergent booster. A fact to remember before you do your next laundry.

IMPORTED IRISH TABLEWARE

This is Authentic Irish Colleen Tableware...

Near famed Blarney Castle in old County Cork true artisans still impart their skills to one of Ireland's finest traditions—authentic Irish pottery. For generations they have carried on a tradition of quality and craftsmanship unmatched throughout the world. The Carrigaline potters today continue to create fine Irish pottery. Tough, unusually heavy glazing with oven twice-fired chip-resistant patterns. These pieces far exceed modern-day standards for detergent and dishwasher proofing. Bright-banded woodland gold and brown over snow-white reflect the simple elegance that has contributed so greatly to the growing popularity of Colleen Ware in homes throughout the world.

Husband's Dreams Terrible Nightmares

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is a devoted father and a wonderful husband. For the past several weeks he has been having terrible nightmares. Almost every night he wakes me up and says, "I just dreamed I went berserk and killed everyone in sight." I have asked him repeatedly if he knows any of the people and he says, "No. They are all strangers."

I keep telling him these dreams are good because they help him get the hostility out of husband is a very gentle soul his system. I've told him time and I have never seen any sign and time again that dreams of violence in him. Yet, every mean absolutely nothing and once in awhile we read in the that he should not worry about newspapers about a quiet person who went on a shooting spree and kills several people for no reason whatsoever.

We are a military family and my husband is afraid he might lose his security clearance if he sees a counselor. Please give me your advice. I promise to follow it. — Anonymous Wife.

Dear Wife: Your husband should see his physician. Perhaps a mild sedative will help him through what might well be a transitory period of anxiety. Urge him to go at once.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'll bet hundreds of women felt like killing that rotten kid who told his girl friend he was sterile and then got her pregnant. To my way of thinking he should be arrested. A dirty trick like that is the next thing to rape.

Your theory that the girl is responsible for whatever happens to her and the boy is entitled to whatever he can talk her into (or out of) is plain crazy. Notions like that encourage boys to have their fun without looking back to see how many lives they've ruined. I thought you had a few loose bolts when you confessed in print that you couldn't make Jello. Now I'm sure. Why don't you wake up and smell the coffee?—No Fan of Yours

Dear No Fan: I did indeed say that the girl is responsible for whatever happens to her. But I did not say a boy is entitled to whatever he can talk a girl into — or out of. I said most boys will take whatever they can get. And I stand by both statements.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A while back you printed a letter from a girl who had figured out an easy way to lose weight. She discovered the method herself and wanted to share it with others. She said if a person will simply take one-third his usual helping — enough to satisfy the taste-buds and get sufficient nourishment — and eat slowly he is bound to drop weight. She pointed out that a lot of unnecessary eating is done by fast eaters who shovel in unneeded and unwanted food, just to keep someone company.

You asked your readers to try the system and see if it works. I did and I lost six pounds in three weeks. I have ten more pounds to lose and I'm sure I'll make it. Thank her and thank you! — Grateful Loser

Dear Grateful: You're a winner, not a loser. Congratulations.

Miss Jo Claire Welch, 30, of Houston, Texas, is believed to be the first woman pilot for a scheduled U.S. commercial airline. She was copilot on Air East Airlines' inaugural flight from Houston's Hobby Airport to Austin on Monday. She has more than 2,000 hours of flight time and is a certified instructor. (AP Wirephoto)

Valley Symphony Tryouts Scheduled For Monday Night

The Fox Valley Symphony Orchestra will begin rehearsing for its 1969-70 concert series at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Fine Arts Theater of the Fox Valley Campus of the University of Wisconsin.

Conductor Istvan Jaray has invited all persons interested in trying out for membership in the orchestra to appear for auditions at 6:30 p.m. The orchestra will rehearse regularly on Monday evenings. Concerts will be at 8 p.m. Nov. 2, Feb. 8 and April 26. The annual youth concert is scheduled for 3 p.m. March 14.

Further information about the orchestra or tryouts may be obtained by writing to the Fox Valley Symphony Orchestra at the Fox Valley Campus or by calling the personnel manager, Mrs. W. E. Jane Dunwiddie.

CHILTON — Ideal weather Sunday morning drew a capacity grandstand crowd for the annual horse pulling contest at the Calumet County Fair.

Capturing honors in the heavyweight division was Mar- shall Grass, Blair, with his team weighing 4,600 pounds, the heaviest entered, which pulled 3,100 pounds 27.5 feet.

Maurice Barclay, Seymour, won first in the lightweight division. His team pulled 3,000 pounds 27.5 feet.

Other winners in the heavy- weight division were Dallas Christlieg of Edon, Ohio, 23.1 feet; Russell Larsen, Denmark, 15.7 feet; Louis Skinkis Jr., Manitowoc, 13 feet; and Herb Kalies, Greenleaf, 11.1 feet.

Lightweight winners were Philip Zibell, Fort Atkinson, 20 feet; Paul Davis, Decatur, Ind., 18.7 feet; and Don Skinkis, Brillion, 10.5 feet.

Winner of the horsemanship trophy was Russell Larsen, Denmark, who was cited for displaying outstanding skill in handling his animals. Twenty-two teams competed in the two divisions.

Sunday afternoon grandstand viewers were disappointed when the huge balloon ascension did not take place. According to Herbert Harder, secretary, the act did not appear because of windy weather. However, they were not released from their contract, and Harder said he will take the matter up with the Wisconsin Fair Association Board.

Five Lettermen Return Sophomores Key to Brillion Title Defense

BRILLION — With only five returning lettermen and seven other upperclassmen, the Lions will have to depend on their sophomore candidates as they defend their Little Nine Conference football crown during the upcoming season.

The lettermen are Bob Bergelin, quarterback; Mark Evel, fullback; Bob Behnke, tackle; Dave Enneper, tackle, and Terry Doughty, center. All but Doughty are seniors. Doughty is a junior.

The Allan Coenen-coached Lions will face Hortonville Friday, Sept. 5 in their first game.

Only six juniors and six seniors reported, so sophomores will dominate the team roster.

New London Sets Attendance Mark At Swim Pool

NEW LONDON — Swimming at the municipal pool increased by more than 4,500 swimmers during the summer.

M. John Huppler, pool director, reported 22,699 persons swam during open hours. An additional 8,864 persons attended swimming lessons, for a total attendance of 31,563.

Women's Guild Okays Revised Constitution, Name Change in Dale

DALE — The Women's Guild of Zion United Church of Christ has accepted a revised constitution and a new name — the Christian Guild.

Mrs. Paul Porter and Mrs. Wesley La Fortune were appointed to audit the treasurer's books before the September meeting. Heading the committee appointed to plan the chicken and ham dinner to be held on Sunday, Sept. 28, are Mrs. Louise Zehner, chairman and Mrs. Glen Winkler, assistant chairman.

Merchandise Valued At $150 Taken From New London Marina

NEW LONDON — Approximately $150 in merchandise was taken during a Friday night break-in at Bert's Marina and Service, Riverside Park.

City police said entry to the building was gained by forcing a door between the women's restroom and the marina office. Restrooms are kept open for use of boaters and campers.

Taken were cigarettes, various caliber ammunition, two motor cycle helmets, a case of fishing lures, and cash.

High, Elementary Faculty 18 New Teachers on School Staff at Hilbert

HILBERT — Eighteen new teachers are on the faculty at the public schools, including 11 high school and seven elementary teachers.

New to the high school faculty are Mary Depies, English, and girls' physical education; Peter Eschenbauch, English; Mary Grambsch, German and world history; Dwight Loveland, chemistry and biology; Sharon Millu, business education; Arthur Saralla, business education and social studies; Irvin Synder, agriculture and general science; Jeanine Steffen, English; DeWayne Benedict, industrial arts; James Jacobson, high school principal and head football coach and Jani Wagner, librarian.

Elementary teachers returning are Glen Behrendt, seventh and eighth grades; Mrs. Miriam Lerche, kindergarten and James Larson, speech therapist.

Shiocton Yearbooks To be Given Out at Hop

SHIOCTON — Yearbooks will be distributed by the new editors, Connie and Bonnie Schmidt and Lynn Thompson, from 7:30 to 8 p.m. before the annual record hop Wednesday in the school cafeteria.

The hop will last from 8 to 10:30 p.m.

Hi-Y, Tri-Y Members To Give Supper for Up With People Unit

Saturday Night Buffet Being Planned
For 130 Performers Coming to Appleton

BY JINGO
Jingo's cheering with delight over what's happening with and to the International Up with People cast about to come to town. The 130 young people in the cast don't know it yet, but they are to receive a royal welcome by a group of young people from Appleton.

When the plea was made for board and room for the incom-because they have done yeoman duty at membership dinners for over what's happening with and to the International Up with People cast about to come to town.

Picnic-style Buffet
But the nice thing about it is that these newcomers and the Y leaders have reached out and they are to receive a royal meal Saturday may not be gourmet... we hear it's to be good old American hot dogs, potato salad, cookies, cakes and milk... but it will be hearty.

When the young people met last Friday morning, Italian Christina Zanotti, from Milan, and Karen Bevans, of Baltimore, were ready with a film about their international group. They showed it to the Tri-Y and Hi-Y representatives and it was a sort of "veni, vidi vici" deal with everyone coming through friends.

It's said that Saturday night a few of the International cast will be singing for their supper needed), a few leaders of the Appleton Tri-Y and Hi-Y groups it at the party and they'll be doing put their heads together, after friendship.

2 New Emissaries
Two more advance girls have joined Christina and Karen to help them make their various program commitments at service clubs and other organiza- tions. The newest recruits are Nancy Gluck, of New Orleans, and Missy Duncan, of Boston.

As Missy explained it this morning, "We sort of all take turns traveling ahead of the show, so we get the experience of planning and working as well as the fun of performing."

Now, besides the members of Sing Out, Fox Cities working with them, the International Up With People have the young people at the Y. It should be a the YMCA Saturday night, set-sell-out house at the Chapel up buffet tables and serve it to come Saturday and Sunday. At their new friends. Most Tri-Y least, that's what everyone is girls are old hands at this hoping.

ing group (they'll arrive Friday night and 40 homes still are needed), a few leaders of the Appleton Tri-Y and Hi-Y groups it at the party and they'll be doing put their heads together, after friendship.

The result was wonderful. They all became acquainted and started making plans.

What's going to happen is a sort of Teen-Pal get-together Saturday night. It will be a supper party, early because the Up with People group will be singing at 8 p.m. Saturday at the first of two concerts at Lawrence Memorial Chapel.

(The second concert is 8 p.m. Sunday.)

About 150 youthful Y mem- bers are going to bring food to people at the Y. It should be a the YMCA Saturday night, set-

Minnie Pearl Pays Visit to Music Hall

BY TV SCOUT
8-9 Channel 5 — The Kraft Music Hall is another Hawaiian-based affair with as unusual a mix of guests as you'll find anywhere. Hawaiian super-star Don Ho stars, introducing sophisticated super-club pianist Peter Nero and the equally sophisticated Nashville belle Minnie Pearl.

7:30-8 Channels 11-9 — Communications is the theme of The King Family, opening with a sprightly "Hello, Goodbye," by the whole group. The King Teenagers sing "The Telephone Hour," which they did in the film version of "Bye, Bye, Birdie," and that one is worth the whole half hour.

6:30-7:30 Channels 11-9 — David Soul may look a bit life awkward in his romantic scene on Here Come the Brides, but it's not because of the love making. The actor was involved in an accident while this episode as a jungle doctor.

6:30-7:30 Channels 2-7 — Real-awful scene with an actual pain in the neck.

6:30-8 Channel 5 — The Virginian is more mystery than action tonight, with Judy Lang playing a girl found unconscious from an apparent fall off her horse.

7:30-8 Channels 2-7 — Bob Denver looks more like May-ard G. Krebs than he does like Hei-Rufus on The Good Guys. He plays a young doctor who wants to remain in Africa and serve as a diner and blames his buddy for it.

Big Sid, the Elephant and little Darlene Williams, are good friends and they both belong to the Clyde Beatty-Cole Brothers Circus family that's coming to Appleton Sept. 9. Darlene is the daughter of elephant trainer Rex Williams and circus star Ava Williams.

Williams' herd of performing elephants are one of the highlights of the shows being sponsored by the Appleton Y's Men's Club. Performances will be at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. at the circus grounds on West College Avenue extension Tuesday, Sept. 9.

Cheers! Here's the Frostail by Happy Hour

It's a better kind of cocktail. Give it a shake!

1. Now you can make the Frostail—a better kind of cocktail. Happy Hour announces four new drink mixes so complete they even make their own ice. Just freeze the packet, squeeze it, add liquor and make perfect-tasting Frostails every time.
2. Perfect-Tasting? Every time. Frostails have such natural fruit flavor that you'll call the Sour superb, the Daiquiri delicious, the Gimlet great, and the Mai-Tai magnificent.
3. Happy Hour Whiskey Sours come with a high, light, long-lasting head for that perfect professional look. And after all, where would a Whiskey Sour be without a head?
4. And Frostail's full natural fruit flavor doesn't get diluted. There's no ice to add, so there's no watered-down drink.

Rezoning in Kaukauna Given Okay

No Objections to Plans Made for Thelen Estates

KAUKAUNA — The common council Tuesday night approved the rezoning of 10 lots in the first addition to Thelen Estates from Class A to Class B residential as recommended by the planning commission.

No objections to the rezoning were heard at a public meeting prior to the council session. The lots front on the proposed expressway to connect Kaukauna and Appleton on the south side of the city.

A request from Mr. and Mrs. David Pomeroy for permission to subdivide lots on Joyce Street to permit construction of two-family apartments was referred to the planning commission.

the board of education and report back to the council. Haen, who served as board of education president, died of a heart attack recently.

The Electric and Water Utility Commission was authorized to install lights as deemed needed on the extension of Maple Street adjacent to the post office between Main Avenue and Island Street.

City Inspector Harold Loeser was granted permission to attend a Wisconsin Society of Plumbing Inspectors Institute at Wausau Sept. 3-5.

Bob Dylan Planning Concert Tour in U. S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Dylan, the folk singer who has been in virtual hiding from fans since a serious motorcycle accident three years ago, is planning a U.S. concert tour.

Dylan outlined his plans Tuesday upon his return from an appearance at a big weekend pop festival on the Isle of Wight, where he was accompanied by a Canadian group, The Band.

"We're going to put the show together," he said. "The Band will probably be with us. We will have some new groups."

Bra-Less Worker Suing Company For Firing Her

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A woman who says she was fired for refusing to wear a brassiere and for advocating a "bra-less Friday" for 2,200 other girls in the plant has filed a $1.4 million suit against General Dynamics, Inc.

Mrs. Jane M. Andre, a 39-year-old divorcee, formerly was a supervising engineer in General Dynamics' welding department at an annual salary of $18,000.

Her suit, filed in Superior Court Tuesday, charged her reputation and character had been damaged by statements made by General Dynamics regarding her suggestion for a bra-less day.

At the time of her dismissal Aug. 14, Mrs. Andre told newsmen she believed in "functional clothes."

The recent book, "How to Weir (Corinthian Editions survive in New York with New York, $2.95), is an excellent guide for parents who live in or will soon visit New York with their children. Mrs. Weiner is a mother who has made a hobby of exploring every nook and cranny, museum, hobby center, historic site, place of amusement, zoo, sight, restaurant, picnic area and park, bicycle path, or anything else that could conceivably interest kids from earliest years places can be equally interesting to adults.

But Mrs. Weiner's book should concern not only harried New York parents or visitors accompanied by their children. It provides an interesting reference source for the sort of places you can find in virtually any town, including this one. It answers the recurring question: "Where shall we take the children this Saturday or Sunday?"

This book also lists all essential services available to parents. You might track them down in our community and keep a record of their addresses and phone numbers. You never know when you might need to call for an ambulance, your local poison prevention center, or any number of services that exist to aid you in emergencies. The accidents and events that require such help can be especially upsetting when they touch your children.

Such a child and youth entertainment or survival book should exist in every community. If you are interested in helping to start such a publication in our town, send me your suggestions of places you think should be included. Include names, addresses and phone numbers, visiting hours (if any) and all other necessary details. Send all suggestions to Arnold Arnold, Weekend, c-o this newspaper. If I get enough of these, I may be able to get a survival brochure or booklet published to serve as your local weekend, holiday and emergency guide for children. I'll credit you with your suggestions if the brochure is published. It all depends on the sort of response I get from you. You and all other parents will have a handy reference to permanent places of amusement, entertainment, play and recreation, in addition to a complete listing of essential emergency services in the vicinity.

Imagine getting up on Sunday morning and asking your husband, "What shall we do with the kids this weekend?" and being able to find, at a glance

Wednesday Musicale has announced its officers and program for the 1969-70 season which will open Sept. 24 with a fall luncheon.

None of the four schools who are currently preparing for their final football season in the Fox River Valley Conference is favored to win the title, but they figure to have a great deal to say about who eventually prevails.

So says the Fox Valley Sportswriters Association, which has selected Fond du Lac as the team to beat in the 1969 race, that starts this weekend.

Appleton East, Appleton West, Neenah and Oshkosh are the schools splitting away from the FRVC after this season. They will join Mid-Eastern members Kaukauna, Kimberly and Menasha in forming the Fox Valley Association for the 1970 campaign.

Oshkosh, the defending conference champion and the state's No. 1-ranked team in 1968, is given the best chance to spoil Fondy's title dreams. Fond du Lac was ranked first on five of the seven writers' ballots, with Oshkosh claiming the other two first places. In all Fondy totaled nine points (one for first, two for second, etc.) and Oshkosh 16.

For Fourth Place

Neenah, too, is expected to finish well up in the 12-team league. The Rockets accumulated 28 points — good for fourth place behind Manitowish's 24. (Manty was ranked as high as second on three ballots, while the Rockets' highest pick was for third place.)

AHS-W and AHS-E are picked for finished in the middle of the second division. The Terrors are ranked ninth, with 59 points; while the Patriots are 10th, with 70.

Selected to round out the first division, behind Neenah, are Green Bay West, 32; and Sheboygan North, 44. Ranked ahead of AHS-W in the second division, are Green Bay East, 48; and Green Bay Preble, 58.

Picked for the bottom spots are Sheboygan South, 11th (with 74 points), and Green Bay Southwest, a unanimous 12th (84).

The only new coaches in the circuit are AHS-W's Paul Engen, AHS-E's Del Prust and Southwest's Pete Hubin. Ron Nieman returns to the Sheboygan North Helm after a year's absence to pursue advanced studies.

Team-by-team prospects:

FOND DU LAC — The Cards, who had 7-1 records in each of the last two seasons, are a good bet to go all the way this year. Coach Jim Johnson has 12 players, two of whom (Bill Olson and Greg Schaefer) are sidelined with injuries. Active lettermen are backs Brian Harney, Jerry Kosterman, Rick Koeck, and Benito DeLeon; and linemen Steve Schwark, Bill Jones, Dan Adams, Jake DeNell, Mike Becker, Paul Mumm. The 185-pound Kosterman, who gained 127 yards in only 14 carries last year, is counted upon to be a better than adequate replacement for the now-graduated James Bond, and is currently preparing for the FRVC in defense last season. It could be even better in this department this year, according to say about who eventually prevails.

OSHKOSH — Seven lettermen return to Coach Harold Schurmerth from last year's unbeaten team. They are backs Win Barnes, Rich Volkman, Mike Turn to Page 2, Col. 1

Cubs Hike Lead to 5 Games by Taking Pair From Redlegs

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took 78 days, but Paul Popovich's only homer of the season finally caught up with the Cincinnati Reds.

On June 15 in the second game of a doubleheader, Popovich sparked a three-run third inning and, with Popovich singling home another run, the Chicago Cubs built up a 5-4 lead over the Reds before the game was suspended after seven innings.

Tuesday night, the two clubs resumed the game in Cincinnati, and when it was over it was still 5-4 Chicago.

Then the Cubs went out and pounded the Reds 8-2 in the regularly-scheduled game and built their lead in the National League East to five games over the New York Mets, who beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4.

Fall 1½ behind

The twin defeats left the Reds 1½ games behind idle, first-place San Francisco and a half game back of Los Angeles in the NL West.

Houston nipped St. Louis 7-6 in 11 innings and Philadelphia edged San Diego 2-0 in the only other scheduled National League action.

Oscar Gamble, Glenn Beckert and Don Kessinger keyed Chicago's second victory—Ferguson Jenkins' 19th against 11 defeats—over Cincinnati. Gamble singled in a run and tripled in two more, Beckert produced two more with a pair of singles and Kessinger drove in two with his fourth homer and a double.

Broke Record

Los Angeles' Willie Davis broke the Dodger record for a hitting streak set by Zack Wheat and became the first in the majors to hit in 30 straight since Stan Musial in 1950. But he struck out with two out and men on first and third in the ninth after the Dodgers had scored three times to make it 5-4.

Davis kept his streak alive by doubling in the sixth. He then scored the first Los Angeles run.

New York built up its five-run lead when Donn Clendenon hit his 10th and 11th homers, Ron Swoboda cracked a two-run dou-

Grid Rules Parley Slates at AHS-E

A football rules interpretation meeting will be sponsored by the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association at Appleton East at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

All coaches, officials and interested fans are invited to attend.

Redskin Tackle On Injured List

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins placed Joe Rutgens, their veteran standout at defensive tackle, on the injured list Tuesday.

The move made room on the squad for defensive end Leo Carroll, acquired from Green Bay in a weekend trade.

There Was No Dodging this tag by the New York Mets' second baseman Ken Boswell as the Los Angeles Dodgers' Ted Sizemore slid in trying to steal in third.

3-Back Offense?

Bengtson Says Packers Will Try Anderson at Flanker

GREEN BAY (AP) — Donny Anderson, wide receiver, Texas Tech, 6-3, 220.

That's what's been penciled in on the Packer roster.

Green Bay Coach Phil Bengtson announced the move Tuesday and also said offensive line coach Forrest Gregg has switched his baseball cap for one of those Green and Gold helmets.

"We want to be prepared for any emergency," Bengtson explained. "Now's the time to do it, not when the regular season starts."

"We need some more experience at flanker," Bengtson said, explaining Anderson's switch. "I've always marveled at Donny's hands and what he can do after catching the ball. Then, too, it would give us a chance of using a three back offense."

Green Bay's only veteran wide receivers are Boyd Dowler and Carroll Dale, backed by

Gregg Called 'Rookie' On Return as Player

BY LEE REMMEL
Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — "All the guys were calling me a rookie today," Forrest Gregg chuckled. They kept telling me I was going to have to sing for my supper.

Gregg, the most honored offensive lineman in National Football League history, had just run through his first practice since coming out of retirement Tuesday to augment the Packers' forward wall.

Forrest, openly happy to be back on active duty admitted his return to combat hardly had been a spur of the moment decision.

After looking at the films of the '68 season last winter, coach Bengtson and the other coaches told me they thought I was still capable of playing in the NFL and that they should play this year.

And, after thinking it over, I decided I would like to play another season . . . I knew all

Terror Backers Meet Tonight

The Terror Backers will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the Early American Room, at Appleton West.

New Football Coach Paul Engen will outline plans for the season. A slate of new officers and committees will also be announced. The club invites all friends of AHS-W to the meeting.

Twins Open 6-Game Lead on 5-2 Win

BY MIKE BRYSON

The Baltimore Orioles have been making a mockery of the American League East race for the past two months, and now, all of a sudden, their West Division counterparts are starting to do a dandy imitation.

The Minnesota Twins clubbed Cleveland and hard-luck Luis Tiant 5-2 Tuesday night for their third straight victory, their sixth in seven games and ninth since they widened the Twins' lead to a fat six games over the A's with just a month left in the season.

The Twins have held first place since July 5, but the A's were only two games off the pace only a week ago. However, Oakland has lost six of its last seven games during the Twins string of success.

In other American League activity, Chicago mauled Baltimore and Dave McNally 10-3, their more and Kansas City whipped Detroit 6-ers with a single that extended his hitting streak to 15 games.

Harmon Killebrew produced an earlier run to boost his RBI total to 117.

The Twins, meanwhile, stopped Tony Horton's hitting streak at 19 games.

McNally, who won his first 15 games, suffered his sixth loss in his last eight decisions as the White Sox erupted for nine runs in the sixth inning to top Baltimore for the first time this year in their last meeting of the season.

Chicago paraded 13 men to the plate during the outburst, with Bill Melton and Bobby Knoop each slamming two hits.

Fondy Picked To Win FRVC Football Title

Müller, Bob Petratz, Larry Bowman and Dennis Dahl and lineman Ray Raube. Barnes and Volkman were all-FRVC players last year, and Barnes was also picked on the second all-state unit. Schumert's main pre-season concern is to rebuild a line to go with the strong backfield. He has the largest school in the conference from which to pick candidates.

Houk Given 3-Year Pact

NEW YORK (AP) — You could call it a $200,000 victory for Ralph Houk.

Houk signed a new three-year contract as manager of the once powerful New York Yankees Tuesday night, then the Yankees took the field and shaded the Seattle Pilots 5-4 in 15 innings. Houk signed the new contract, which will run through 1972, as a reported $75,000 per year. Lee unit. MacPhail signed a new three-year contract as executive vice president and general manager backfield. He has the largest school in the conference from which to pick candidates.

MANITOWOC — The Ronn Rubick-coached Ships were 4-4 last season and are regarded as a contender this season because of 14 lettermen. They are line-men Tom Neubert, (230 pounds), Steve Emery, Keith Holschbach, Jeff Roberts, Greg Delsman, Mark Robbins, Dennis Zucchi and Gary Dickert and backs Jack Christiansen, Dave Dorak, Bill Johnson, Jim Pleuss, Berne Staudinger and Ray Madsen Christiansen who was third in FRVC rushing last year. will be the tailback in the "I" formation. Weaknesses, according to Rubick, are in the offensive line and the defensive backfield.

NEENAH — The Rockets, under Coach Ben Meixl, tied Fond du Lac for second place last year and missed out on a share of the title in a narrow, 20-14 loss to GBW. The club has nine returning lettermen, including backs Tim Bigalke, Jim Popp, Pat Hawley, Pete Gagnon and Bill Luebke; and linemen Jim Hoelzel, Gary Zeinert, John Arpin and Jim Hildebrandt. The 240-pound Hoelzel and Bigalke were second-team all-FRVC choices last year, and Luebke was all-M-E in 1967 but was out with an injury last year. The Rockets' interior line is being rebuilt.

GREEN BAY WEST — Coach Jerry Dufek has 10 lettermen back from the team which posted a 5-3 mark. They are backs Bruce Adams, Don Tieman, Terry Fitchett, Bill Mommaerts, Dick Ullman and Dave Peot; and linemen Don Poop, Bruce Nohr, Jeff Brunette and Craig Nedderson. With the Wildcats' running game and defensive unit rated as strong, they could well finish higher than the fifth spot for which they were picked.

SHEBOYGAN NORTH — Nieman's 12 lettermen are led by quarterback Bart Den Boer and Jerry Raeder, a 205-pounder who is being moved from tackle to fullback. Experienced linemen are Greg Jaack, Mark Koepsell, Jerry Jost, Mike Fritsch, Rick Fessler, Mark Schroeder and Tom Dekker. Other lettered backs include Rick Voss, Steve Wehrwein and Paul Bach. The team has a good line, and the offense looks potentially dangerous.

GREEN BAY EAST — The Gene Bray-coached Red Devils could be a darkhorse title threat despite being picked only for seventh. The schedule runs in BGE's favor since games with neither Fond du Lac nor Oshkosh are carded. The 12 lettermen include backs Tom Green, Bob Joepeck, Steve Keuler, Dean Weigand; and linemen Bob DeKeyesser, Mike Harrington, Dennis Herman, Dan Mercier, Dennis Schoenebeck, Steve Schuh, Bruce Steinfeldt and Steve Zegers. Quarterback appears to be the biggest potential weakness.

PREBLE — The Bill Dessart-coached Hornets have 13 lettermen and, potentially, are capable of bettering their 4-4 record of 1968. The experienced linemen are Mike Pirlott, Ken Donarski, Garland Ausloos (260 pounds), Paul Martin and Dan O'Leary. The lettered backs are Mark Blozinski, Mike Dessart, Doug Blegan, Walt Peppler, John Bukoski, Rod Neuville and Ken Neumeier, and Joe Fay. The line could be Preble's biggest problem.

APPLETON WEST — Engen has 16 lettermen, of whom only a half dozen or so saw regular duty last season. The new coach must beef up the offense, which was least productive in the league last year, and improve the defense which was among the most porous in the circuit. The lettermen are Mark Eggert, Jim Jernegan, Don Hietpas, Jeff Day, Pat Wickesberg, Jerry Noack, Mike West, Jim Shappell, George Broussard, Jim Werner, John Echola, Rick Ruppel, George Lowe, Rick Luebke, Dwight Mueller and Mike Wallen.

APPLETON EAST — Prust is trying to rebuild the offensive line to support some promising runners, passers and receivers. He also must shore up a defense which surrendered the second most points in the circuit last year. The nine lettermen are Jeff Mueller, "Skip" Blank, Bob Byrns, Pete Klefth, Dave McArt, Mark Schmidt, Greg Siebers, Bill Graham and Bob Mahlock.

SOUTH — Leaders among Coach Fritz Goettel's eight lettermen are halfback Mark Boll, Life Gave Marciano a Short Count

When news of the death by shooting of Stanley Ketchel reached Wilson Mizner in 1910, his response was swift. "Start the count, he'll get up," he said.

A lot of us today are wishing there were an honest referee in a cornfield in Iowa. We'd never seen Rocco Francis Marchegiano go to more than one knee before. The count never reached three. To get to 10 over The Rock, you'd have to multiply.

Alas! Rocky Marciano, of all people, got a short count from life. The count has reached 11. The Rock has lost his first fight.

"He could fight an airplane," they used to say of Rocky in the better New England gyms. It was the one thing he couldn't fight.

Rocky lived life lately as if it were the 15th round and he was behind on points. Everytime I saw him of late, he was on the dead run. Rocky chased a buck the way he chased Ezzard Charles. It finally caught him with a sucker punch. It must have been a tremendous punch.

As a Flood You could throw a loaded safe at Rocky in his prime and not make him stop coming in. He was as unstoppable as a flood. The night he fought Ezzard Charles, his nose was so split in two, and spurring, he didn't need a doctor, he needed a plumber.

Sixty seconds later, Charles was crumpled on the floor like a mop with a broken handle. Rocky didn't take people out with one punch. That was the trouble. He didn't induce nice clean unconsciousness the way Joe Louis did. Rocky put people in a wheelchair. He paralyzed one poor fellow who tried to mix with him. It is melancholy to consider also that Ezzard Charles, who fought 23 savage rounds with Rocky, is walking around today with the aid of an orthopedic cage.

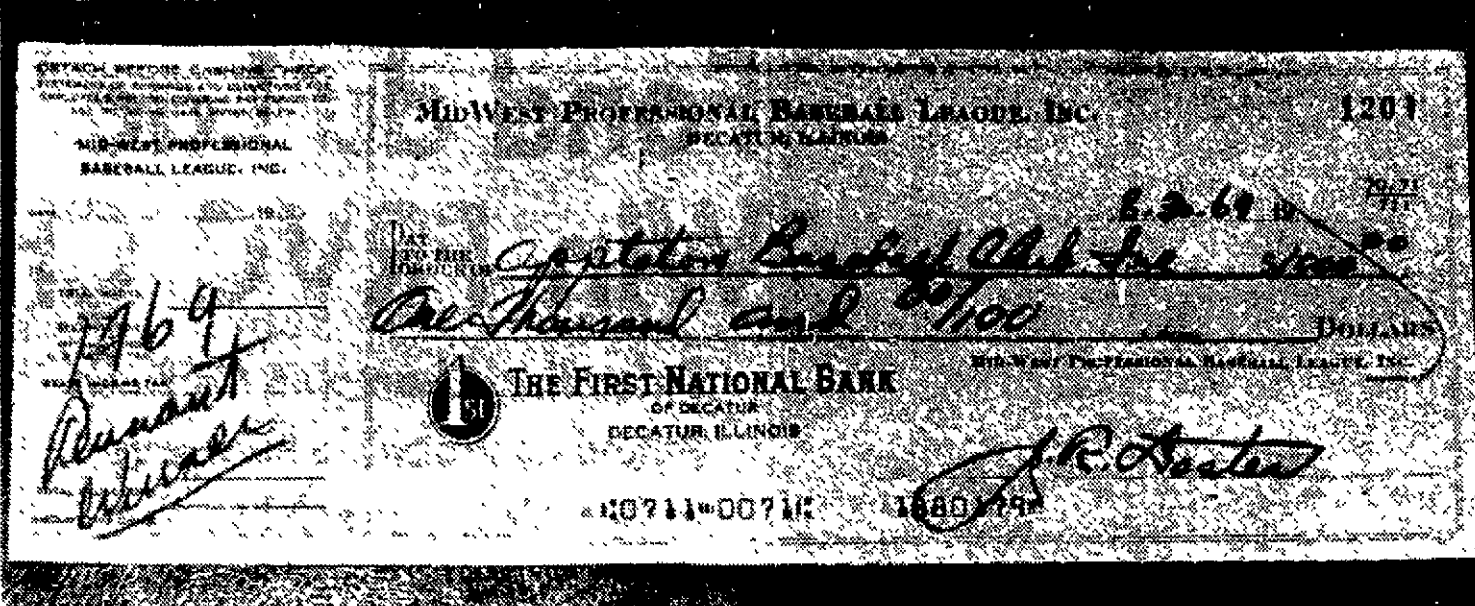

It was not that Rocky meant to cripple people. He just meant to win the fight. He couldn't do it with a dazzling left hook. He didn't have one. He had a club for a left and an axe for a right. He saved people in half.

I always thought, if you could cut Rocky's hand off at the wrist and weigh it, it would weigh twice as much as the ordinary fist. His nickname was part description. His fists were like boulders swung on strings. Velocity punchers, like Joe Louis and Sugar Ray, knocked you out for the same reason a car going 70 m.p.h. will kill you while one going 2 m.p.h. might not even knock you down. When Rocky's fists hit you, the speed didn't matter. It was like cracking nuts with an anvil.

Outside the ring, he was the gentlest athlete I have ever known. There is a new breed of snarling winners today, but Rocky was apologetic. Who can ever forget the concern defensive end Dave Resch and defensive halfback Jack Fiedler. Other lettermen are Tom Renzelmann, Rick Zeinemann, Terry Shermeister, Manning Kilton and Bob Derus.

SOUTHWEST — Hubin, who was an assistant at Antigo, has only four lettermen on hand. They are quarterback Steve Kassner, guard Dan Bastian, tackle Russ Servais and line-backer Marc Schuette. Hubin reportedly plans to accent the passing game, with Kassner, starting his third year as regular QB, in command.

Wohlt to Face Former School

Bulldog '11' to Open Friday

BY ROGER PITT

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEW LONDON — Jack Wohlt, a former standout at Weyauwega High School, will be looking for a good showing from his New London Bulldogs Friday against the Indians.

Wohlt is in his first year at the helm of local football fortunes. He replaces Ken Biegel, who etched a 4-3-1 record last year in his only season as head coach.

Quiet anticipation, confidence, and hard work have marked New London practices to date.

Wohlt, Russell Wirsberger, and Bill Reifsteck form the varsity coaching staff.

The line is small in size but quite agile.

"It looks like I've got my work out getting the backfield to match up with the line," Wohlt said.

"We'll be small, but should be able to out-quick the opposition," Wohlt said, expressing the philosophy of getting your links in before the opponent.

Twelve letter winners, including four outstanding returners from last year's team and the starting quarterback at season's

Peter Meiklejohn, 5-9 and 150 pounds, will be arching his left hand aerials against as quarterback. He will be backed up by Terry Wing and Steve Sanders.

Other lettermen are Joel Kleinbrook, 190, half back; Tim Murphy, 168, guard; Glenn Krautkramer, 145, guard; Jan Brehmer, 163, guard; and Bob McIlraith, 6-1, and Larry Markman, 6-0, at ends. Wayne Ackman, a transfer from South-

Dakota, gives the Bulldogs another letterman.

fuls are Todd Hanson, Dan Barrington and Mike Baehman.

John Sanders, 5-7 and 180, at Mark Marasch and Bob Koplein

9-Run Frame Helps Chisox Down Orioles

Boog Powell homered for the Orioles, his 35th of the year.

Joe Joy and rookie Lou Piniella each had a pair of RBIs as Kansas City handed World Series hero Mickey Lolich his eighth loss in 25 decisions.

Consecutive Homers

Tom Tresh and Jim Northrup hit consecutive homers off winner Roger Nelson in the fourth.

Jerry Kenney's RBI single in the 15th gave the Yankees victory over Seattle, after an unusual obstruction play kept the New Yorkers alive in the 14th inning.

Pilot pinch-hitter Merritt Raftery had lashed an RBI single with two out in the 14th inning to give Seattle a 4-3 lead. But, in the bottom of the inning, Horace Clarke singled, stole second and moved to third on a groundout.

When Roy White smacked an infield grounder, Clarke was trapped in a run down between third and the plate. Clarke eventually was caught but was declared safe and allowed to score when third base umpire Larry Barnett ruled that pitcher Gene Brabender had obstructed Clark's path.

His First Homer

Danny Walton, a minor leaguer obtained from Houston in the Tommy Davis trade, hit his first major league homer to give the Pilots a 3-2 lead in the ninth, but Clarke's run-scoring single in the bottom of the inning sent the game into extra innings.

Bobby Murcer hit his 22nd homer for the Yanks in the sixth, a solo blast.

Jim Hanman pitched a three-hitter in going the route for the first time this season and Frank Howard, No. 43, and Lee Maye, No. 8, backed him with solo homers as the Senators won the opener.

Ken McMullen knocked in two runs with a single and scored the other in leading Washington to victory in the nightcap, called after California batted in the sixth because of rain.

Start of Winning Streak, Packers' Adderley Predicts

Post-Crescent News Service

"That," Herb Adderley said with conviction, "is the start of a winning streak for us."

His subject, it goes without saying, was the Packers' second pre-season success of the year, a disposition of the previously unbeaten Cleveland Browns which ended a two game losing streak and evened the Pack's Grapefruit League record at 2-2.

The catlike corner back was the only one to put it into those words, but there can be little doubt that he summed up the sentiments of his colleagues, who appeared similarly confident they have coalesced as a team after three weeks of experimentation.

Defense Capt. Willie Davis, who seems to have the fountain of youth, termed it, "a big victory for us... it wasn't a sure game for Browns but they must would have liked to win it."

We're still making too many mistakes," Davis noted. "But I'm hoping we're going to eliminate 'em in these exhibition games."

The five time all pro was encouraged, he said, "because guys came in off the bench and did a great job for us, and that's what you've got to have. Our running has to be as good as any in the league."

Even that customary conservative, Bart Starr, admitted this one had been a little special.

"It's been a real kick to play the Browns, and, of course, to beat them, because they are a well coached and extremely well disciplined team," Mr. Quarterback said.

"From an offensive standpoint, they don't give you anything. They're like Dallas — You earn everything you get... They're a class team."

Paying tribute to his pass protection, Starr observed, "they got us a couple of times early but not after that... it was an excellent."

Dazzling Dave Hampton, author of a 33-yard ramble that keyed the Packs' first score, noted, "I just ran out of room along the sidelines — I couldn't go anywhere."

Mike Mercer, now a spectacular 12 for 14 in field goal attempts, reported, "I topped the first one — a 42-yard bullseye. Of course, we didn't have any warm up for this game because of its being the second game of the doubleheader."

But I'll take it anyway," said what you've got to have. Our Mike, who later toed a 21-yarder home, with a grin "As long as they go through."

Bulls, 76ers Complete Deal

Jim Washington, Chet Walker Key Players Involved

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Chicago Bulls may have been counting their blessings Tuesday after completion of the four-player trade with the Philadelphia 76ers, but not everyone involved was quite as enthusiastic.

Somewhat disgruntled by the swap, veteran forward Chet Walker said he was considering a business offer which would base him in New York. "I won't be making as much money as I would make playing basketball, but I see a chance for the future," the 29-year-old Walker said.

Walker was to go to the Chicago Bulls in exchange for Jim Washington according to a trade finalized Tuesday. In addition, the 76ers said they were swapping Shaler Halimon for a player to be named after the 1969-70 National Basketball Association season.

Was Top Pick

Halimon, 6-foot-6, was the 76ers' first draft choice in 1968, but the swing man saw little action during his rookie year. He is now serving with the Army National Guard and will not be able to join the Bulls until mid-January at the earliest.

Although the 76ers will not get their second half of the trade until next season, coach Jack Ramsay said his team does not need anybody this year.

"There's nobody they have who would benefit us this year," Ramsay said.

"There is no forward I would rather have than Jim Washington," he said. "This guy—in the entire league he is the player that I feel can help us most."

Washington, a graduate of Villanova University, was the top pick of the St. Louis Hawks in 1965. He went to the Bulls in the expansion draft the following year.

In Chicago, Bulls coach Dick Motta said Walker would be a forward with the speed needed by the Bulls.

"There have been some reports that Walker, who is settled in Philadelphia, may not want to move to Chicago," he said. "But we've talked with him and I can assure you he will be with the Bulls."

Chiefs' Cornerback Claimed by Broncos

DENVER (AP) — Willie Mitchell, a five-year professional football cornerback with the Kansas City Chiefs, was claimed on waivers Tuesday by the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

If the Kansas City club does not reclaim Mitchell, he would be added to the Denver roster, bringing it to 44. The list must be cut to 40 by Monday.

400-Yard, World's Richest Race Won by Young Colt

RUIDOSO DOWNS. N.M. (second gear and spurred to a half-length lead. As the horses day a big sorrel colt named Easy Jet was perfection.

That's how long it took the colt to win the $600,000 American Futurity, the world's richest horse race at Ruidoso Downs, N.M.

On a track made muddy and slick by three days of steady rain, Easy Jet led the 400 yard All American for quarter horses from start to finish.

He defeated the pre-race favorite Miss Three Wars by a neck.

The win boosted Easy Jet's earnings this year to more than $340,000.

Mean Difference

The race itself was over before most people could settle back in their seats. At 400 yards, little things mean the difference between winning and losing.

The first horse out of the gate usually wins, but just a simple stumble can drop a horse from first to fifth.

Miss Three Wars came out of the gate even with Easy Jet, but then the big sorrel put in Easy Jet won $159,840, to Miss Three Wars' $75,060. Third place Velox Bar won $35,000 finishing a length behind the winner.

Team	W	L	T
Brillion	7	1	1
Wrightstown	7	1	1
Denmark	1	8	0
Hortonville	6	3	0
Freedom	5	3	1

BY RON WITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

As many as four teams could be in the thick of the fight for the title when the Little Nine Conference football season opens Friday, but last year's co-champions — Brillion and Wrightstown — aren't likely to be among the top contenders.

The Lions and Tigers, who ruled in 1968 with identical 7-1-1 records have only five and four lettermen returning, respectively, and those numbers rank among the lowest totals in the league. Only Freedom, with three, has fewer lettermen back.

Most likely to be in the scramble for the top are Winneconne, which has the most veterans of any team — 17, Reedsville with 11 lettermen, Hortonville with nine lettermen, and Denmark with seven.

Could Prove Spoilers
Hilbert and Shiocton, which have 14 lettermen apiece, could prove spoilers but probably lack the depth needed for a championship Omro, with five lettermen back, should again be in the second division.

In opening games this week end, Hortonville goes to Brillion, Shiocton travels to Denmark, and Hilbert visits Omro for night games Friday Saturday afternoon tilts send Wrightstown to Winneconne and Freedom to Reedsville.
Here is a synopsis of each of the team's prospects:
BRILLION — Graduation

Little 9 Schedule

- Sept. 5: Hortonville at Brillion; Shiocton at Denmark; Hilbert at Omro.
- Sept. 6: Wrightstown at Winneconne; Freedom at Reedsville.
- Sept. 12: Brillion at Omro; Winneconne at Shiocton.
- Sept. 13: Hortonville at Freedom; Denmark at Hilbert; Reedsville at Wrightstown.
- Sept. 19: Omro at Denmark; Freedom at Brillion; Wrightstown at Hortonville.
- Sept. 20: Shiocton at Reedsville; Hilbert at Winneconne.
- Sept. 26: Denmark at Brillion; Hortonville at Shiocton; Winneconne at Freedom.
- Sept. 27: Reedsville at Hilbert; Freedom at Wrightstown.
- Oct. 3: Wrightstown at Brillion; Hilbert at Hortonville.
- Oct. 4: Denmark at Winneconne; Shiocton at Freedom; Omro at Reedsville.
- Oct. 10: Hortonville at Omro; Wrightstown at Shiocton; Reedsville at Denmark.
- Oct. 11: Brillion at Hilbert; Denmark at Hortonville.
- Oct. 17: Shiocton at Brillion; Hilbert at Hortonville.
- Oct. 18: Omro at Freedom; Winneconne at Reedsville; Hilbert at Wrightstown.
- Oct. 24: Hilbert at Shiocton; Reedsville at Brillion; Freedom at Denmark; Wrightstown at Omro.
- Oct. 25: Hortonville at Winneconne.
- Oct. 31: Omro at Shiocton; Reedsville at Hortonville.
- Nov. 1: Winneconne at Freedom; Brillion at Hilbert; Denmark at Wrightstown.

WRIGHTSTOWN — The return of just four lettermen and one full-time starter makes it a rebuilding year for the Tigers and their new coach Roland Kallstrom. The top veteran is 220-pound tackle Chuck Martin, who is joined by end Tom Vanden Heuvel (185), scabbard Pat West (130), and tackle Gary Cropsey (230). The defense looks good, but the offense will be green with freshman and sophomores breaking into the lineup. Most difficult to replace will be do-everything back Tom Ribarchek, who was the conference's leading scorer (138 points) and rusher (1,255 yards in 159 carries) and gained honorable mention all-state.

DENMARK — A strong backfield and an inexperienced line feature the prospects for the Vikings, who are headed by 10-year veteran mentor Gerald Letterman. Senior letterman Joe Kralovetz must take over the quarterback job now that the league's leading passer, John Roberts (58 completions for 1,056 yards), is gone. Other backfield letter winners include Dave Kempfert, Greg Braun, and Nick Metz. If the Tigers go for a passing game, they have an excellent target in end Marty Umentum, who last year led the league in receiving yardage (655) on 29 catches. Another letterman end is Mike Cohen, and tackle Dave Kobes is the top returnee in the line.

HORTONVILLE — Coach Bob Newhouse, in his eighth year as head coach of the Polar Bears, has nine lettermen back from last year's team which won six of nine games. Halfback Jerry Rudloff, second in the league in rushing (591 yards in 125 carries), was the major loss along with quarterback Dick Tennie. Newhouse will be building around linemen Glen Griesbach, Steve Jentz, Dan Kettner, Bruce Learman, Ted Meyer, and Neal Wunderlich plus backs Mark Evers, Fran Van Kamp and Jeff Utke. Utke, a senior, will handle the signal-calling.

FREEDOM — The Irish were dealt a severe blow by graduation, as 17 lettermen left with their diplomas leaving only three monogram winners for this year's squad. Ten-year veteran coach John Van Egeren welcomes back center Glen Tremel (230), tackle Dan Guerts (205), and fullback Bill Evers (175). Sophomores could see considerable action for Freedom, especially halfback Carl Tremel and Tom Braun plus 240-pound tackle Marty Lange.

REEDSVILLE — Third-year coach Joe Giammona has 11 lettermen to work with. The backfield is shaping up nicely with veterans Jeff Barnard at halfback and Bruce Behnke at quarterback returning. The tackle spots should be strong with the likes of Dean Kanter (210) and Howard Krummel (220) on hand. Pat Popp, Jerry Rathack and Tom Braun are other important linemen.

WINNECONNE — A nucleus of 17 lettermen stamps the Wolves a contender. The entire line, quarterback, and a halfback on offense and six of the defensive regulars return to coach Frank Crispigna, in his fifth season. Winneconne was the passingest team in the league in 1968, and the quarterback who helped make it that way — Mike Johnson — is back for another year. End Mike Lee, who was second in league scoring, also returns.

HILBERT — New coach and principal Jim Jacobson inherits 14 lettermen from last season's squad, which won only two games in nine tries. Jacobson has replaced the single wing attack with the power I formation, centering his offense around 4-year lettermen fullback Pat Halbach (6-1, 230). Jeff Schwabenlander will man the quarterback spot after playing end last year. Other regulars back include Steve He-mauer, Gary Halbach, Dave Eichmeier, John Schneider, Dave Fochs and Gary Thiel.

OMRO — Five monogram winners return to second-year mentor Ken Heiner, including two members of the backfield. Key members of the offense should be quarterback Blair Pickard and fullback Bob Wagner (190). Dennis Moon, Jim Ruby, and Dave Bauer are veterans in the offensive line and defensive secondary. Non-lettermen Gary Craig (245) and Marlin Carpenter (195) bolster the line at the tackle spots and halfback Ken Tritt gives a lift to the backfield.

SHIOCTON — Things can only get better for the Chiefs after last year's 0-9 disaster. And things should be better with the presence of 15 letter winners, including nine regulars. Coach Tom Withum, starting his third year, has a big plus in the return of MVP Jim Blom, the Little 9's top receiver in terms of catches (32 for 334 yards), and the team's most improved player Dick Clausen. Among the other regulars back are Dave Gast, Tom Speahr, Bill Clausen, Jeff Gast, Rick Puffe, Wayne Beyer and Bob Kirchner.

Players Call Gregg 'Rookie'

I've been off for two or three weeks for one reason or another. Zeke (fellow coach Zeke Bratkowski) and I have been averaging about 11 miles a week. Four miles is our longest run at one time — we've been doing that on Friday."

Optimistic about the '69 idea of his playing is something Packer attack, Gregg said, "I've been thinking about all think we have the makings of a real fine offensive football in the next couple of weeks, tan team. We have good, young, linemen, fine backs, experienced receivers, and we're strong at quarterback with Bart Starr and Don Horn. If nothing happens, we should have a real good team. Wait and See. Commenting on Gregg's addition, Bengtson noted, "it really is not a return for Forrest as date in the wake of Bob Skoronski's retirement. Skoronski had captained the attacking unit since 1965, sharing responsibilities with Willie Davis, who remains as the defensive cap-

Hollandtown Raiders Win Opener, 22-0

HOLLANDTOWN — The Hollandtown Raiders defeated St. Peter & Paul's, of Green Bay, 22-0, here Saturday in a season-opening grade school football game.

Billy Jansen caught touch-down passes of 66 and 55 yards from Reed Giordana and kicked a 29-yard field goal. Giordana scored the other TD on a 32-yard rollout.

we're going to give him some playing time. If, at the end of that time, we feel he can strengthen the team as a player, he will play. If we feel he can strengthen the team as a coach, he will be exclusively a coach.

If we should decide we want him as a player, he will have some game experience. He's in real good shape. It's more a question of his getting used to the bumps and bruises."

The Packer chieftain made no mention of it, but it is reasonable to assume that Gregg's return to active status was desired as much for his leadership, which should be invaluable to the talented but relatively inexperienced line, as well as for his not inconsiderable physical contributions.

The offensive platoon has been without a formal leader to date in the wake of Bob Skoronski's retirement. Skoronski had captained the attacking unit since 1965, sharing responsibilities with Willie Davis, who remains as the defensive cap-his back, legs, arms, and shoulders when his 1969 foreign import went out of control and overturned several times along County Trunk A, nine miles north of Appleton, about 3:25 a.m. Sunday.

He told police he fell asleep at the wheel. His car was dented, and police took him to Appleton Memorial Hospital.

Three teen-agers were hurt in an accident about 11:45 p.m. Sunday at French Road and County Trunk EE, four miles southwest of Seymour.

Cars involved were driven by Randall S. Lamers, 17, 114 W. McKinley St., Little Chute, and Gordon R. Coonen, 16, 1100 Depot St., Little Chute.

Neck Injuries

Two passengers in the Lamers' car complained of neck injuries. They were Debra Vandell, 15, and Mark Vandenberg, 17, both of Little Chute. Linda Andrews, 15, Little Chute, a passenger in the Coonen auto, also complained of a neck injury.

Police said both cars were southbound on French Road. Lamers had stopped for a stop sign when his car was struck from behind by the Coonen auto. Damage totaled about $350.

Shirley Hill, route 1, Oneida, suffered right arm injuries, plus bumps and bruises when her car struck a parked auto about 10:30 p.m. Saturday on County Trunk E, between Oneida and Freedom.

The woman was taken to St. Mary Hospital, Green Bay, by ambulance. Fred Hill, 30, also by route 1, Oneida, a passenger in her car, suffered head cuts, but was not hospitalized.

Police said the Oneida woman and Mrs. William Nath, co-was eastbound on E when her car struck a parked car owned by Louise A. Niefert, 818 Adams St., Little Chute.

Welfare Mothers protesting aid cuts resulting from the new state budget picketed an appearance by Oshkosh Assemblyman Jack Steinhilber Friday on the WOSH Radio talk show, "Public Opinion." They later questioned Steinhilber about cuts in the aid to families with dependent children program and the difficulty of collecting support payments from ex-husbands. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Philadelphia—quarterback John Huarte; running backs Dan Berry, Larry Conner, Don Shanklin, tight ends Wade Key and Bob Tucker; defensive back Al Kavan; guard Bob Keuchenberg; tackle Jim Anderson.
Pittsburgh—running back Dock Mosley; defensive back Dickie Brown.
Washington—defensive end Jim Norton; defensive backs Aaron Martin, Dennis Hale; guard Don Bandy; wide receiver Bob Shannon.
Detroit—defensive backs Henry Carr, George Hoey; running back Mike Campbell; offensive tackle Ken Boeke; guard Rocky Rasley; tight end Roy Winston.
- American League
Cincinnati—wide receiver Tommie Smith; defensive back John Gullory; linebacker Barry Brown; kicker Mike Clemmons; tight end Bruce Coslet; tackles Bill Kindericks and Jerry Johnson.
Denver—running back Bob Jackson, receiver Herman Lewis; rookies Bruce Weinstein, Mike Tomasini, Jim Paul, Al Pezars.
Miami—wide receiver Jimmy Hines; linebacker Norm McBride; running back Barry Pryor; quarterback Tom Bowtell.
New York—safety Mike D'Amado; linebacker Mike Hall; defensive tackles Karl Henke, Ray Hayes; running back George Nock; guard Gary Roberts.
Boston—offensive tackle Paul Feld house; defensive tackle Richard Lee, defensive back Willie Porter.
Buffalo—defensive backs Jerry Lawson, Henry King.

players cut by NFL New Orleans were defensive end Brian Schweda, wide receiver Dave Szymakowski, guard Ross Gwinn, wide receiver Bob Sherlag and offensive tackle Lou Cordileone.

Veterans of the AFL New York Jets getting the axe were strong safety Mike D'Amado, defensive tackle Karl Henke, and defensive tackle Ray Hayes.

Nine-Year Pro
Marion Rushing, a nine-year pro, running back Rich Stebbins, field goal kicker Wayne Walker and Bob Robertson, receiver, were among those released by the Houston Oilers.

AFL Denver cut running back Bob Jackson, a five-year veteran; NFL Washington released veteran defensive back Aaron Martin, and NFL Atlanta released 1968 starters Jim Burson, a defensive back, and Rick Cash, a defensive end.

Ripp Will Discuss Grid Opener, Season At Athletic Meeting
LITTLE CHUTE — A look at the season opener Saturday and a general prospectus for the campaign will be given by coach Avitus Ripp of St. John High School at the meeting of the St. John Athletic Association at 8 p.m. tonight at the grade school social room.

The Dutchmen entertain rival Kimberly in the opener at 2 p.m. Saturday.

After the business session, there will be lunch and refreshments.

Yesterday's Stars
BATTING—Donn Clendenon, Mets, cracked a pair of solo homers, singled and scored another run in a 5-4 victory over the Dodgers.

Hits 570 to Lead Way in Ladies League
Mary Ann Wideman jolted a 236 game and a 570 series to the St. John Athletic Association in Miss League at the 41 Bowl Tuesday night.

Runnerup in series was Donna Larsen with a 533 count which included a 202 game. Other high scores included Carol Eckes with a 210 game. Millie Rohlf had a 201 and Vicki Lemke smacked a 529 series.

Ethel Van Nuland led the way in the Tuesday Night Ladies League, at Little Chute Recreation, with a 217 and a 552.

The talked-about 10 page spread in Playboy Magazine clearly shows why this film is not for everyone!

"Can Heironymus Merkin ever forget Mercy Humppe and find true happiness?"

The title asks a question, and we, the management, in all fairness, answer a few questions before you decide to see this film.

YES. This is a bold, adult film. The scenes are uncensored. They may shock you.

YES. The language is unabridged. To most, they are not every-day words. To some, they are the only words they live by.

YES. Do not see this film if you are easily offended by bold scenes and language, or have a related hang-up.

YES. ☒ is the rating of this film and if you are under 16, you cannot and will not be admitted to this theatre.

Now that we have answered the questions we felt you might ask, find out for yourself,

Win Stamp Collector's Kit In Today's Puzzle Contest

BY CAPPY DICK

Junior Stamp Collector's Outfits consisting of a big, illustrated stamp album, a packet of 1,000 colorful stamps from around the world, a magnifier, watermark detector, a packet of 200 stamp hinges and a booklet of useful tips for young collectors will be the national grand prize in today's geographical puzzle contest.

Five of these prizes will be awarded, one to each boy or girl whose contest entry is declared by judges to be one of the five neatest and most original correct entries from all the cities where this column is published.

In addition, contestants have a chance to win a local preliminary prize, thus qualifying their entries for consideration as possible grand prize winners. The local prize will be a wood picture-plaque of an Indian chief, ready for coloring with tempera paints, woodcraft pencils or other material. This plaque, four by five inches in size, is suitable for hanging on the wall of your room.

The Indian chief picture-plaques will be awarded for the 5 neatest and most original correct contest entries received from boys and girls of the Fox Cities area.

The puzzle to be solved appears in the picture above. The problem is to discover the names of two South American countries that can be formed of the 11 scrambled letters in the picture. One name has five letters; the other has six.

When you have decided what the two countries are, clip out the picture and paste it on paper. Beneath it print the unscrambled names of the countries, along with your own name, age, address and Zip code.

Decorate the entry in any neat, original way with paints, crayons or cutouts. Finally address it to Cappy Dick's Midweek Stamp Hobby Contest at the Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Winners' names will be announced here and their prizes will be delivered to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Sept. 3 the 246th day of 1969. There are 119 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1783, the Treaty of Paris between the United States and Britain officially ended the Revolutionary War.

On this date:

In 1836, the American warship Vincennes left New York to circle the globe. The warship returned four years later the first to accomplish the feat.

In 1892, Britain assumed a protectorate over the Gilbert Islands in the Central Pacific.

In 1916, in World War I, the Allies turned back the Germans at Verdun, France.

In 1930, some 2,000 lives were lost in a hurricane which struck the Dominican Republic.

In 1943, the Allies invaded the mainland of Italy in World War II.

In 1945, Singapore was returned to British control after a three-year wartime occupation by Japan.

Ten years ago: President Dwight D. Eisenhower conferred with French and Italian leaders in Paris.

Five years ago: Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev announced that he would be willing to visit West Germany.

One year ago: Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said he would not become a fourth-party presidential candidate.

Major Job Appointment To be Made

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon plans to announce an important appointment today and the Western White House made it something of a mystery.

Most of Nixon's top job appointments so far have leaked out or have been widely speculated about in advance.

But the White House seemed to have the lid on firmly this time. All presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler would say about the appointment was that it would not be a successor to Selective Service Director Gen. Lewis B. Hershey.

Ziegler set the stage for the announcement by telling reporters Tuesday the President had a visitor coming in at 11:45 a.m. CDT today and an important appointment would then be announced.

"If I were to tell you who the appointment was with, I would announce it," Ziegler said with a grin.

Busy Schedule

The President had a busy morning schedule in addition to the engagement with the mystery guest.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York was due in from the National Governors Conference in Colorado Springs, Colo., with his initial report to the President on a series of fact-finding visits he made to Latin America.

Ziegler said Rockefeller was not expected to go into a more controversial subject—federal welfare payments. Rockefeller introduced a resolution the governors adopted calling for the federal government to foot the whole bill for state welfare programs.

Nixon had asked Rockefeller to make the Latin American tour to get some firsthand information that might be useful in future policy-making decisions in that area.

Ziegler said he doubted Rockefeller's report would be made public. The trip touched off protest demonstrations in some South American countries and a few of them asked Rockefeller to stay away.

After Rockefeller reports, Nixon convenes with the 26 member Nixon Foundation, a group he named last May to set up a nonprofit corporation for educational and charitable purposes and to establish a Richard Nixon Library and museum. The library probably will be built near Nixon's oceanfront home here.

Now incorporated in California, the trustees were gathering for their first meeting, primarily to select a chairman and launch their operations.

The members include Nixon relatives, close personal friends, top administration officials and businessmen backers.

Age Alone Not a Factor In Happiness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Old folks who live alone are the happiest—provided they are in good health, have incomes of about $4,000 and can see relatives or friends regularly, according to a new study.

Elderly people in poor health and with a low income have low morale and it makes little difference whether they live alone or not, report two psychologists for the Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston.

Psychologists Floyd J. Fowler Jr. and Mary Ellen McCalls, in reporting Tuesday to the American Psychological Association convention, said they were somewhat surprised by several findings in interviews with 11,335 men and women aged 65 and over in the greater Boston area.

Contrary to what they had thought before launching their survey, age itself had no direct relationship to morale—at least as long as the key

Ho Chi Minh's Health Fails, Death Forecast

No Changes Likely—U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials doubt President Ho Chi Minh's departure from the seat of power in Hanoi will bring any quick change in North Vietnam's policy on the war.

The fact Hanoi chose to announce its veteran leader, 79, is gravely ill was taken here as a sign his associates do not expect him to survive. Information available in Washington indicates Ho has been ailing for months and that others actually have been exercising the leadership of North Vietnam.

Thus it generally is believed here that should Ho pass from the scene, the others who have been exercising power will continue for the time being and Hanoi's policy will remain the same on the battlefield and at the Paris peace table.

The U.S. government sees as North Vietnam's goal a Communist takeover of South Vietnam which would place the South under Hanoi's control.

Whether a struggle for power within North Vietnam will ensue is a matter of conjecture among U.S. experts.

Some believe the question of who will become president after Ho already has been worked out during his illness and there will be no immediate succession fight.

Elder Statesman

From the standpoint of outward appearances, 81-year-old Ton Dug Thanh, an elder statesman of the Hanoi leadership group, is believed likely to serve in an interim capacity pending elections for the next president. However, his age appears to rule him out as an active leader in the years ahead.

In general, the men who have been with Ho for years and who still will be in positions of power after his passing are rated as strongly dedicated to the cause of a single Vietnam under their rule.

The death of Ho as their widely known chief will, however, remove the Communists' single most popular personality in Vietnam.

Even in South Vietnam, Ho has been widely respected in the past, particularly by older Vietnamese, for what was deemed to be his patriotic devotion to the country. He was a leader against the French colonialists.

One of Ho Chi Minh's images is that of "Uncle Ho." He made it a practice to be with youngsters and tell stories—whether at home or in other communist countries. Here, he sits cross-legged in Hanoi in 1965 with a group of young people. Ho is believed to be seriously ill and possibly near death. (AP Wirephoto)

Hanoi Says Condition Is Deteriorating

SAIGON (AP) — Hanoi Radio reported today that President Ho Chi Minh's condition is deteriorating and greatest efforts are being made to care for him, American monitors in Saigon reported.

The French-language broadcast was Hanoi's first report that the condition of the 79-year-old father of Vietnamese communism was worsening. Two earlier official announcements said he was in "some-what grave" condition and that his illness was "developing." Officials in Saigon felt that even that much admission meant Ho was near death.

Red China's Hsinhua News Agency in a dispatch from Hanoi said Ho's condition "is somewhat grave" and doctors are doing all they can for him.

"Not Well"

Ho's illness was announced in a communique which said: "Over the past few weeks, President Ho Chi Minh has not been well . . . A collective of professors and medical doctors has been attending him day and night."

Another communique, broadcast four hours later, said Ho's condition was "not stable" and that "his illness is developing and is somewhat grave."

"They would hardly issue such a bulletin unless Ho was already dead or in a coma of some kind," said one official in Saigon.

"An Old Man"

A North Vietnamese official in Paris remarked: "All I can say is what is obvious—the president is an old man."

Experts in Saigon said Ho's death or incapacitation probably would result in an intensified power struggle in North Vietnam but no change in the goal of a unified communist Vietnam. And they said even the jockeying for power might not be evident for some time.

"It will be a dictatorship by the party, not a dictatorship by one man," one expert said. "The Political Bureau and the Central Committee will be the important factors."

The chief contenders for the succession are considered to be the chief of the Communist Party machine, Le Duan, who is listed No. 2 on the Politburo; Truong Chinh, No. 3 and the party's most vocal ideologist; Premier Phan Van Dong, No. 4, and Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the defense minister, architect of the French defeat and the director of the war against the United States and the Saigon government.

Radio Bulletin

Le Duan is considered pro-Moscow, Truong Chinh pro-Peking.

A Japanese news agency that has a correspondent in Hanoi said the North Vietnamese first learned of their leader's illness in a radio bulletin broadcast at 4 a.m. The Japanese agency, Nippon Denpa Hoso, said people gathered in the streets despite the early hour to talk about the news. Tuesday was North Vietnam's independence day, and the Japanese agency said an independence day program scheduled for Tuesday night was canceled without explanation, apparently because of Ho's condition.

Known as "Uncle Ho" to the millions of Vietnamese who considered him the father of Vietnamese independence, Ho Chi Minh was the son of an impoverished minor government official who was fired by the

Kennedy Lawyers Succeed In Winning Postponement Of Inquest on Fatal Accident

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — District Court Judge James A. Boyle officially postponed this morning the inquest that was to have begun before him today into the death of Miss Mary Jo Kopechne.

The postponement was ordered in Boston Tuesday by Associate Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Massachusetts Supreme Court on a motion by lawyers for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, in whose car Miss Kopechne died.

The justice also warned officials connected with the case against making public statements about it.

Relates "Orders"

"I have been ordered not to proceed any further with the inquest in re Mary Jo Kopechne, which was set for hearing this morning," the soft-spoken 62-year-old Boyle said.

"Therefore, this inquest is adjourned . . ." Boyle added. "Court adjourned."

Meanwhile in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., a Pennsylvania judge rejected today a motion by the parents of Mary Jo Kopechne to dismiss a petition for an autopsy on her body.

In rejecting the motion by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N.J., Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court said he had the authority to order an autopsy.

The Kopechnes had argued that Pennsylvania had no jurisdiction to act on the autopsy request by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass.

Dinis wants the autopsy results for an inquest he plans into the woman's death.

Justice Reardon

Supreme Court into constitutional issues raised by Kennedy counsel. No date was set. Reardon said the court would first study the matter and then proceed when the parties to the case were ready to go ahead.

The full court normally convenes Oct. 1. Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn said it appeared unlikely that there would be any action for at least two weeks. A possible appeal from whatever ruling comes from the full high court could further delay the inquest.

The postponement was sought by Kennedy's attorneys because of rules for the inquest set down by Judge Boyle. The lawyers argued Kennedy's constitutional rights would be abridged by Boyle's refusal to permit cross-examination of witnesses.

Miss Kopechne, 28, a former aide to Robert F. Kennedy, was killed in an accident the night of July 18 in which Sen. Kennedy's car went off a bridge and into a tidal pool on Chappaquiddick Island adjacent to Martha's Vineyard.

Drowning Claimed

A medical examiner said she drowned. Kennedy, 37, escaped from the vehicle, pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of the accident and was given a two-month suspended jail sentence.

The hearing before Justice Reardon Tuesday lasted about 45 minutes. Boston lawyer Edward B. Hanif argued for the postponement. Asst. Atty. Gen. Joseph J. Hurley represented Judge Boyle.

Reardon ordered Judge Boyle to deliver to the Supreme Court documents dealing with the case and said an order would be issued "forthwith" enjoining him from proceeding until the high court heard arguments.

Reardon, who headed the American Bar Association committee that produced the controversial "Free Press and Fair

Search Is Pressed For Ex-Bishop Pike

JERUSALEM (AP) — Pike's mother, Mrs. Pearl Chambers, said her son and daughter-in-law went to the Holy Land to study the origins of Christianity and the Dead Sea Scrolls for a book he was writing. Pike told friends that he hoped to find documents or ancient records that would provide more information on Christ.

The battle is taking place in heavy jungle near the Cambodian border about 85 miles northeast of Saigon.

The fighting was touched off Sunday when a battalion of strike force troops uncovered an enemy base camp. The South Vietnamese were surrounded quickly, attacked from all sides and forced to retreat. They have been unable to move forward since.

Reaches Safety

After walking all night, Mrs. Pike met some highway guards early Tuesday and they took her to Bethlehem.

The police immediately began a search using helicopters and planes. Pike's car was found Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Pike was under a doctor's care at their hotel room in Jerusalem.

B52s Again Smash Reds

SAIGON (AP) — Massive 1,000 South Vietnamese troops committed to the battle.

American B52 strikes today hit North Vietnamese forces near the provincial capital of Song Be for the fourth day.

South Vietnamese casualties were climbing, with at least 30 troops killed, 138 wounded and 17 missing, as well as four American Green Beret advisers wounded.

The enemy resistance was so strong that more than 1,000 troops from the Green Berets' mobile strike force of hired tribesmen have been forced into retreat. Only six enemy soldiers were known dead.

The battle is taking place in heavy jungle near the Cambodian border about 85 miles northeast of Saigon.

Find Enemy Camp

The fighting was touched off Sunday when a battalion of strike force troops uncovered an enemy base camp. The South Vietnamese were surrounded quickly, attacked from all sides and forced to retreat. They have been unable to move forward since.

American intelligence officers thought at first the camp was the headquarters of an enemy regiment. But now there is speculation that it may be a division field headquarters.

During the night more than 20 B52s pounded the enemy camp with more than 500 tons of bombs. Some strikes were only three miles from the Cambodian border.

A U.S. air cavalry battalion of 400 men which had reinforced the South Vietnamese Tuesday was pulled out today after another 400 strike force troops were flown in. But one battered battalion of the strike force also was pulled out, leaving 800 to Elsewhere—American air cavalry men probing the jungles of the enemy's War Zone C, 65 miles northwest of Saigon, ran into a barrage of machine-gun and rifle fire Tuesday for the fourth successive day. In a 10-minute fight, 12 enemy and two Americans were reported killed.

In the coastal lowlands south of Da Nang, S.S. troops attacking with tanks and armored personnel carriers killed enemy soldiers near Duc Kho, 105 miles southeast of Da Nang. The Americans suffered four killed and six wounded.

U.S. Marine reconnaissance teams reported sighting more than 100 enemy soldiers in three groups on the move 24 miles southwest of Da Nang. Marine artillery blasted them, and at least 30 were reported killed.

Legislator Seeks Near-Total Ban on Cigarettes

BOSTON (AP) — A bill that would outlaw the manufacture, distribution and sale of cigarettes in Massachusetts has been filed with the state legislature.

The sponsor is Democratic State Rep. James R. Nolen of Ware, who claims that cigarettes now are "much easier to buy than a loaf of bread," even though they've been linked with heart disease and cancer. "Cigarettes," Nolen said in unveiling the measure Tuesday, "are the most harmful product to the public health sold today, and yet they are sold in more places and with more convenience than any other product. "We can't expect people to give up something that is always right in front of them," he added. The bill stops short of making smoking itself illegal. As for the financial issue involved—cigarette taxes produce more than $70 million annually in Massachusetts—Nolen said he thinks the end result would be worth it. "All of the benefits—even in dollars and cents—would be made up in the improvement in the health of the public," Nolen said.

What does Nolen think of the bill's chances? "I'm not overconfident about it," he said. He noted that a measure filed with the last legislative session that would have enabled persons to sue cigarette manufacturers for health problems believed caused by smoking was killed without ever leaving committee.

Picketing Is Hard Work for 13-year-old Bryan Webber, so he takes time off from the picket line at Leon Godshaux High School in Reserve, La., to cool his heels. A number of white students at the school are boycotting integrated classes, with both parents and students picketing. (Story on Page A-7)

Choice of Job, School Is Influenced

SAN FRANCISCO — Many things influence a young person's choice of higher education or job, but nearly two-thirds of those interviewed by the University of Wisconsin researchers said that influence comes from "significant others" — people who influence job and college choices most are parents, teachers, friends and guidance counselors, but they may also include older brothers and sisters or ministers.

These influential people can be identified through a testing procedure that is given along with other career and college aptitude tests to high school students. The test was developed by A. O. Haller, Joseph Welfel, and other sociologists at the University of Wisconsin.

In personal interviews, the researchers found out how "significant others" influence a person's choice of education and occupation. The researchers classified education into four categories as occupations. They were (1) educational activity such as "reading, hard mental work, doing assignments;" (2) plan the right educational program or choose the best career, activities, free time, living in such as "improve thinking, broaden your self-develop, other Battery or WISOB test, and (4) non-educational benefits such as "leads to the higher income, lends prestige, helps to get a good job."

Students also were asked to picture themselves in relation to their occupational aspirations.

Welfel said that most people's definitions will fit into one or more of these categories.

Two Complain of Minor Injuries After Accidents

KAUKAUNA — Two persons involved in an accident at Wisconsin Avenue and Desnoyer Streets about 6 p.m. Sunday complained of minor injuries and were advised to see a doctor.

Bonnie L. Squire, 18, 1809 Green Bay Road, complained of a bruised lip and Edward Weber, 61, 145 Arthur St., of a sore neck after the car driven by Weber collided with an auto driven by Miss Squire as she backed into traffic.

William Rhodes, 26, 613 Park St., Combined Locks, was taken to Kaukauna Community Hospital by the city ambulance about 11:10 p.m. Sunday for treatment of undetermined injuries.

There are no fees for the course. All books, supplies, and equipment are furnished to the student at no cost.

Two Injured in Car Accident

LITTLE CHUTE — Two people complained of minor injuries and were advised to see their family doctors following a two-car accident at Wisconsin Avenue and Hayes Street about 3:10 p.m. Friday.

Mrs. Loyla Schmalz, 1013 Lawe St., Kaukauna, complained of a sore side and Marvel Giehart, Riverside Drive, Kaukauna, complained of a laceration. Both were passengers in cars involved.

According to police, Donald Giehart, 60, Riverside Drive, was traveling east on Wisconsin Avenue and Loyla Schmalz, 1013 Lawe St., south on Hayes when the cars collided in the intersection. Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $1,500.

FVTI Will Offer Adult High School Courses

Six courses will be offered in the Adult High School Credit program at the Fox Valley Technical Institute in Appleton this fall.

The courses will be held twice each week at Appleton High School East, for 20 weeks beginning Sept. 29. Students enrolled will receive one credit if they attend all classes and pass the required tests. Registration begins Sept. 15.

Arts Council Chief Named

For $40,000-Per-Year Position

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon today named Nancy Hanks, a New York City expert in arts and museum work, as chairman of the National Council of the Arts.

Her appointment to the $40,000-a-year post came after the Western White House made something of a mystery of it, advising newsmen the day before the President would announce an important appointment this morning. All presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler would say in advance was that it would not be a successor to Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey.

Miss Hanks, 42, a Republican, replaces a prominent New York Democrat, Roger L. Stevens, whose term expired last March.

A native of Miami Beach, Fla., Miss Hanks is now president of the Associated Councils of the Arts, a national nonprofit membership organization concerned with the support and development of the arts in the United States and Canada.

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Duke University who has studied at Oxford University in England, she is a member of the Council of the American Association of Museums and a trustee of the Museum of Primitive Art in New York City.

Since 1956, she has served as executive secretary of the Special Studies Project of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund on the Performing Arts.

As a result of this study, "The Performing Arts: Problems and Prospects" was published by the Rockefeller Fund in 1965, providing the first comprehensive study of the performing arts in the United States.

Miss Hanks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Hanks, who live now in Fort Worth, Tex.

Busy Schedule
The President had a busy morning schedule in addition to the engagement with the mystery guest.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York was due in from the National Governors Conference in Colorado Springs, Colo., with his initial report to the President on a series of fact-finding visits he made to Latin America.

Ziegler said Rockefeller was not expected to go into a more controversial subject—federal welfare payments. Rockefeller introduced a resolution the governors adopted calling for the federal government to foot the whole bill for state welfare programs.

Nixon had asked Rockefeller to make the Latin American tour to get some firsthand information that might be useful in future policy-making decision in that area.

Ziegler said he doubted Rockefeller's report would be made

Age Alone Not a Factor In Happiness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Old folks who live alone are the happiest—provided they are in good health, have incomes of about $4,000 and can see relatives or friends regularly, according to a new study.

Elderly people in poor health and with a low income have low morale and it makes little difference whether they live alone or not, report two psychologists for the Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston.

Psychologists Floyd J. Fowler Jr. and Mary Ellen McCalls, in reporting Tuesday to the American Psychological Association convention, said they were somewhat surprised by several findings in interviews with 11,335 men and women aged 65 and over in the greater Boston area.

Contrary to what they had thought before launching their survey, age itself had no direct relationship to morale—at least as long as the key

Ho Chi Minh's Health Fails, Death Forecast

No Changes Likely—U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials doubt President Ho Chi Minh's departure from the seat of power in Hanoi will bring any quick change in North Vietnam's policy on the war.

The fact Hanoi chose to announce its veteran leader, 79, is gravely ill was taken here as a sign his associates do not expect him to survive.

Information available in Washington indicates Ho has been ailing for months and that others actually have been exercising the leadership of North Vietnam.

Thus it generally is believed here that should Ho pass from the scene, the others who have been exercising power will continue for the time being and Hanoi's policy will remain the same on the battlefield and at the Paris peace table.

The U.S. government sees as North Vietnam's goal a Communist takeover of South Vietnam which would place the South under Hanoi's control.

Whether a struggle for power within North Vietnam will ensue is a matter of conjecture among U.S. experts.

Some believe the question of who will become president after Ho already has been worked out during his illness and there will be no immediate succession fight.

Elder Statesman

From the standpoint of outward appearances, 81-year-old Ton Dug Thanh, an elder statesman of the Hanoi leadership group, is believed likely to serve in an interim capacity pending elections for the next president. However, his age appears to rule him out as an active leader in the years ahead.

In general, the men who have been with Ho for years and who still will be in positions of power after his passing are rated as strongly dedicated to the cause of a single Vietnam under their rule.

The death of Ho as their widely known chief will, however, remove the Communists' single most popular personality in Vietnam.

Even in South Vietnam, Ho has been widely respected in the past, particularly by older Vietnamese, for what was deemed to be his patriotic devotion to the country. He was a leader against the French colonialists.

One of Ho Chi Minh's images is that of "Uncle Ho." He made it a practice to be with youngsters and tell stories—whether at home or in other communist countries. Here, he sits cross-legged in Hanoi in 1965 with a group of young people. Ho is believed to be seriously ill and possibly near death. (AP Wirephoto)

Hanoi Says Condition Is Deteriorating

SAIGON (AP) — Hanoi Radio reported today that President Ho Chi Minh's condition is deteriorating and greatest efforts are being made to care for him, American monitors in Saigon reported.

The French-language broadcast was Hanoi's first report that the condition of the 79-year-old father of Vietnamese communism was worsening. Two earlier official announcements said he was in "some-what grave" condition and that his illness was "developing." Officials in Saigon felt that even that much admission meant Ho was near death.

Red China's Hsinhua News Agency in a dispatch from Hanoi said Ho's condition "is somewhat grave" and doctors are doing all they can for him.

"Not Well"

Ho's illness was announced in a communique which said: "Over the past few weeks, President Ho Chi Minh has not been well A collective of professors and medical doctors has been attending him day and night."

Another communique, broadcast four hours later, said Ho's condition was "not stable" and that "his illness is developing and is somewhat grave."

"They would hardly issue such a bulletin unless Ho was already dead or in a coma of some kind," said one official in Saigon.

Hanoi did not disclose the nature of the illness, but Ho had a bad case of tuberculosis in the 1940s and reportedly had suffered from heart trouble and possible lung complications for more than two years.

"An Old Man"

A North Vietnamese official in Paris remarked: "All I can say is what is obvious—the president is an old man."

Experts in Saigon said Ho's death or incapacitation probably would result in an intensified power struggle in North Vietnam but no change in the goal of a unified communist Vietnam. And they said even the jockeying for power might not be evident for some time.

"It will be a dictatorship by the party, not a dictatorship by one man," one expert said. "The Political Bureau and the Central Committee will be the important factors."

The chief contenders for the succession are considered to be the chief of the Communist Party machine, Le Duan, who is listed No. 2 on the Politburo; Truong Chinh, No. 3 and the party's most vocal ideologist; Premier Pham Van Dong, No. 4, and Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the defense minister, architect of the French defeat and the director of the war against the United States and the Saigon government.

Radio Bulletin

Le Duan is considered pro-Moscow, Truong Chinh pro-Peking.

A Japanese news agency that has a correspondent in Hanoi said the North Vietnamese first learned of their leader's illness in a radio bulletin broadcast at 4 a.m. The Japanese agency, Nippon Denpa Hoso, said people gathered in the streets despite the early hour to talk about the news. Tuesday was North Vietnam's independence day, and the Japanese agency said an independence day program scheduled for Tuesday night was canceled without explanation, apparently because of Ho's condition.

Known as "Uncle Ho" to the millions of Vietnamese who considered him the father of Vietnamese independence, Ho Chi Minh was the son of an impoverished minor government official who was fired by the

Kennedy Lawyers Succeed In Winning Postponement Of Inquest on Fatal Accident

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — District Court Judge James A. Boyle officially postponed this morning the inquest that was to have begun before him today into the death of Miss Mary Jo Kopecne.

The postponement was ordered in Boston Tuesday by Associate Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Massachusetts Supreme Court on a motion by lawyers for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, in whose car Miss Kopecne died.

The justice also warned officials connected with the case against making public statements about it.

Relates "Orders"

"I have been ordered not to proceed any further with the inquest in re Mary Jo Kopecne," which was set for hearing this morning," the soft-spoken 62-year-old Boyle said.

"Therefore, this inquest is adjourned . . ." Boyle added.

"Court adjourned."

Meanwhile in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., a Pennsylvania judge rejected today a motion by the parents of Mary Jo Kopecne to dismiss a petition for an autopsy on her body.

In rejecting the motion by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopecne of Berkeley Heights, N.J., Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court said he had the authority to order an autopsy.

The Kopecnes had argued that Pennsylvania had no jurisdiction to act on the autopsy request by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass. Dinis wants the autopsy results for an inquest he plans into the woman's death.

Reardon's order called for a hearing by the full seven-justice

Supreme Court into constitutional issues raised by Kennedy counsel. No date was set. Reardon said the court would first study the matter and then proceed when the parties to the case were ready to go ahead.

The full court normally convenes Oct. 1. Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn said it appeared unlikely that there would be any action for at least two weeks. A possible appeal from whatever ruling comes from the full high court could further delay the inquest.

The postponement was sought by Kennedy's attorneys because of rules for the inquest set down by Judge Boyle. The lawyers argued Kennedy's constitutional rights would be abridged by Boyle's refusal to permit cross-examination of witnesses.

The police immediately began a search using helicopters and planes. Pike's car was found Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Pike was under a doctor's care at their hotel room in Jerusalem.

Miss Kopecne, 28, a former aide to Robert F. Kennedy, was killed in an accident the night of July 18 in which Sen. Kennedy's car went off a bridge and into a tidal pool on Chappaquiddick Island adjacent to Martha's Vineyard.

Drowning Claimed

A medical examiner said she drowned. Kennedy, 37, escaped from the vehicle, pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of the accident and was given a two-month suspended jail sentence.

The hearing before Justice Reardon Tuesday lasted about 45 minutes. Boston lawyer Edward B. Hanifan argued for the postponement. Asst. Atty. Gen. Joseph J. Hurley represented Judge Boyle.

Reardon ordered Judge Boyle to deliver to the Supreme Court documents dealing with the case and said an order would be issued "forthwith" enjoining him from proceeding until the high court heard arguments.

Reardon, who headed the American Bar Association committee that produced the controversial "Free Press and Fair

Search Is Pressed For Ex-Bishop Pike

JERUSALEM (AP) — Pike's mother, Mrs. Pearl Chambers, said her son and daughter-in-law went to the Holy Land to study the origins of Christianity and the Dead Sea Scrolls for a book he was writing. Pike told friends that he hoped to find documents or ancient records that would provide more information on Christ.

The battle is taking place in heavy jungle near the Cambodian border about 85 miles northeast of Saigon.

Find Enemy Camp
The fighting was touched off Sunday when a battalion of strike force troops uncovered an enemy base camp. The South Vietnamese were surrounded quickly, attacked from all sides and forced to retreat. They have been unable to move forward since.

American intelligence officers thought at first the camp was the headquarters of an enemy regiment. But now there is speculation that it may be a division field headquarters.

During the night more than 20 B52s pounded the enemy camp with more than 500 tons of bombs. Some strikes were only three miles from the Cambodian border.

A U.S. air cavalry battalion of 400 men which had reinforced the South Vietnamese Tuesday was pulled out today after another 400 strike force troops were flown in. But one battered battalion of the strike force also was pulled out, leaving 800 to the coastal lowlands south of Da Nang, S.S. troops attacking with tanks and armored personnel carriers killed enemy soldiers near Duc Cho, 105 miles southeast of Da Nang. The Americans suffered four killed and six wounded.

U.S. Marine reconnaissance teams reported sighting more than 100 enemy soldiers in three groups on the move 24 miles southwest of Da Nang Marine position.

Artillery blasted them, and at least 30 were reported killed.

Crystal River Flow Is Same As Last Year

State Official Says
Nothing Catastrophic
Happening to Chain

WAUPACA — The flow of the Crystal River, outlet of the Chain O'Lakes, and the lake level at Indian Crossing, are no different than they were last year at this time. The Post-Crescent learned Monday.

"There is nothing to indicate that anything catastrophic is taking place at this time in the quantity and quality of the water in the chain," said Tom Wirth, division of water resources research, Department of National Resources, Madison.

"The U.S. Geological Survey took a reading of the flow of the Crystal River on Aug. 28, as well as a reading of the lake level at Indian Crossing," Wirth added.

This report was requested following an expression of concern by a number of residents on the Chain O' Lakes, who spoke about the low level of water and its murky appearance at the annual meeting of the Chain O' Lakes, Property Owners Association on Aug. 23.

The abundant rains this spring and the lack of rainfall during August, have changed lake level and flow this summer. The U.S. Geological Survey also indicates that the ground water flow to the chain is affected this year, as it has been in years past, by irrigation during the summer months.

Waupaca Back To Normal Hours At Courthouse

WAUPACA — The county courthouse and courthouse annex office hours here returned to the regular schedule Tuesday.

Offices are open from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Employees petitioned the county board last Thursday to extend the summer hours, 8 a.m. until 4 p.m., throughout the year.

Supv. Woodrow Smith, Clintonville, chairman of the finance committee and vice chairman of the county board, explained that by adopting these shorter hours, a half hour less each working day, the board would be offering a fringe benefit which should be negotiated.

The board voted to refer the matter to the salary committee.

4 Freight Cars Off Tracks at Hilbert

HILBERT — Four freight cars of the Milwaukee Road derailed on a track south of Main Street, here, about midnight Tuesday.

According to officials, the train was switching when the accident occurred.

The cars, which were empty, remained in a tilted position until crews arrived on the scene this morning. The train was traveling between Appleton and Hilbert.

Docks Along Riverside Park were lined with boats during the Labor Day weekend when several hundred boat club members from throughout the state met at New London for the 10th annual "Labor Day Weekend" sponsored by the New London Boat Club. (Post-Crescent Photo)

A. W. Ponath Must Retire Corporation Council to be Sought

Outagamie County supervisors agreed Tuesday to begin the search for a new corporation council.

Although it was known a replacement would be needed since A. W. Ponath, the present council, will be retired under county retirement age policy, supervisors had taken no specific action on a successor. He retires Dec. 31, 1969.

The move came Tuesday in the county board executive committee which voted unanimously to advertise for candidates.

Action Needed

Supv. John Schreiter, Appleton, pushed for the action.

"Here it is Sept. 2," he said. "When are we going to get this position filled?"

Schreiter, also a member of the courts, justice and enforcement committee, noted that if the assistant district attorney, Thomas Cane, is the one hired, it would be unfair to make the district attorney find a replacement late in the year.

Schreiter was critical of the county for delaying action on the matter. The county board voted earlier this year to adhere to its rule that all employees reaching the age of 65 must retire.

Ponath, who is 77, and several others will be affected.

Cane's name came up at a recent courts committee meeting when Dist. Atty. James Long said his assistant was being considered for the post.

County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler, Appleton, said this morning that he had watched Cane in court and had asked him if he would be interested in the corporation counsel post. He said that he was, Esler added.

It was revealed that Kaukauna City Atty. Donald Green and Appleton City Atty. David Geenen also had indicated interest in the post. None of the three has submitted official applications but all are expected to after the county's official advertisement.

Esler said that he had contacted about 10 attorneys in the Fox Cities about the post, but all had said they plan to stay with their law practices. They said the county probably would have to pay "in the neighborhood of $14,000 to $16,000" to get a man for the post, Esler added.

Among the county requirements are the attorney have five years' experience.

The executive committee's motion will be referred to the personnel committee for consideration and handling the details of advertising. The executive committee included in its motion that advertising should be in the state bar association publication, The Post-Crescent and one Milwaukee paper.

Money for Assistant

Schreiter also criticized the inclusion of $5,000 in the 1969 budget for an assistant for Ponath. The money was never used and the assistant never hired, he said, asking what would be done with it.

D. R. Campbell Elected Waupaca Alderman

WAUPACA — Duncan R. Campbell, former 3rd Ward alderman, was elected Tuesday before bonding $6 million for the proposed institute.

No Action

No action was taken.

A public hearing will be at 7 p.m. Sept. 16 in council chambers to consider the installation of a sanitary sewer on Wesley Street.

The council approved a preliminary resolution to extend sewer and water mains to the Riverview Terrace subdivision south of Royall Street and east of Churchill Street.

Mains and laterals will be installed to 38 home sites in the subdivision, with the work to be done by the city and the cost to be born by developers of the subdivision.

A special meeting will be at 7 p.m., Sept. 23 to open bids on the project for constructing a one-mile water main loop to the Waupaca Foundry Ind. No. 2 plant.

The estimated cost is $55,000. At present there are no funds to pay for the project. Water will be furnished from well No. 4 and is to be constructed and ready for use by Nov. 1 of this year.

The present annual cost to the city for VTE-12 operating expenses is $23,000. If the new technical institute is bonded, the total annual cost to the city for its share of the vocational district expense will be $27,500. There was considerable discussion on a letter from Appleton Mayor George Buckley, Supv. Patrick Heenan, Appleton, suggested the new man should be hired before the end of the year so Ponath could assist him in the carryover process. "A little knowledge of the basics of the problems certainly should be helpful," he said.

Esler said he did not think it was necessary for the overlap. It was noted Ponath took over the position some years ago without the transition period.

County Tables Petition on Jail Parking

Officials Fear Action Would Hinder Joint Safety Building Talks

Outagamie County officials declined to take action on a petition Tuesday which they felt could affect joint safety building discussions between Appleton and the county.

The petition, opposing three parcels east of the courthouse for county parking, was tabled by the county board executive committee until the joint building is resolved.

Supv. Joseph DeBruin, Town of Buchanan, said the joint safety building or jail facilities program first must be resolved.

The joint facility was revived last month when county officials agreed to talk to the city about the city coming into the jail complex the county approved to build between the courthouse and annex.

City officials are deep in discussion of a proposal and should come up with a plan this week so it can be presented for county consideration next week.

The petition, signed by about 25 residents including several couples, contends the parking lot should not be located between W. Sixth and W. Seventh streets just west of the Prospect Arms because it creates a traffic hazard. The entrance would be on W. Prospect Ave., which the signers said is too busy a road.

They also contended the lot, proposed to include 83 stalls, would lower their property values.

County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler, Appleton, said he was washing his hands of the matter. Esler, who had pushed for the county to buy the three lots for $65,000 from an Appleton real estate firm, noted after the executive committee meeting the county is missing an opportunity for a reasonable price.

Supv. Patrick Heenan, Appleton, indicated an area north of W. Seventh Street could be used for the lot and is favored by the city.

Esler said the county would not have to worry about zone changes. They come automatically when a city or county purchases land, he added.

Welfare Cutbacks In Outagamie Not Causing Problems

Municipalities May Get Referrals

State welfare cutbacks became effective Monday, but Outagamie County Director of Social Services Alfred Eggert said late Tuesday that his department "hasn't had any problem yet."

The county has one family under the Aid to Families With Dependent Children of Unemployed parents (AFDC-U) program and 19 families with 5 children under an Aid to Families With Dependent Children (AFDC) program for stepchildren.

It also has 10 children 18 or more years of age or older who were assisted under an AFDC program for foster children (AFDC-F) because they are attending high school.

Aid was halted in all three categories because of the new state budget recently signed by Gov. Warren P. Knowles.

No Contact

According to Eggert, no one has contacted the county welfare department about having their aid cut off through the program — "and there's not much we can do except refer them to the municipalities," if they did, he said.

That was the anticipated action in the first two categories, if any action is necessary at present.

The law was "very relaxed" concerning AFDC stepchildren, Eggert said.

"A very wealthy man could say he didn't care to support his stepchildren" and the law allowed his wife to collect, since it was intended to aid cases where the step-parent refused to help support the children or there was insufficient income.

May Save Money

The Outagamie director said the law was intended to "help the person who was reluctant to marry a widow or divorcee with children."

"I seriously doubt that the law did this, at least around here," he added.

There is even the possibility that the county will save some money, at least during September, under the AFDC stepchildren program, Eggert said.

The majority of the cases were under the program before July, 1966, when the law was passed.

A reduction in county costs (which are 27 1/2 per cent of the allocations) "could happen" if these cases do not seek other assistance.

General Relief

Some cases probably will have to seek assistance elsewhere, Eggert said.

If any of the AFDC-F children attending school need further assistance, Eggert hopes to be able to refer them to the county for general relief.

What is causing worry in the Outagamie office is reduced state assistance for all AFDC programs, which will be effective Oct. 1.

"This will hurt the person who can't go out and work," Eggert noted.

Outagamie County currently has 250 cases with 850 persons on AFDC. Every case will be involved in a reduction of assistance, the director said.

Can't Work

"The legislators put pressure on the employable but they seem to forget the person who can't work," Eggert explained. "What about the people who have no way of getting other income? Where are they going to go?"

Eggert added that he would like to see a program for the "truly needy," who are incapable of working for various reasons.

The Outagamie director said that programs currently are geared to the philosophy, "Earn as much as you can." Some persons are not able to do this and may turn to municipal welfare, he said.

"What if they're not eligible there, too?" Eggert asked.

Employers Help

He explained that municipal programs in the county generally have set up parallel standards to those used by the county, and it might be possible that the changes made in eligibility by programs being dropped by the state would affect local welfare rulings.

He said the Appleton area is "fairly fortunate" in finding work for persons on the welfare rolls.

"Employers have done an outstanding job in trying to be helpful," he said. "If employers didn't cooperate as well as they do, we'd have one dickens of a time."

New London Refers Bids Land Offered for Fire Station

NEW LONDON — Offers of property from two parties for a fire station were received Tuesday by the city council.

The properties, located on Spring and Smith streets, are owned by United Methodist Church and McPeak Dairies Inc.

United Methodist Church offered its church and parsonage to the city for $25,000.

Wants $40,000

McPeak, whose office and storage plant is at the corner of Smith Street and Wolf River Avenue, asked $40,000 for his property.

Neither party had been approached by the council. Some properties under consideration are in the vicinity of the church and dairy.

United Methodist Church owns property on Oshkosh Street, which has been designated as a future building site. The church in recent years also has considered merging with First Comm.

The offers were turned over to the public property committee for consideration with other sites.

Agreement Reached

In other business, the finance committee reported an agreement had been reached with Lester (Doc) O'Neil, housing inspector, deputy building officer and deputy health officer, for compensation.

The agreement, through Dec. 31, calls for a pay hike of $30 weekly plus five gallons of gasoline. O'Neil is in charge of enforcing and updating programs necessary for certification under the department of housing and urban development.

Ray Pelishek, public works director, indicated a waiver certifying the city under all Department of Housing and Urban Development assistance programs and eliminating consideration for Farmer's Home Administration aides has not been received from the agencies.

Trees Diseased

Ald. Mrs. Walter Schoenrock reported numerous elm trees have been found with Dutch elm disease and must be removed this winter. The trees are marked with paint.

A destroy-and-replacement program is being undertaken, she announced. The diseased trees will be removed and burned and will be replaced by other trees, mostly maple.

First replacements will be in the Werner-Allen Road boulevard and Hatten Park. Mrs. Schoenrock added a survey of the city is still in progress to locate diseased trees which must be removed.

Special Meeting Set To Discuss Religious Education Program

LEBANON — A special meeting is scheduled at 8 p.m. Friday following the 7:30 p.m. mass here for members of both St. Bridget and St. Patrick parishes to discuss CCD, the religious education program.

Father David Kasperek, Diocesan director of the CCD, and Sister Patricia, also from that office, will be present at the meeting.

Mayor Krostue's Son Injured in Wyoming Crash

NEW LONDON — Mayor S. W. Krostue missed his first council meeting since being elected nearly two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Krostue are in Casper, Wyoming, where their son William, 18, is confined in a hospital as the result of a traffic accident.

William suffered a broken back, broken ribs and a fractured jaw. He has undergone surgery and is reportedly improved.

Three other New London youths, Don Berglund, Dan Radtke and John Brown, received less extensive injuries and are expected to be home this week.

Massey-Ferguson Re-Examines Program Plant Expansion to be Delayed

KAUKAUNA — Massey-Ferguson Inc. has announced the postponement of its plans to construct a new assembly plant in Kaukauna as part of its Badger Northland, Inc. facilities here.

Lawrence H. Pomeroy, Des Moines, Iowa, executive vice president of Massey-Ferguson and general manager of recreational and farmstead products, explained that the postponement is the result of a company-wide analysis of the firm's North American manufacturing capacity.

"This decision has no effect on the existing Badger facilities," Glen DeAtley, Badger president, pointed out, adding that, "all three Badger plants are running at full capacity and beyond" and will continue to do so.

Badger Northland, a fully-owned subsidiary of Massey-Ferguson operates two plants here and a third in Algoma.

In releasing the change in company plans, Pomeroy stated that "the rapidly expanding market for recreational and Badger farmstead equipment" prompted an examination of all available company facilities to handle increased production.

"There is a need for substantial increased capacity for production of garden tractors and snowmobiles," the announcement stated. "Plans now under study are aimed at best utilization of existing facilities, improving balance of production and stabilization of employment."

DeAtley explained that Massey-Ferguson is in the process of re-examining all its production facilities throughout North America and possibly will be shifting production of some lines from other factories to make room for the increased recreational products.

He stated that the increased need necessitated new plans, and stressed the word "postpone" in connection with the proposed Badger expansion.

The firm announced in early June that it would build a

The existing Badger plants produce a wide range of farm and material handling equipment in addition to recreational equipment, which is manufactured at the Algoma plant.

Badger Northland became a part of the Massey-Ferguson group of companies in 1965. Massey-Ferguson, with international headquarters in Toronto, Canada, and national headquarters in Des Moines, operates several plants throughout North America in addition to the Badger group.

Not Stricter Enforcement

Better Support Payments Depend on Attitude Change

Stricter enforcement of support laws would do little to curb delinquent support payments in Outagamie County, Alfred Egert, director of county social services, said Tuesday afternoon.

He told county board executives that the best solution is changing the attitude of the ex-husband. "It isn't dollars; it's attitude that has to be changed," he said.

Agricultural Agent Cited Waupaca County Man Promoted to Associate Professor

WAUPACA — Joe L. Walker, county agricultural agent, was promoted to associate professor by the University of Wisconsin board of regents at its August meeting, it was announced by Henry L. Ahlgren, chancellor of University Extension.

He has been Waupaca County Extension agricultural agent and chairman for the past 11 years, providing leadership in creating educational public affairs programs involving zoning, economic development of tourism, recreation and industry.

Walker was 4-H agent in Oconto and Outagamie counties before coming to Waupaca. Earlier he taught vocational agriculture at Poynette. His bachelor and master degrees from UW are in agricultural and extension education.

Home Damaged In New London Auto Accident

NEW LONDON — A New London home was extensively damaged in an automobile accident Sunday afternoon.

City police said a car driven by Gail M. Huettl, 22, Milwaukee, struck a house at 413 E. Beacon Ave., about 4 p.m. Sunday which is owned by Walter Schmidt, 1303 Lawrence St.

Mrs. Huettl was traveling north on Mill Street, turned west on Beacon Avenue and lost control of her car, which ran off the right side of the road, striking the house.

Damage to the car was estimated at 400. The collision smashed a hole in the front wall of the house, cracked the foundation and caused water pipes to leak.

Furniture and appliances owned by the occupant Richard Malouf also were damaged.

Alternate Costs Asked COG Okays Further Waste Water Studies

The go-ahead for further individual municipal interceptors study on a regional plan for waste water treatment facilities in the Fox Valley was given by the Fox Valley Council of Government (COG) members Wednesday afternoon at the same time, additional cost estimates of another alternate plan were requested from Donohue and Associates.

COG members requested cost figures for Alternate 2, calling for a revision and addition of the present eight sewage treatment facilities to eventually create four treatment centers.

At the behest of Town of Menasha chairman Roland Kamp, they also asked for rough costs of a single interceptor line running along the bed of the Fox River and serving a single treatment facility, as proposed in Alternate 2, as recommended to the council by public works technical advisory committee chairman Wayne Bryan of Neenah, and is, according to present worth estimates, the least costly of the five plans. Costs would come to approximately $91,091,000.

Second Plan

The second plan proposed by the engineering firm calls for phasing out all smaller treatment plants in the area, unifying the larger ones.

The existing Neenah-Menasha sewage treatment plant would be upgraded to be able to handle some 15 million gallons of sewage a day, and the Appleton plant would be expanded and eventually replaced.

Sewage facilities in the Town of Menasha, east and west, and the Butte des Morts utility district plant would be phased to the committee," he added, out, and one in the Butte des Morts area (the South Lower Fox River Valley Drainage Basin) would be constructed.

The plants at Kimberly and Little Chute would be phased out by 1974 and replaced by a new facility at Kaukauna. The cost payments would be spread over a greater period of time. Alternate 5 would require immediate funding to construct sanitary interceptor networks to the single facility, and the area's sewage conveyed to a single facility located northeast of Kaukauna. Interceptor lines, estimated rates will go down in this plan would be laid across land, requiring the use of a number of lift stations where lower.

The group, which included representatives from Outagamie, Rock, Washington, Fond du Lac, Winnebago and Dane counties, visited the governor's mansion, but Warren P. Knowles was at the National Governors' Conference in Colorado.

Protest Leaders

Protest leaders said they would be at the Rock County Courthouse at 8 a.m. today in attempt to see the county welfare director and would be back in Madison Sept. 29, when the legislature returns for a special session to consider the governor's additional welfare proposals.

Another Day

"Labor Day is a working man's celebration," Turner said when asked why the group picked the holiday. "But since most of us are unemployed, it's just another day."

Later the group drove to the home of Frank Newgent, administrator of the Division of Family Services for the Department of Health and Social Services.

Newgent invited

Demolition Completed Construction Phase of Gimbel's Store About Ready to be Started

The Gimbel's Department Store project will move shortly from the demolition to the construction phase, with pile-driving on the College Avenue site expected to begin in about a week.

The $7 million project is currently in the "bulk excavation" stage, according to James L. Peters, engineer supervising the project for Oscar J. Boldt Construction Co., the general contractor.

Within the past few days the last of the remaining foundations of buildings formerly located on the site were removed, completing demolition of the structures.

No Timetable

Peters said as yet there is still no timetable for more advanced stages of the project.

The plans for the department store have been sent to Madison for approval by Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations buildings and safety officials.

Keshena Area Problem

Indian Families Disrupted By Welfare Aid Cutbacks

By WILLIAM E. SCHULZ Associated Press Writer
KESHENA, Wis. (AP) — Legislation cuts in Wisconsin's Aid to Dependent Children ADC programs are threatening to break up families in the former Indian reservation of Menominee County.

Unfit Home
"I turned three of my children over to the welfare department so at least they could get some food and a place to sleep," said Mrs. Monroe Weso Jr. of Keshena.

She took her children to the county Friday.

"But I had to get them back," she said Tuesday. "The home they put them in wasn't in fit condition for a human being, they couldn't have survived there."

"I'm not the only one," she said. "There are a lot of others who don't know what to do."

Mrs. Weso has five children, aged 3 months through 14 years. The first four are from a previous marriage. Her husband lost his job "about a month ago because of a transportation problem."

"There's no industry up here," she said. "The people have to get out to get work." Weso had worked in Clintonville, about 25 miles away, she said.

No Support
Some ADC cuts including the aid to children of the unemployed were effective Monday. Until then, Mrs. Weso said, she had received $162 a month in aid for her children. Now, she receives nothing. She receives no other support, she said.

The family rents an apartment in a federally-backed housing project for $65 a month. "I just haven't thought about it," she said, when asked about how she was going to pay the rent. "It's such a blow, you know. We just haven't sat down to really discuss this."

"A lot of other people haven't felt it till today," she said, "when the checks weren't received."

Tennis Courts Ready for Use
Jaycees Complete City Park Project At Weyauwega

WEYAUWEGA — Only a year and a half ago the Weyauwega Jaycees were chartered, and now they have completed their first major project for the city. The tennis and basketball complex at the new city park received the final touches this past weekend and is ready to be used.

The complex consists of a 100-foot slab of concrete with four basketball nets and a full-size tennis court with room to add another next summer.

Actual construction took a month and a half with members doing the work.

Cost of the project was $3,800, raised through various projects sponsored throughout the past year.

The initial idea to seek federal funds for the project was dropped sometime ago when members decided to finance it themselves.

A number of interested citizens in the area assisted the Jaycees in the construction. Chairman of the project was Fred Goetsch, assisted by co-chairmen Dave Grambsch and Charles Stienberg.

Others serving on the committee were Jim Taylor, Bill Jonly, Gary Kisting and Frank Zabo, who was in charge of the plans.

Programs Ousted
The budget, which cut or eliminated almost every ADC program, was signed last week by Gov. Warren P. Knowles, after eight months of infighting in the legislature. He then called lawmakers back into special session Sept. 29 to consider extra appropriations—including welfare improvements.

"There have been several threats about giving up children," said Gilbert Sauer, a county welfare agent.

Clintonville Man Sentenced to Jail For Non-Support

WAUPACA — Gary Liebman, 21, Clintonville, pled guilty Tuesday to intentional neglect or refusal to support his wife, Patricia and two minor children, in County Court Branch II.

Liebman was returned from Carney, Mich., where he had gone on July 28, to answer to the charges.

Judge Nathan Wiese sentenced Liebman to 60 days in the Waupaca County jail with Huber Law privileges, granting him family visitation and the privilege of seeing a family counselor.

Judge Wiese also ordered Liebman to pay the cost of bringing him back to Waupaca County, cost of the court, and full restitution of the money paid out by the Waupaca Health and Social Services Department for the support of his family during his absence.

St. Mary School At Bear Creek Has 132 Pupils

BEAR CREEK — The St. Mary Catholic School opened Thursday with an enrollment of 132 pupils, two less than the preceding year, according to the Superior Sister Francine.

Sister Francine has 14 pupils in the eighth grade and 17 in seventh. George Bruncker, Wittenberg, who has taught here for several years, has 11 in the sixth grade and 17 in the fifth. Sister Jean, a new member of the faculty last fall, has 13 in the fourth grade and 21 pupils in the third.

Sister Mary Diedrich, Kaukauna, is the only new member of the teaching staff. The past five years she taught at the Holy Angels School at Darboy.

Sister Mary teaches first grade which has 17 pupils, and second with 23. She also will serve as coordinator for the High School Catholic Christian Doctrine classes this fall.

St. Mary Forms Education Board At Stockbridge

STOCKBRIDGE — The first parish board of education has been formed by St. Mary Catholic congregation.

James Engel, Willard Heimermauer, George Ecker Jr., Mrs. Paul Ecker, Mrs. Gilbert Schoen and Mrs. Donald Ertl have been appointed to the board by the Rev. William Willinger, pastor.

Serving without voting power will be Sister Mary Clare, Sister Mary Rose and Father Willinger.

Engel has been named president; Heimermauer, vice president; Ecker, secretary, and Mrs. Ertl, treasurer.

Formation of school policies will be among the board's duties. Meetings will be held on the third Sunday of each month.

Michigan Man Is Returned to Face Waupaca Counts

WAUPACA — Carlyle Riste Sr., route 2, Eau Claire, Mich., was charged with three counts of forgery Tuesday in County Court Branch I.

He was brought back from St. Joseph, Mich., by the Waupaca Sheriff's Department on criminal warrants and charged with cashing 3 checks, two on the Waupaca Farmers State Bank and one on the Marshall & Witsley Bank, Milwaukee, totaling $115.

A preliminary hearing has been set for 9 a.m., Sept. 9. The court appointed Jola Attorney De Lyle Omholt, to defend Riste.

Bond was set at $3,000. Riste was remanded to the Waupaca County jail until the bond is met.

378 Register At Wittenberg

WITTENBERG — A total of 1,678 pupils have enrolled for the first complete school year of the Wittenberg-Birnwood Joint District No. 2.

High school registrations total 525, with 378 at Wittenberg and 147 at Birnwood.

Elementary pupils comprise the remaining 1,153. District enrollments by schools are: Birnwood, 378; Eland, 108; Wittenberg, 360; Galloway, 104, and Elderon, 202.

The largest elementary class is seventh grade with 140 pupils. The smallest is second grade with 113. There are 18 special education pupils.

The largest high school class is the sophomores with 143. The 111-member junior class is the smallest.

were formally signed over to us," Sauer said. "We placed them with a relative and she took them back the next day."

Sauer said the county has no institution for children, but depends on other families to take in foster children.

He said there was no other welfare program for able bodied men who could not find work.

"There are few opportunities for employment in the county," he said. "Costs for food and clothing are high, so a man who stays home, trying to support a large family just isn't making it."

"This legislation would tend to break up these family units," Menominee County was created in 1961. It had been a federal Indian reservation. It's only resources are timber, lakes and beautiful scenery. The Indians' governing body is working to develop a lumber industry and develop some of the lakes into resort areas to increase the tax base and provide jobs in service industries.

Average Income
Average per capita income is $881, Sauer said, about one-third of the state's average.

Sauer said the budget hurt chances for braking out of the unemployment cycle—but cutting aid to older children who were in school, trying to get an education and get ahead.

"There was a boy here last week asking about aid so he could go back to school next fall," Sauer said. "The next day the budget was approved and I had to go out and tell him it was all off."

Sauer said there is an adult education program, but it didn't take people under 21, "so he is caught in kind of a no man's land."

"The best thing is for men to leave home, then the children will be on ADC," Mrs. Weso said, referring to aid for fatherless children. "It's almost impossible to get jobs here and with the men being home it stops aid. They're pushing the men out of the home."

"They (the legislators) really don't know how hard it's hit up here," she said. "An unwed mother has more chance than a family does. Where is the justice?"

Memories of Bustling days when Amherst Junction was a busy transfer point for the Soo Line and the Chicago and North Western Railways have been revived with the sale of the old depot

AMHERST — An era has passed here with the closing of the depot at Amherst Junction which was once a bustling transferral point for the Soo Line and the Chicago and North Western Railway.

The depot, which was the focal point of the operation when the community was named Groversburg after an early settler named Isaac Grover, was recently sold to Ed Carr who was the agent since 1948.

The small Portage County Community was renamed Amherst Junction when the Green Bay and Lake Pepin lines crossed the Wisconsin Central at that point. The Soo Line took over control of the Wisconsin Central in 1908.

The Soo Line tracks were tunneled under the North Western tracks and it necessitated a covered stairway between the two levels.

There was an agent for both lines until 1955 when Carr took over the duties for both.

Passenger service was discontinued on the Green Bay line in 1948 and 10 years later the Soo Line ran its last passenger train.

Freight is now transferred between the two lines at Plover. The move was made from the old center because of the cost and difficulty transferring freight on the two levels.

Womans Club Sets Schedule At Amherst

AMHERST — The Womans Club has set its program for the coming year with the first meeting, a play reading, scheduled for Sept. 16 at the home of Miss Winifred Harvey.

Mrs. Louise Pomeroy will follow the proposed route of present a book review at the October meeting and the November member meeting will be a panel discussion on brotherhood by and Mrs. Forrest Engle and Mrs. A. P. Tidemann.

A Christmas party is scheduled at the home of Mrs. Victor Kirian, Green Bay, was named appraiser at a fee of $2,500. Maps and appraisal cards will be furnished by the village.

Action was taken after requests for reassessment were made last month. Several residents said they would seek meeting along with a program on art presented by Mrs. Gerald Mueller.

The board met with four appraisals firms Aug. 5. According to the contract, work is expected to start immediately, meeting will honor the high school's graduating senior girls with a reception.

The season will conclude in November with a picnic at Cate Park.

Lutherans Start Fall Schedules

AMHERST — Sunday school classes at Peace Lutheran and Nelsonville Lutheran churches will begin next Sunday.

Services in the church here will be at 11 a.m. with Sunday School at 10 a.m. In Nelsonville worship will be at 9:45 a.m. and Sunday School at 8:45 a.m.

UW Scientists to Create Life?

By GLORIA B. ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer
MADISON (AP) — Scientists working at the University of Wisconsin's Institute for Enzyme Research are nearing the end of a project aimed at creating life—or something very close to it—from mail order chemicals.

If they are successful, their efforts could revolutionize biology.

Leading the researchers is a 1968 Nobel Prize winner, Dr. Har Gobind Khorana, 46.

Although hesitant to predict the impact of the work, Khorana said the knowledge might allow for genetic planning of individuals—tailoring people to fit patterns, turning out athletes or intellectuals.

"Very Elementary Stage"

"It is a very, very long time off. One would have to know an awful lot more, so in that context we are in a very elementary stage but a necessary stage."

Some think it may be as many as 50 years before medicine reaps any practical benefits. Others say it will be five or 10.

The researchers are constructing a completely synthetic gene.

Genes—from the Greek word meaning "life"—are the tiny invisible components of cells which direct a living organism's growth and development.

They are an organism's instruction-givers. Genes "tell" the protein substances which make up most of the body whether to become skin cells or heart cells or some other kind of cells.

Billions of Cells

The human body is composed of billions of cells. Inside each is a double strand of material called DNA—deoxyribonucleic acid.

Scientists have learned that the genes are finite units of DNA which make up the strands.

They also have learned that the genes contain all the information necessary for duplicating the entire organism. Genes in a heart cell, for example, contain the necessary instructions for skin cells, liver cells or any other body cells. Yet they make the right cells at the right time.

The gene is known as the chemical unit of heredity. And the building of a gene will be a major advance in learning about, and perhaps eventually controlling, heredity.

A gene is composed of four "building blocks." The blocks are nitrogen compounds, or "nucleotides", and are commonly called by the first letters of their scientific names: A, C, G, T.

Order Determines

The order of the blocks along the strand determines whether a particular part of the body will become a heart cell or liver cell or whatever.

Although only four building blocks are involved, the problem of constructing a gene is not simple.

The sequence of the blocks along the two strands is completely random, and the two strands are intertwined much like one could twist a rubber ladder into a spiral.

Fortunately, the sequence of one strand reveals the sequence along the other, according to what scientists call the "rule of complementarity." Where there is an "A" on one strand, there is always a "T" on the other, and vice versa. Similarly, a "G" is always paired with a "C."

Many Combinations

Nevertheless, the information four blocks can convey should not be underestimated. The Morse code contained only two basic elements—a dot and a dash—and yet provided enough combinations for thousands of words.

Khorana's team is working backward—building a gene whose structure can be deduced from other information already known about the cell.

Several years ago, a scientist identified block-for-block the structure of RNA—transfer ribonucleic acid—an "adaptor" which genes manufacture to take their messages to the proteins.

The RNA is created by the actual sequence of the building blocks along the gene on which it was made.

Khorana's researchers are mixing chemicals which they know contain the building blocks in the order in which they know they occur. The problem is to steer the blocks close to each other so they can "hook" to form a strand.

Cannot See Results

Since the scientists cannot see what they are doing, they must rely on chemical reactions and complicated tests to know when the blocks have been joined properly.

They are building one gene in three sections. Two are complete, and they are working on the final third which will be joined to the others to form a complete gene. They estimate the work will be finished within a year. Some say it may be a matter of months.

But proof of the team's success will depend upon whether a gene they have made will "work."

One of the genes belongs to a bacterium which lives in the human intestines—the E. coli bacterium. The team hopes to plug one of their man-made genes into E. coli bacteria which are missing a gene such as they have created. If the bacteria respond to the instructions of the synthetic gene, Khorana and his team will have succeeded.

Team Changing

Although Khorana always has about 15 persons working in his laboratory, the "team" is constantly changing as persons come and go.

Thirty or more may have worked on the development of the synthetic gene.

Most of the team members are young postgraduates. Some apply to Khorana and others are invited by Khorana to work in the lab.

Dr. Nina Siderova waited years for clearance to come from Leningrad, Russia, where she heads a laboratory.

"Khorana is a very famous scientist in our country—more famous than he is in yours," she said during her recent visit with the team.

She expressed surprise that Wisconsin's political leaders apparently were unaware of Khorana.

During the budget debates in the state Senate this spring, the Republican majority leader, Ernest Keppler of Sheboygan, urged a "closer look" at salaries of state employees who earned $35,000 or more a year.

"Who ever heard of Har Gobind Khorana?" he asked, reading from a list of highly paid state employees. He suggested Khorana might be in "an ivory tower" somewhere.

Lab in Basement

On the contrary, part of Khorana's lab is in a basement, and the rest is on the first floor of the Institute for Enzyme Research on the far west side of the campus.

The researchers, although confessing they feel some pressure to finish their project, are calm—even casual.

Hans van de Sande, 27, in Bermuda shorts and whistling almost constantly, typifies the carefree but dedicated attitude of the group.

Working in the lab, he said, means working with Khorana, not under him.

"He is not standing behind us, looking over our shoulders," he said.

Richard Morgan, 29, a native of Kenya, likes the excitement of work with "implications for the future."

Factors Unknown

He thinks practical use of the discoveries depends on the solution of additional scientific problems. Some factors are still unknown, he said, "like how to get genes into cells in the correct places."

K. L. Agarwal, who came to Khorana's team from Liverpool where he plans to teach and continue research, said the scientific world will not be surprised by the successful creation of the gene. "They are waiting to hear about it any time," he said.

Marvin Caruthers of Des Moines, Iowa, is one of two Americans on the team.

"It's been so long since I've gone to a party where there were other Americans, I don't remember what it's like," he said with a grin.

"Our life is not much different from anyone else's," reported Vittorio Sgarbetta, an Italian. "Except, after the movie on Saturday night, we stop by the lab to see how our work is progressing. We'd never wait until the next day."

Work Goes On

Modern equipment permits some work in the lab to go on without constant supervision, he noted.

The team's senior member, Tom Rajbhandary, a native of Nepal, recently accepted a post at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology after seven years with Khorana.

"Just because we know how to do things does not mean we should," he said, adding that many ethical decisions will have to be made.

Khorana himself turns a cold shoulder to the "outside" but is warm and friendly with team members.

He dislikes interviews because he finds them emotionally exhausting.

He said he often gets research ideas while walking along the shore of Lake Mendota, which borders the campus. He jots them down on colored note cards he carries with him.

When the world learned he won the Nobel Prize last October, he was watching a sunrise from a hill outside the city.

Stalin and Trotsky in Moscow. For more than 30 years of exile he devoted himself to organizing an underground campaign against French rule in Indochina. Engaged by Stalin's Comintern as an agent, he shuttled between China, Hong Kong and Thailand.

Ho returned to his homeland after the Japanese invaded Indochina in World War II. There he revived an old anti-Chinese underground organization known as the Viet Nam Doc Lap (Free Vietnam), called President Nixon's decision to withdraw 25,000 U.S. troops a "trick" and again demanded the unconditional withdrawal of all American and allied troops.

Ho made his last reported public appearance June 7 when he received the credentials of Communist China's new ambassador, Wang Yu-Ping.

He was 79 on May 19, and his troops observed his birthday on Vietnam's battle grounds. He made one of his last recorded statements on July 19, telling North Vietnam's news agency that Hanoi was "sure to win total victory" in the war.

The statement, made on the 15th anniversary of the Geneva agreements that partitioned Vietnam, called President Nixon's decision to withdraw 25,000 U.S. troops a "trick" and again demanded the unconditional withdrawal of all American and allied troops.

Dirksen's Condition Called Satisfactory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, 73, was reported in satisfactory condition after surgeons removed a growth from his right lung, but there was no official word on whether the tumor was cancerous.

The upper lobe of Dirksen's right lung was removed Tuesday by Army doctors at Walter Reed Hospital.

Aides to the senator said there was no immediate report from the hospital on whether the growth was malignant.

A statement issued by Dirksen's office said "there was no evidence of spread of the tumor" and his condition after the operation was termed satisfactory.

day by Army doctors at Walter Reed Hospital.

Aides to the senator said there was no immediate report from the hospital on whether the growth was malignant.

A statement issued by Dirksen's office said "there was no evidence of spread of the tumor" and his condition after the operation was termed satisfactory.

"Lots" of Cigarettes

A spokesman for the Illinois Republican, who suffers from emphysema, said Dirksen smokes "lots" of cigarettes. "I don't know how many, but lots," the aide said.

Dirksen, who fractured his right hip three years ago, has always tended to joke about his physical ailments.

And colleagues have been amazed by his recuperative powers and his capacity for hard work and long hours. After repair surgery on his hip in 1966, he hobbled around the Senate on crutches for weeks.

First elected to the Senate in 1950, after serving for eight terms in the House, Dirksen is a skilled practitioner of the art of compromise and a key figure in keeping the legislative wheels turning.

Several Hospital Visits

During the three-week recess that Congress started Aug. 13, Dirksen went to Walter Reed for tests several times. But this was not surprising since he was in the habit of getting periodic check-ups.

The statement from his office said the lung nodule was discovered "on a recent routine chest x-ray examination." Aides said he re-entered the hospital on Sunday expecting he would have to be operated on.

Dirksen's absence from the Senate comes as Congress returns to work on a mass of unfinished legislation, including the House-passed tax reform bill.

Committee Member

He is a member of the Finance Committee, which will handle the tax bill, and he also is the top Republican on the Judiciary Committee, which next week will take up the nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth to the Supreme Court.

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania is the assistant Republican leader. He narrowly defeated en. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska for the No. 2 GOP slot this year.

Age Alone Not Factor In Happiness of Aged more sustainers were present.

And the same holds true for level of education and whether the aged person is native-born or an immigrant. On the latter point, the researchers said they had figured that immigrants "might have special difficulty adjusting to old age."

While declaring their analysis is "somewhat preliminary," the psychologists said the findings might have broad implications toward helping the needy aged.

"If level of education, generation in this country, or age itself had been found to be critical to morale," they said, "there would be little the community could do."

"However, level of income, condition of housing, and the number of social contacts outside the home are all problems with which community programs can help, and programs of preventative medicine seem likely to be able to raise the general health level among aged in this sense the data are something of a challenge it seems likely that something can be done."

Their general conclusion: The level of income, health, and social contacts—or any combination of two of them—are the key factors in whether older morale is high or low.

"If an aged person had an income over $4,000 and had at least two outside contacts, for example," the researchers said, "the odds are close to three out of four that he will rate his morale 'excellent' or 'very good.'"

"Conversely, among aged who are doing poorly with respect to any two of these three variables, fewer than half rate their morale as 'excellent' or 'very good.'"

Trial report on pretrial publicity, then said.

"This court wishes to make the following statement: The court notices extra-judicial statements of wide circulation by officials connected with this case—by counsel, law enforcement officials and others. These statements carry the seeds of prejudice against more than one party."

He said he considered ordering an end to such statements, but "I deem it sufficient to advise all to whom this statement is addressed to mind their conduct. Conduct not in conformity with this statement will be met with appropriate action, if not on the motion of the parties, then on the motion of this court."

Ears, but We Hear Not

Twenty-eight persons died on Wisconsin roads during the three-day Labor Day weekend. The Wisconsin division of the American Automobile Association reported after the carnage was completed that not one—NOT ONE—of those 28 dead human beings was wearing a safety belt. Perhaps man just wasn't intended to practice self-preservation.

There were other significant aspects to the holiday weekend carnage. Nine out of ten of the accidents occurred on two-lane roads in rural areas, suggesting that many drivers have not yet learned that expressway speeds are not suitable for the state's lesser roads. And three of four of the victims were drivers under age of 25, suggesting that insurance companies have a legitimate reason for the high premiums they charge drivers in this age group.

Government has not yet found a legal way of eliminating unsafe drivers from the highways. It is a cruel statement to make, but these observations of the latest additions to the state's fatality toll suggest that fate itself steps in when the law does not do the job.

The Vietnam War and Domestic Programs

The statement of Daniel Moynihan, President Nixon's urban affairs adviser, that "We're not going to have the dream world people thought after the war is over" was not very pleasant to read. But it needed to be said and it is based on research which the President wisely ordered undertaken shortly after he took office.

For too long, the generalization has been made that everything would come up roses once the nation had disentangled itself from the $30 billion a year cost of the Vietnam war. Moynihan, explaining a report prepared for the President's Urban Council said plainly that things are not quite that simple.

First of all, as Moynihan noted, there can be no assurance that international affairs will permit a rechanneling of a large chunk of the money now being spent for Vietnam toward meeting urban and social problems. While this should be the nation's goal, it is best to recognize the facts on this score at the outset.

Secondly, Moynihan pointed to the built-in increases in programs already on the books such as Medicare and federal educational aids. These costs will increase alone from population pressures. To this, Moynihan adds the cost of programs the President has sent to Congress — $4.2 billion for welfare reforms and the family assistance program, $5 billion yearly by 1975 for revenue sharing with the states and local governments and the 12-year cost of $12 billion for urban mass transit projects. Regardless of the form these programs finally take, they have an established if not overdue place on the list of national priorities.

The report which Moynihan summarized may be faulted for subtracting the projected funds for welfare reforms, revenue sharing, and mass transit from money which could be made available from an end to the Vietnam war since these fields have been included among those described as being short-changed by the war. But the approach the Nixon administration has selected is far more realistic than a report prepared for the Johnson administration last January which predicted that $22.5 billion would be freed within 18 months after an end of the war.

What the Moynihan report really means is that there will be no easy answers nor any hushes of unused dollars around when the war is ended. The nation's task then will be as it is now, to establish a list of priorities, to trim the fat from the military budget in keeping with the realities of international affairs, and to search for waste in established programs.

The goal may not be very easy to accomplish. It may even dash optimistic hopes. But the course is far better than making promises which cannot be met or, as has been the case, watching Congress authorize programs which cannot be met with matching appropriations.

The Blue Book Bargain

Lake others professionally engaged in news gathering and publication, the members of our staff are frequently called upon to furnish answers to a variety of queries by persons who do not have the tools in the way of reference books and other materials to give them the answers they want.

It is said that every well-trained and prudent bartender has stored away on a shelf under his bar a copy of the World Almanac as one of the most effective weapons for the settlement of arguments.

Several of our own experiences lately have suggested that one of the most useful bargains in the way of reference books relating to our own state and its people and government and economy and its life in general is not as widely known or used as we might suppose it to be.

One telephone query the other day asked for the home address of a prominent Wisconsin state government office-holder, apparently for purposes of private communication with him. Another caller asked for a list of Wisconsin newspapers. In both instances we admit to being somewhat disappointed that the callers were not aware of the existence of the biennial Wisconsin Blue Book, the official almanac of the state of Wisconsin which has been published for half a century or more, and as a reference book on the shelf of anyone of any educated citizen is perhaps the best book bargain available today at only one dollar per bulging copy.

Fortunate, indeed, is that newspaper editor whose librarian has managed to put together a collection of these editions over the years, for there is no more reliable or abundant repository of public affairs data relating to our own state anywhere, to our knowledge.

The current edition of the Blue Book is dated 1968. The next biennial edition will be available sometime next summer. Students, teachers, public officials, and private citizens of civic awareness would be wise to make a note now to buy one of the books when the publication of the next edition is announced. We should add that H. Rupert Theobald, the present chief of the legislative reference bureau at Madison which has the responsibility of producing the book, has diligently and imaginatively improved upon the contents and the quality of the volumes produced by his several predecessors.

The Fond du Lac Commonwealth now appears under the auspices of Messrs. Watrous, Reid & Field, with Col. J. A. Watrous as editor-in-chief.

A manifest improvement is seen in the first issue, a beginning only of what its readers may expect from such an able trio. Our esteemed friends need not be assured that they have our ardent wishes for their success in everything but their presidential party politics.

The Oshkosh Journal has been enlarged and, unless it may be the Whitewater Register, now is the handsomest weekly paper published in the State.

Its conductors are not idlers and must succeed. We only wish we could say that they were fearless for the right, but they are not.

They will follow the Jacobin path wherever and whenever the leaders point the way.

Domino Theory Evaporating; Thais, Filipinos to Go It Alone

BY JOSEPH KRAFT

HONG KONG — As in a slow leak, the life is gradually going out of the myths, fancies, and delusions invented to sustain the Vietnam war. And after two weeks of travel around Southeast Asia, it is plain to me that even the most prestigious of the legends, the domino theory, is on the way to being killed dead.

Consider, first, what has been happening in Thailand. President Nixon visited Bangkok a month ago. While sticking firmly to existing American security commitments to the Thais, he was equally firm about plans to wind down the Vietnam war.

The Thai reaction was not to clutch desperately at the American commitment. On the contrary, the President had barely left, when Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman began telling visitors that the American troops sent to Thailand is support of the Vietnamese war effort would have to be pulled out.

DIDN'T ASK FOR THEM
"We didn't ask to have them here in the first place," he told one American. "You asked to have them here. Now there is no need for them. And you can take them out — as soon as possible."

A few days later, in the midst of the confused debate about the secret contingency agreement between Bangkok and Washington, Defense Secretary Melvin Laird, in a not untypical malapropism, raised doubts as to whether he even supported existing American commitments to Thailand. Once again, Thanat did not clutch desperately for American support.

Gives Comfort to Frightened Lady

STANTON, Mo. (AP) — A woman was standing around Meramec Caverns on U.S. 66 here and refusing to go in.

"Why don't you go in?" Lester B. Dill, cave director, asked her.

"I'm afraid of caves," she confessed, "I'm waiting for my husband to come out."

"What are you afraid of?" Dill returned, "in case of cavein you will get a refund."

On the contrary, he seized the occasion to call for prompt withdrawal of all American troops based in Thailand. And he forced the pace so that the negotiations are to begin next week.

A similar pattern has shown itself in the Philippines. On President Nixon's visit last month, he declared publicly that in view of the winding down of the American presence in Vietnam, the "special relationship" between Manila and Washington would also have to be readjusted.

President Ferdinand Marcos did not blanch. On the contrary, he actively welcomed an adjustment in the "special relationship." And the other day, when the new American Ambassador Henry Byroade arrived in Manila, he was received, in marked contrast to his two predecessors, with a great show of favor and good feeling.

What has been happening in Bangkok and Manila is crucial to the domino theory, for Thailand and the Philippines lie at the heart of dominoland. Both countries are close to Vietnam and could hardly get out of harm's way if the aggressors there moved on to new game. Both are already prey to internal guerrilla insurgencies supported by North Vietnam and Communist China.

In the past, both countries committed themselves importantly to support of the American effort in Vietnam. Thailand provided five major air bases and played host to about 50,000 American troops. There was a Thai military effort on the ground in South Vietnam.

The Philippines sent a medical unit to Vietnam. Clark Field has been a main base for American air operations in Vietnam. And a major base for American naval activity in Vietnam. And a major base for American naval activity in Vietnam has been Subic Bay.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

So what's the matter with Bangkok and Manila now? How come they're not screaming their crazy heads off about the reduction of American troops in Vietnam? Why instead are they pushing for a thinning of the American presence on their own soil? Don't they believe that if Vietnam falls they must also automatically go over, like dominos?

The answer is that the threat to the small states of dominoland has never been external aggression. The North Vietnamese, far from being the Prussians of Asia, would have a very hard time digesting South Vietnam if it ever came to that. The Chinese, preoccupied first with internal problems and next with the Soviet dispute, have never shown a disposition for aggressive military moves in Southeast Asia.

The true threat to the small states of Southeast Asia lies in internal weakness, in regimes so unpopular or ineffective as to be vulnerable to local insurgency. The right remedy is to build up the internal cohesion of the present regimes, chiefly by advancing causes with a nationalistic appeal. And that fact has not been lost on such astute politicians as Messrs. Thanat and Marcos.

On the contrary, they are now playing the nationalistic card with a vengeance. Thanat is positioning himself to get the credit for having moved out the American troops. President Marcos, in the midst of a hot campaign for reelection, is getting known as the man who can reduce Filipino dependence on the Yankees.

As to the domino theory, it had its uses once. The regimes in both Bangkok and Manila made a good thing economically out of renting parts of their country to the Johnson administration. Now that deal is over and the theory is carelessly discarded — a quaint fantasy that did harm only to those gullible enough to believe it.

State Boosted Aids To Local Government Again This Biennium

By JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — It was a long time ago that the young student sat on the long wooden bench before Van Handel's ice cream emporium in his home town and pontificated about economics and history and politics and other esoteric matters — as far as his audience was concerned.

He had come home for a visit with his friends and relatives during his second year of college.

In those days the ratio of college matriculation of high school students was tiny, when measured against today's experience. The boy was quite confident that the lectures he had heard in a few semesters at the university gave him license to refute the views of adjusting public expenditures to the natural growth of the economy and the tax base. . . .

WON'T BE EASY
In most situations it would not be easy. It might be difficult as well as dangerous. Votes might be forfeited — although that is not as certain as some of the local officials believe since such a policy has so rarely been attempted.

The impression has been created that the legislature this year did nothing for the local governments of Wisconsin. The ferocity of the debate and the ingenuity of the publicity men have had the effect of obscuring some important facts.

As Gov. Knowles observed the other day in his message to the legislature on his budget, in a moment of bitter disappointment about the legislature's record in some other respects, most of the higher state budget costs for the next two years will represent assistance to local government. COST IS CONSIDERABLE

The cost of that act was considerable — the highest boost in state taxation ever voted at a single sitting of the legislature.

Wisconsin has been one of the conspicuous states in the country for a long time with the respect to the severity of its income tax schedule. It now has a general sales tax that probably compares with the burden of sales taxation of the average state in the country, including some states that do not yet have the income tax. It has skipped very little in the way of miscellaneous taxes.

One house of the Wisconsin legislature this year cut back the expenditure proposals of the governor who represents its ruling majority, with very little in the way of public reaction to show that it was running against the wishes of the average citizen.

ANSWER TO SAME VOTERS

State legislators are answerable to the same voters who elect mayors and aldermen and other local officials. They might have been wrong. The elections next year may tell. But there is increasing evidence of fatigue among the taxpayers, and some reason to suppose that the men in public office who accept the idea that public spending cannot be enlarged interminably will have as much public support as those who promise so glibly ever more goodies from the public treasury.

Wyngaard

his elders. He was doing precisely that when a venerable village elder interrupted him with the soft spoken comment:

"Young fella, you know too much that ain't so."

RECALLS EARLY INCIDENT

Somewhat the incident was dredged up in my memory the other day as I pursued one of the limitless press releases in which somebody maintained that because the state legislature this year did not grant all of the pleas of Wisconsin municipal governments for more financial help this year, the property tax bills of Wisconsin householders and others will inevitably continue to rise painfully.

It is quite likely that property taxes will continue to rise in the state as a whole, indeed.

But as my wise old friend put it with dignity and wit so long ago, "It ain't necessarily so."

There are no graven tablets in the municipal buildings of Wisconsin that make it mandatory for aldermen, mayors, county supervisors or whatever to continue year after year to expand the scope of local government and its expenditures. A determined administration in a typical locality could stabilize the tax liability of its constituents, by

Cocktail Party Is Top Social Torture

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

From close and fairly constant observation over the years, it is my considered opinion that nobody really likes cocktail parties — not even the people who like cocktails.

I am not speaking of those small, intimate groups of six or eight, but parties of more than twice that number. Most of the people I know despise giving them, and dread attending them — but they continue to give and to attend.

We so easily become the victims of a social custom that the custom persists long after the pleasure, if any, has departed. The modern cocktail party is an institution that keeps rolling on its own power, and no group of individuals seems strong enough to stop it.

I have almost never had a good time at a cocktail party, whether on the giving or receiving end. The former role is too harried, and the latter too hectic. As a host, you have little time to talk with your guest; and as a guest you generally find no one worth talking to.

This is because the cocktail party, unlike most other social occasions, is a kind of grab bag. In planning a dinner, or other celebration, you pick the people you like, want to be with, to laugh with, to talk with, and to sing with.

The cocktail party has become a social obligation, rather than a joyous gathering of congenial people. You suddenly realize that you owe invitations to 20 couples, few of whom you particularly care for, and none of whom have much in common with each other.

It would be impossible to have them for dinner, and intolerably tedious to invite them for a full evening — and so the melancholy compromise of the cocktail party is arranged. They, poor devils, are just as uncomfortable as you are; and, in order to conceal their discomfort, they drink too much, laugh too loudly, and drift unhappily from group to group, looking for somebody who resembles themselves.

Of all forms of self-imposed

social torture, the cocktail party is the most excruciating, interminable, uncompanionable, dysphoric and dismal. Worse than all that, it keeps you from dinner until you're no longer hungry — and thus is an offense against the body as well as a betrayal of the mind.

Editorial on School Aids

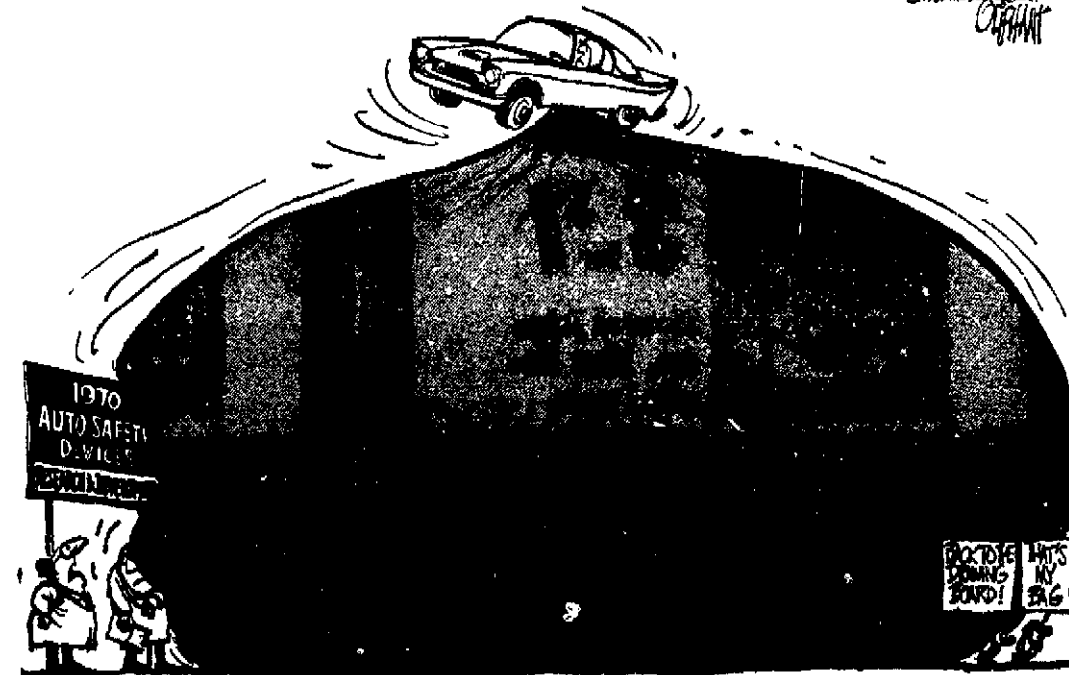

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

The Appleton League of Women Voters would like to express their appreciation to the writer of the editorial on School Aids which appeared in the August 15 issue of The Post-Crescent. It was a clear and concise statement of a complex subject and succinctly pointed out the problems engendered by the actions of the legislative budget conference committee.

Congratulations on a fine editorial.
